We are "sweeping up the crumbs" this week of the City of Rolling Meadows mass meeting.

Those crumbs may include some off the record statements made or whispered that afternoon of which we would have difficulty in substantiating if they were included in the regular news story.

Kimball Hill was about the only speaker to whom "brickbats" were not directed. There was a reason for that.

He answered in simple language all questions directed to him. He frequently revealed business facts that some developers would have considered to be of a private nature. He impressed hearers with his sincerity.

Kimball Hill said he is not responsible for streets constructed by his organization after they have been approved by the FHA and accepted by the Palatine township road commissioner.

The builder said he was obligated to extend a sewer lateral along Central rd. to the extent of property being developed by him. Other extensions would be the responsibility of adjoining property owners.

Title to the sewage lift station and existing mains to the village of Mount Prospect is held by Hill because the developer desires to have control over them. Later the entire mains and the two lift stations will be turned over to the Chicago Sanitary District for maintenance and operation.

Public Service Co. will only make contracts for street lights with governmental tax bodies.

Hill has made no commitment for land for churches. He has given commitments for land for schools and parks.

Water supply systems are under the control of the Illinois Commerce Commission which requires that they be operated by a corporate body. While Hill has not received payment for their construction, the system is owned by the Arlington water company and negotiations for their purchase by the city of Rolling Meadows would have to be with them and with the approval of the state commission.

City of Rolling Meadows could have its parks developed at the expense of Palatine township rural park district either by consent of that body or by electing representatives to the park board.

On the same basis a fire station and equipment could be supplied by the Palatine fire protection district. If that body failed to provide the proper fire protection, the city could disconnect from the fire district and build and equip its own fire station. The present insurance rate in Rolling Meadows is 9c; Arlington Heights 5c; Palatine 6c.

Attorney Louis Ancel practically admitted that Arlington Crest has a moral right for its objections, but a right that cannot be recognized until after the City of Rolling Meadows is validated.

He offered to render any assistance they might request to later iron out their difficulties. He said the City of Rolling Meadows could authorize its disconnection. He also stated that there are other areas on the fringe of the proposed city that might be able to take similar action.

A Rolling Meadows speaker said the industrial area under dispute has been there for the "picking" by either Palatine or Arlington Heights, neither of which have heretofore shown any interest until now.

In reality neither Palatine nor Arlington Heights could have annexed the race track without its consent.

Alderman Green of Palatine hinted that certain annexation proceedings are now under consideration that would allow the village of Palatine to retain property on its immediate borders.

The audience was impartial in its applause. Speakers of both sides were frequently applauded.

Both Kimball Hill and Attorney Ancel expressed their sympathy for the plight of Arlington Crest.

The City of Rolling Meadows would ultimately be divided into four wards based on population. The first aldermen elected would be on a "city wide" basis.

It is doubtful if annexation petitions being filed with the village of Palatine will have any effect if the election carries.

Attorneys differ as to whether the county judge was in his rights when he authorized Tuesday a postponement of the election.

We have been advised on good authority that only 20 acres or more of farmland south of Palatine village limits can withdraw after the formation of city. Farm areas adjoining another municipality cannot do so.

Every attorney seems to put a different interpretation upon the law. We are waiting for a statement by the attorneys of the race track.

Report on Village Water Softening

Rev. Brown Accepts Call To Gary

Rev. C. Victor Brown, who has served the congregation of the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights, for nearly 8 years, has accepted a new position as pastor of the First Presbyterian church, Gary, Ind.

It was with regret that the church board accepted his resignation Sunday. He will take over his new post February 1.

Rev. Brown came to Arlington from Burlington, Iowa, March 1, 1947, with his wife and three sons.

REV. C. V. BROWN

During that time the church has nearly tripled its membership, making it necessary to build a new addition, which was completed last year.

A committee will be elected at the annual meeting of the church January 17 to select a minister to succeed Rev. Brown. They will recommend their selection to the board, which will take final action.

During the interim Rev. Stuart Saul, assistant pastor, will fill the pulpit.

Need to Increase Capacity of 2 Wells; Extend Water Mains

Water supply softening and improvements were discussed at an informal meeting of the Arlington Heights village board Tuesday night.

Paul Johnson of Consoer, Townsend and Associaties, village engineers, discussed with board members a detailed report prepared by the engineers regarding Arlington Heights water supply, what improvements are needed to keep pace with the growing population and the feasibility of village owned water softening plants. The report was prepared at the request of the village board.

The following improvements were recommended:

1. Increase capacity of Well No. 4; construct a new 10 inch cast iron pipe line from this well to the ground storage reservoirs. (This improvement was already authorized by the board about two months ago.)
2. Increase capacity of Well No. 5.
3. Construct a new 12-inch cast iron feeder main from Dunton and Miner to the elevated tank.
4. Construct new 12-inch and 10-inch feeder mains—Miner and Ridge to Sigwalt and Vail. Total estimated cost of these four improvements $150,000.
5. Softening plants at Douglas and Northwest hwy., and Ridge and Wing. Total estimated cost for these two plants, $415,000. Total estimated cost for both projects, $565,000.

EXCERPTS from the report are as follows:

At present the municipal water supply is obtained from four deep wells, with combined capacity of 2,690 gallons per minute. This capacity could be increased to 3,800 gallons per minute by reconditioning Wells No. 4 and 5.

It has been estimated that additional wells will not be required until 1965 unless the forecast of population growth is exceeded, and assuming the 3,800 g.p.m. can be maintained after the rehabilitation of the two wells.

Chemical analysis of water from the existing wells indicates the water has a hardness of about 16 grains per gallon, iron content of .20 to .40 parts per million and a fluoride content of 1.0 per million. This is a moderately hard water with an objectionable amount of iron present. Presence of sodium fluoride, however, has a beneficial effect on the teeth of growing children.

Character of water from the existing wells will lend itself to softening by the Zeolite method.

AT PRESENT the village has a water storage capacity of 2¼ million gallons, which will be adequate for several years.

Water distribution system in Arlington includes approximately 54 miles of cast iron pipe, 700 fire hydrants, 800 gate valves and over 3,700 water meters. Water mains 6 inches and 4 inches in diameter account for 82½% of all existing mains, and additional mains have been recommended to provide better distribution of water and the maintenance of higher pressure.

The report said that softening of a municipal water supply has many advantages. For those who do not desire zero hardness water a municipal softening installation would eliminate the purchase and operation of a household softening unit. For those who desire a zero hardness water, either on the hot water supply or on the entire supply, the softening by the municipality to a 5 grain rate would reduce the salt requirements of a household softener.

ANALYSIS of various methods of softening indicates that the Zeolite method of softening for Arlington water would be the best and cheapest. The Zeolite process changes the calcium and magnesium compounds dissolved in the water which are soap consuming for sodium.

Cost of construction of the softening facilities and other recommended improvements, amortized over a period of years, together with additional annual operating costs and depreciation costs (estimated to total $61,560 in 1956) can be met from the estimated annual income of the sewer and water utility to be derived from existing rates.

Members of the water committee of the village board will further study the report and make a recommendation to the board.

New Assessment Policy To Aid Local Schools

County Assessor Frank S. Keenan announced a major change in assessment policy this week which will place an estimated 15,000 "nearly completed" new homes on the tax-paying rolls as of April 1.

He said new homes will now be assessed on the basis of their "completion," not "occupancy."

In the past, such homes were not placed on the assessment roles until owners moved in.

The new policy is expected to bring in an estimated $5,000,000 in extra tax revenues for the county. It was formulated because representatives of suburban school districts complained of an inability to meet costs of sky-rocketing school enrollments.

Keenan explained he was particularly concerned about giving assistance to the 132 suburban school districts and the Chicago Board of Education, which absorb the largest part of the local tax dollar.

An estimated 5,000 commercial buildings now under way will be checked for their percentage of completion and assessed on that basis.

Mild Winter?

Pansies are still blooming in the garden of Mrs. Sophie Machas, 1019 N. Salem, Arlington Heights. Snapdragons were also reported in bud in the garden of the August Folkman home on Busse rd., Elk Grove township.

It's puzzling to the editor whether to call this a mild winter, late fall, early spring, or maybe they're just hardy plants.

Register Next Week For Adult School Spring Term

Registrations for the spring semester of adult evening school will be held at Arlington Heights high school Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, January 17, 18, and 19, from 7 to 9 p.m. Mail registrations are being accepted, provided the fee for registration and tuition is included. Classes begin the week of January 24, with a few exceptions.

SEVERAL new classes are being offered in the spring term, among them a course in group leadership sponsored by the Girl Scouts, which is designed to help new Girl Scout leaders understand and enjoy their jobs, gain knowledge, skill and confidence; included will be important things a group leader needs to know about girls, activities, program planning, troop government, aims, resources, etc.

Although there are a number of interesting new courses being offered, one of the favorites for some time will not be included for this spring. Because of the illness of Mrs. Mook, who had taught the class in interior decorating for some time, this class must be cancelled for this term.

Classes in Goren system contact bridge have been among the more popular offerings of the night school, and in the spring term the beginners class, with Dr. Lewis Copeland as instructor, will be repeated. In addition there will be a class in intermediate bidding, Goren system, which will be taught by Gordon Crabbs; this class will make a thorough study of the Goren point count system covering opening bids, responses, rebids, overcall and takeout doubles. In addition Crabbs will conduct a class Tuesday evening in intermediate play of hands, which will emphasize playing situations, practice hands, and will offer actual experience in meeting problems encountered in bridge play for those who have a fundamental knowledge of the point count system.

GAY HUGHES, of the high school faculty, will teach a class in fencing for both men and women, with basic instruction for beginners as well as assistance to those who have experience in this sport which does so much to improve balance, timing, coordination and reaction time in both mind and body while providing an interesting recreational outlet.

One of the very popular and worthwhile offerings in the night school has been the course in improvement in reading with "rate accelerators" and other techniques employed in aiding students to improve their reading rates, often as much as 800 words a minute. The regular class will be offered Monday nights, and Tuesday night the same course, with the addition of a textbook and some home study requirements, will be scheduled at a tuition fee which will include the textbook by Dr. Paul Witty of Northwestern university.

THE CLASS in vegetable and fruit growing will include discussion of soils, fertilizers, varieties adapted to this area and to small suburban plots, covering pruning, controlling insects and diseases in vegetables, small fruits and tree fruits.

The class in floral arrangement will meet Tuesday evening at Mrs. Haberkamp's shop in Mount Prospect. Landscape gardening will be given for six weeks, beginning Feb. 21. This is one of the most popular courses in the night school and is taught by Harold Klopp, who is widely sought as a consultant in landscape architecture, lecturing as far away as Cleveland on the subject. Golf instruction will be given by the professionals on the driving range of one of the local courses for six weeks, beginning the first Tuesday after daylight savings time.

The classes in physical recreation for men and for women are being offered again this term, the men's class on Monday night, and the class for women Tuesday. Seven courses are included in sewing, from beginning through advanced tailoring; two sections in millinery, two each in machine shop and woodshop, ceramics classes for beginners and those more advanced.

IN THE FIELD of class work for high school credit the mathematics course will be offered again in the spring term, and one in American history, both taught by members of the high school faculty. There has been a change in instructors for the class in salesmanship since the printing of the bulletins; the class will be taught by Bruno Waara of the high school faculty rather than by Mr. Mook.

A new course, "Figuring Your Income Tax," will be given Wednesday nights for four weeks, February 16, 23, March 2, and 9, for a tuition fee of $4. The course will give practical analysis of the new tax laws, will discuss problems of ther average taxpayer, and give individual help on personal tax problems. Mr. Zupan, who will teach the class, is a practicing CPA and a staff member of the adult evening school in bookkeeping and accounting. His courses have been practical and popular, and his instruction adjusted to the needs of the class.

Acreage Owners Ask Annexation To Palatine

Palatine village hall was packed Monday night with owners of acreage along its corporate limits asking that their property be annexed to Palatine.

"We would rather pay the Palatine corporate tax rate than be a part of Rolling Meadows, which must build their city corporation from the ground up." This was the consensus of frequently expressed opinion from owners of the property involved.

Officially, the village of Palatine had prepared petitions covering only such acreage south of the Northwest highway and north of the present southern limits of Palatine village.

OWNERS OF property farther to the south that are now included in the city of Rolling Meadows pleaded "me, too" but the board took the stand that any action along such lines was entirely up to the owners themselves. The village would consider such a petition when presented.

It is presumed that the last of the signatures of owners in the immediate Palatine area will have been secured and official action can be taken by the Palatine village board next Tuesday night.

While Palatine has suspended its usual $40 per acre annexation fee for the property involved, it was made plain Monday night that when and if such area is subdivided, the usual annexation fee would be required.

Charles Klopp of the plan commission presented a seven point master plan to govern all future subdivisions within the area over which Palatine has jurisdiction. Members of the high school and elementary school boards were present and jointly asked that the village adopt the proposed master plan.

ITS PROPOSALS were:

1. Increase the required lot size to 9,000 sq. ft.
2. Approve a $300 fee per lot, said amount to be turned over to schools.
3. A portion of every 20 acres set aside for park and school area.
4. Minimum building requirement 1,100 sq. ft.
5. Code acceptance of design; no more than two houses of like design on one side of a block.
6. Triplicate plats required of all submitted to building department for filing with village, plan commission, and school board.
7. Petitions for annexation to park district required with petitions for village annexation.

In presenting the seven points, Kloop said it is conceivable that if the 100 acre Freedman farm were admitted with requirements of only 60 ft. lots, the school district might be required to spend a half million dollars for a school to serve that area.

THE PLAN commission asked the $500 be allowed for professional and legal services in preparation for the proposed ordinance. A conference with that body and school board members will be held this week.

Attorney Byron Matthews told protesting property owners they could avoid inclusion in Rolling Meadows in three ways:

1. If they petition to annex to Palatine and the village board approves it before the election, that might work.
2. If a majority of Rolling Meadows votes no, that eliminates the problem.
3. If property owners who have 20 acres of unsubdivided land on the border, and if the land doesn't touch any other village, and if disconnecting it won't isolate one part of Rolling Meadows from another, these owners can bring legal action in county court.

Matthews said several property owners could unite to meet the 20 acre requirement.

Hear Why Rolling Meadows Should Incorporate As City

"In order to meet future community needs, Rolling Meadows should incorporate as a city," declares Louis Ancel, corporation counsel and drafter of a city plan for the rapidly growing Kimball Hill development.

He told a meeting of 650 persons in Arlington Heights high school Sunday that Rolling Meadows now has 1200 families with 3000 more expected by 1958.

The county cannot adequately solve resulting problems of police and fire protection, maintenance of streets and sidewalks, street lighting, sewage and water, and zoning and building controls, according to Ancel.

TAX BILLS would be increased 10 per cent for these services, said the lawyer. "Further increases would come by referendum, and residents would decide that in election."

The election to vote on incorporation originally called for January 22 has been changed to February 26. This change resulted from a petition filed in county court by a group of Rolling Meadows residents, some of whom were unable to register last week due to lack of registration cards. All residents desiring to vote on the proposition must be registered.

Judge Otto Kerner said the change in date would enable approximately 500 more voters to participate in the election, as nearly 100 more persons will have the opportunity to register this Thursday. Four hundred new voters were registered last week.

REGISTRATIONS may be made at the polling place, 2005 Campbell, between the hours of 7 and 10 p.m., this Thursday.

At the Sunday meeting, Ancel told residents they'd had sufficient time to consider the proposal, and it was only Palatine which had had insufficient time because it is "so slow to take advantage of its opportunities."

Ancel explained that in order to give the new city as broad a tax base as possible, he had included Arlington Crest, the race track, homes south of Kirchhoff on Rohlwing rd., and the Palatine industrial property.

Explaining that Palatine had worked hard to attract industry, Village Trustee Robert Green said the only reason the property had not been annexed was that such action must come from the property owners, who didn't want higher taxes.

He also admitted that the village board had been uncertain whether or not the village could provide certain services required for the industrial area.

AMIDST A WAVE of applause, Greene declared that Palatine would be willing to accept the race track and residents on the west limits of the proposed city if they petitioned the village for annexation.

Referring to the race track, Ancel said Arlington Heights should have annexed it long ago because it creates traffic, noise, and inconvenience for the community.

"Arlington Park is part of the community," said the lawyer. "and it should help support it. That is why we have made it part of Rolling Meadows."

Ancel told residents of south Rohlwing rd. and Arlington Crest to petition the new city council to disconnect after the whole area had been incorporated. He said Arlington Crest had been included to provide the new city with a northern toe-hold for future expansion.

A resident of Rolling Meadows, Joseph Katkus, said Mon-

Set Date For Boy Scout Fund Drive

The annual Boy Scout finance drive in Arlington Heights will start January 20 and end January 22. Bill Utermohlen, district chairman, is heading the drive.

Zone chairman are Larry Austin, Dick Bardach, Floyd Burns, John Calhoun, Lee Grosby, John Latta, Larry Pakyz, Bill Petrucci, Bill Siler, Walter Schultz and Ray Tegtmeier. There will be approximately 500 block captains and workers.

Russ Clarke, district vice chairman, is secretary and auditor and Ken Hull is handling publicity. Tom James, field executive for the Blackhawk District, is council advisor and representative.

Arlington Heights has been and is a scouting town with an estimate of 900 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts for 1955. Contributions during this drive will enable the scouting program to continue in the village.

Fate Of Rolling Meadows Up To Voters

Though Arlington Heights village board is vitally interested in the fate of Rolling Meadows, it was unable to give any commitment Tuesday night to residents of Rolling Meadows who sought an expression from the board as to whether or not the village would be interested in annexing the subdivision.

Village Attorney Hugo J. Thal said, "As long as there is a petition calling for a referendum to vote on incorporation of the area, any action taken by the village would not be recognized by the courts."

HOWEVER, he assured the spokesmen that if the incorporation issue is defeated at the February 26 election, those still interested in annexing to Arlington Heights may petition the board, at which time they would be free to consider the matter.

A study is being made by a special committee of the planning commission concerning the present village limits and the advisability of straightening out present boundaries, which may necessitate annexing considerable unincorporated territory lying adjacent to the present limits.

Inducted Into Army

Ray Guy Huffman, Arlington Heights, was ordered to report for induction into the army January 7, by Local Board 101, Selective Service System, Des Plaines.

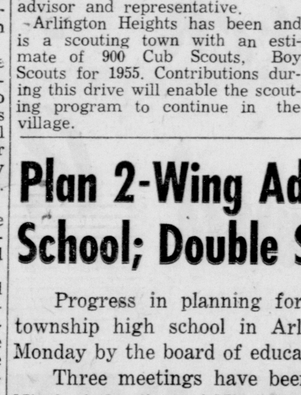
Plan 2-Wing Addition to High School; Double Shifts in Fall

Progress in planning for a two-wing addition to the township high school in Arlington Heights was reported Monday by the board of education.

Three meetings have been held with architect Charles Nicol of the firm of Nicol and Nicol and it is expected that sketches and cost estimates necessary for the holding of a referendum will be available in two weeks.

These will be reviewed with the citizens' lay advisory committee which recommended the addition to the present facilities and is expected to back the project. A date for the vote will be set as soon as practicable.

It was also reported that at the next meeting Superintendent Slichenmyer would submit plans for the operation of the high school on a two shift basis next year, 1955-56. He has been studying the matter at the request of the board as a means of handling increased enrollments until the addition can be completed. The necessity of removing one story space on the west side and two stories on the front of the building will aggravate the problem during the construction period.



SAM WHEELER gets ready to toss a pass in preparation for the Harlem Globetrotters doubleheader at Arlington Heights high school, scheduled for Monday night, Jan. 17, and sponsored by the Methodist Men's club.

Women Plan Study Of Local Government

The League of Women Voters is planning a "Know Your Town" study of Arlington Heights village government.

President of the league, Mrs. Fred S. Marks, said Arlington was selected for the study because it best represented the kind of municipal government the women want to become familiar with.

When their examination of local structure is complete, they will study state and national governments.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization composed of women of voting age from the Mount Prospect and Arlington Heights areas.

Dues are three dollars a year and include membership in the local, state, and national groups as well as subscriptions to the "National Voter" and state bulletin.

Present $150 Million Project For Wheeling

Includes 5,000 New Homes, Industrial Area, Shopping Center

A stupendous and almost unbelievable plan for the expansion and development of Wheeling, which will ultimately bring in 5,000 new homes, an industrial district, shopping center, sewage system and disposal plant was explained to residents Tuesday night.

At the invitation of the Herzog Construction Co., 100 men including members of the village board, school board, Lions club, Chamber of Commerce and the fire department met at the Hartmann House for dinner. They were guests of E. A. Herzog of the Herzog Construction Co., Joseph Weber of the Weber Industrial Dist., Inc., DeSoto B. McCabe, Jr. of DeSoto B. McCabe & Associates, consulting engineers, who made known their plans for the development of Wheeling, and explained fully, of what seemed to be the satisfaction of most of the listeners, how this complete municipal type of development will be done.

EXPANSION, which has already begun by the annexation of the Forke Farm, 100 acres along the South edge of the village, will continue with the annexation of land as far to the south as Hintz rd., Milwaukee ave., north to Chevy Chase, west to rt. 83 and along rt. 83 north to the County Line. The second step in the expansion would be the Techny property.

An industrial district is included in the plans which, according to McCabe, has already aroused interest of industrialists and which will bring work into the area.

Five thousand new homes in five years will be erected in the development. They will vary in architecture and range in price from $13,5000 to $30,000, with sidewalks, curbs, gutters, and streets planned for the new subdivision.

A TOTAL investment figure of one hundred and fifty million dollars was mentioned.

The group was told that the problems of the churches and schools which would be brought about by such an expansion have been taken into consideration.

The point which seemed to be of most interest to those present was the sewage system and disposal plant, which would be financed by revenue bonds with a hook-up charge or possibly $100 per home and an estimated charge of $2 per month for its use. The sewage plant would be built in such a manner that additions to the plant could be made when they became necessary. The first unit would take care of the annexation, Milwaukee ave., Dundee rd., and the more densely populated areas of the village as it now stands.

WHEN ASKED IF the present village water supply would take care of such an expansion, it was explained that at present the water facilities were adequate but as the project grew that would also have to be expanded and had also been taken into consideration by them.

Upon being introduced to the group by village attorney Howard McKey, E. A. Herzog explained he had been a resident of Des Plaines for 33 years and had been building homes there for the past five years.

Village Board President Edward Gieseke expressed his opinion that he thought the plan a wonderful thing for Wheeling and felt it was one of the best things that could happen for the town. Village attorney McKey also made known the fact that after having consulted with the planners on numerous occasions he was very much in favor of the development.

day that under Illinois statute, the new city could tax at a rate of 33.3, instead of the quoted 26.2, which is the rate for established villages. He also pointed out that Arlington Heights and Palatine have one policeman for every 1,000 persons, but Rolling Meadows proposes only one for every 2500.

KATKUS ALSO said that if Rolling Meadows were to establish a separate fire department, they would have to support the rural fire district as well unless the county board found rural service inadequate.

Kimball Hill at the Sunday meeting denied he was pushing incorporation for ulterior motives.

"In fact," he said, "we're sticking our necks out."

He had advised the Home Owners' association last summer to begin considering how to meet future needs of the community.

In replying to questions from residents, Hill said he is not obligated to maintain streets, sidewalks, and sewers once the FHA and township have approved them. He will be responsible however, for streets and sidewalks in new areas regardless of whether or not the development is incorporated.

The builder received an ovation when a resident of Rolling Meadows interrupted the discussion to express his thanks in behalf of all residents for Hill's contributions to the community.

The developer also said he did not intend to reduce the 60 ft. frontages of his lots unless residents of the new city passed legislation changing the 60 ft. line

This Week with PTA

Now that the last fragments of the shiny new toys have been swept out, and the wreckers are happily reunited with their old bent favorites, it should be possible for parents of elementary school children to relax and enjoy the fine programs which have been prepared for the January PTA meetings next Tuesday.

Dr. Carl Winters to Speak at North School

An outstanding authority on juvenile delinquency, Dr. Carl Winters, minister of the First Baptist church in Oak Park, will speak at North school at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. His topic, "Today's Youth in Tomorrow's World," is one which his long experience in dealing with criminology and youthful crime makes particularly stimulating to thoughtful parents. Ridge school parents and teachers, who heard Dr. Winters in November, attest to his excellence as a speaker, and still remember forcefully the startling facts and figures which he presented. Former crime commissioner of Michigan, Dr. Winters is now chairman of the Skid-Row commission for 1200 churches of Chicago Federation, and is also a member of the board of directors of the John Howard association which works with the Chicago Crime commission, Illinois penal institutions, and paroled prisoners. Dr. Winters had had 20 years' experience in "radio ministry" and is in constant demand as a lecturer.

Following the program, refreshments will be served by fourth grade mothers.

Dryden School to Hear Marcia Winn

Marcia Winn, the well-known Chicago Tribune columnist whose wise and witty words of advice to parents are now syndicated in 30 of the nation's newspapers, will speak to the Dryden school PTA at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday. Discussing "What Can We Expect from Our Children and What Should They Expect from Us?", Miss Winn uses the "We" with authority, for she is in private life Mrs. George Morgenstern of Highland Park, mother of two children, ages eight and five. Already quoted in thousands of homes as the "final word" on child rearing, Miss Winn has recently completed a book on "Successful Child Care," which was written for and by the request of the Encyclopedia Britannica. Her own affiliation with PTA is probably the sole reason Arlington Heights PTA has been able to secure the services of such a popular lecturer.

Mothers of fourth grade children will serve refreshments following the meeting.

Ridge School to See Village Theater Play

"The Case of the Missing Handshake," which aroused a small whirlwind of discussion when it was presented at North school in November, will be seen by Ridge school parents and teachers at 8:15 p.m. next Tuesday. Directed by Mrs. Dennis Malcolmson, the story concerns two young girls whose parents' dissimilar views on child-rearing have produced completely opposite patterns of behavior in their children. The girls' reactions to situations in which they find themselves, and their individual ability to cope with the problems which arise, pose the question of which is better equipped to face life. The answer as set forth in the conclusion of the play may not be agreed with by all parents, but is sure to engender much comment, and the interchange of opinion by parents should prove most interesting. North School PTA almost unanimously voted this play "excellent" on their evaluation slips.

Refreshments will be served after the program by fourth grade mothers.

South School to Hear Clabaugh and Lockwood

"A Word Picture of the Public Elementary Schools of Arlington Heights' will be presented to South School PTA by Ralph E. Clabaugh, superintendent of schools, and Robert Lockwood, president of the board of education, at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday in the junior high gymnasium. Mr. Lockwood is expected to describe the new structure of the board of education, and the methods of selecting members to serve, which were decided on December 20 at a meeting of the present board, plus representatives from various civic organizations, as well as the PTA.

Mr. Clabzugh will explain the organization and workings of the school system, describing the problems of providing proper educational facilities in a rapidly-expanding community, and discussing the goals townard which all present decisions and developments are directed. It is hoped that time will allow for answers to some of the many questions that arise in the minds of parents.

Refreshments will be served following the program by mothers of both fourth grade sections and one section of the combined third and fourth grades.

Dr. G. W. Brown to Speak At Jr. High Jan. 25

"Arousing and Guiding the Interests of Junior High school Students" will be the topic when Dr. George W. Brown, principal of Emerson high school, Gary, speaks to the junior high PTA Tuesday, January 25. Dr. Brown is the brother of C. Victor Brown, minister of the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church, and is known to many residents here as an outstanding an authoritative speaker.

Noble Puffer to Speak Jan. 18

County Superintendent of Schools Noble Puffer will speak at 7:30 p.m. January 18 at the Dawes school auditorium in Evanston, to representatives of district 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. "The Present Financial Crisis in Our Schools" will be under discussion, and Mr. Puffer has promised to give exact facts and figures pertaining to the educational needs of our district, as well as the budgetary recommendations set forth by the Illinois Schools Problems commission.

This important meeting will be attended by representatives of the Arlington Heights PTA executive board and the board of education, who will report the results at the February meeting.

Eastwood Events

New Neighbors

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Josephsen are new neighbors residing at 631 N. Beverly lane. Before moving to Arlington Heights, there were residents of Sauganash Park in Chicago. A daughter, Mrs. Don Diumtra, and three grandchildren live in Scarsdale, and another daughter, Mrs. Robert Regal, and three grnadchildren live in Skokie. Mr. Josephsen is a builder in Chicago. A Christmas card signed by their neighbors on Beverley lane delighted these newcomers to Eastwood.

Next door, at 637 N. Beverley lane, we are happy to greet Mr. and Mrs. A. Mesnard who formerly lived in Hollywood Park in Chicago. They are the parents of Arney Jr., who is employed at Roto Print, and Sherlyn who attends junior high. Mrs. Mesnard works at Roto Print also. This couple has been visiting friends in Arlington for many years and finally decided to make their home here. They also recieved a lovely card from the neighbors at Christmas and would like to take this opportunity to thank them for their thoughtfulness.

Baptized Sunday

Sunday, January 9, Phillip Bradford Carlsen, 3-month-old son of the Haldor Carlsens of Euclid ave. was baptized at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Victor Brown officiated at the services. Godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Behnke.

Sympathy is extended to Norm Hoym on the death of his brother, Oscar, in Oak Park Last Wednesday, January 5.

We are happy to announce that the Matt Cockrell's 7-month-old son, Matt Jr., is well on the way to recovery from pneumonia which hospitalized him for over a week.

Birthday

Happy brthday to Greg Inman who was 8 years old January 11. Because his older brother Bobby is ill with the chicken pox, he had to forfeit a party.

Also confined with chicken pox are Bonnie and Donna Burrow, daughters of the Bob Burrows of N. Dryden.

We are going to miss Bill and Lil Burris, who moved from their home on Dryden last week to take up residence in an apartment in Oak Park. They have relatives living in Arlington however, so we see them occasionally on their visits in town.

Time has come again for the Mothers' March for Polio which will be held Thursday, January 27. Captains from this area are now contacting women to help in this all important drive, and we are sure they will have the cooperation of everyone for this worthy cause.

Newcomers' To Hold Meeting January 20

Arlington Heights Newcomers' club will hold its next regular meeting and card party at the Arlington Heights field house at 8:15 p. m. January 20. Mrs. Elmer Boehm, program, has announced there will be tables of bridge, pinochle and canasta.

Further information may be obtained by calling the membership chairman, Mrs. Walter Johnson at CLearbrook 3-8025.

Members of the executive board met January 5 at the home of Mrs. Frank Renner to discuss plans for the valentine dance which the club is sponsoring February 11 at Arlington Heights country club. The public is welcome.

Mission Superintendent To Speak At Methodist Church Sunday Evening

The Rev. William Seath, D.D., superintendent of the Chicago Christian Industrial League of Chicago, will speak at First Methodist church, Arlington Heights, at 8 p. m., Saturday on the subject, "On The Jericho Road." A veteran of World War I, Dr. Seath entered rescue mission work in 1920. He became superintendent of the Chicago Christian Industrial League in 1931.

Dr. Seath, a Presbyterian minister, is a past president of the International Union of Gospel Missions and has been a member of the major's committee on Skid Row since its inception in 1950. He was a member of the summer school faculty of Houthton college, New York in 1952-53.

Sponsored by the Couples' club of the Methodist church, the public is invited to this meeting.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PHARMACY
Monthly News
A message from George Harris, 'Your Pharmacist'
OVER 140,000 DIFFERENT DRUG STORE PRODUCTS are listed in the 1955 Drug Topics Price Book, and 14,126 of them are new items. No one drug store could possibly carry all of them in stock. But we do surprise, even ourselves, by usually having everything you may ask for, and we can and will get for you, anything available as quickly as possible, because we know where they are obtainable.
SO MANY NEW PRESCRIPTION DRUGS are being perfected each month that we must constantly keep informed by reading our Pharmaceutical and Medical Journals. Also Drug firms send us information about a new product release, even before they notify the Physicians, so that when Your Physician prescribes a new discovery, we usually have it in stock.
OPERATING A PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY is much more complicated than it used to be, when a few hundred chemicals and drugs were all that was necessary to stock a prescription department. Now we carry thousands of bottles containing medicines that were unknown less than 10 years ago.
THAT IS WHY we will appreciate it, if you will inform any Physician you may consult, even in the most distant of cities, that we can compound his prescription.

Nan Merriman To Sing Here January 23

The second concert of the 1954-1955 season of the Arlington Heights Community Concert association will be held at the high school gymnasium in Arlington Heights Sunday evening, January 23 at 8:15 p.m.

A special treat is in store for members for Nan Merriman, the "outstanding symphony soloist" of the year will be the guest artist.

It is not often that Nature endows a singer with the voice, charm and intelligence that make Nan Merriman outstanding among mezzos, American and foreign. Chosen by Arturo Toscanini to sing solo parts on no less than twelve different broadcasts (a record for a singer of leading roles), her remarkable versatility is demonstrated by incontrovertible fact.

THIS PAST season she has toured European countries with outstanding success and now is proceeding with an American tour that will take her from coast to coast. One of the most notable was her appearance with the Chicago Symphony in late November under the direction of Fritz Reiner.

Miss Merriman is a native of Pittsburgh where she had her early training. When she was 15 her family moved to Los Angeles where she worked to raise funds to broaden her music studies. Winning a scholarship to the Cincinnati college of music, she was able to devote all of her time to her music. That same year she entered the nationwide competition of the National Federation of Music clubs and came out on top with a prize of $1,000. From then on her success was assured.

The concert series is limited to members of the Community Concert association.

Writer Teacher To Speak To Study Group

MRS. ASCHMAN

"A Capsule Course in Writing" will be the program given by Mrs. Charles Aschman of Itasca at the next meeting of the literature study group of Arlington Heights Woman's club at 1:30 p.m. next Tuesday.

Mrs. Aschman has taught fiction writing at Northwestern university for seven years, is a free lance writer and has had extensive experience in the writing field. She will tell the group how to "break into print" and get material published along with humorous incidents that happen to one whose name is before the public.

Mrs. Carl Mees, 408 E. Euclid ave., Arlington Heights, will be hostess to the group and those planning to attend are asked to call her for reservations.

Seventh District Juniors To Hold District Meeting

Junior Members of the seventh district will hold a district meeting of all junior clubs, Tuesday, Jan. 25. The meeting will be held at St. Martins Episcopal church, Margaret and Thacker sts., Des Plaines, at 8 p.m.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Mrs. W. Glenn Suthers, state parliamentarian. Mrs. Suthers is a native Chicagoan and a graduate of the Chicago Teachers college. She is the author of the book "Primer in Parliamentary Procedure."

Mrs. Suthers is a former teacher in Chicago schools, registered parliamentarian currently serving local, state and national organizations such as: General Federation of Women's Clubs, Illinois State Nurses association, Illinois Federation of Women's cuubs and the Children's Benefit league. At the present time Mrs. Suthers is a member of the board of elections commissioners of Chicago.

There will be a business meeting with the president of each club giving reports of their respective clubs.

Newly-elected officers of the new Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club will be formally introduced to club members by Mrs. O. C. Beattie, junior director of the seventh district.

Junior clubs in the seventh district that will participate in this meeting will be Junior Woman's Club of Des Plaines, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club, Edison Park Junior Woman's club and Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club.

Home Economist To Speak To Wayside Woman's Club Tonight

MISS WELSCHMEYER

The regular monthly meeting of the Catholic Woman's club of Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, will be held tonight, January 13, at 8:30 p.m. in the parish hall. This will be the first regular meeting of the new year.

"Quick Meals for Busy Homemakers" will be explained and demonstrated by Miss Mary Lou Welschmeyer, Broadview, Ill. home economist for the International Harvester company. She is coming to the meeting through the courtesy of J. F. Garlisch and Sons, Arlington Heights.

Miss Welschmeyer will show the use of a home freezer or the freezer compartment of a refrigerator which will simplify and assure well-balanced meals for the busy homemaker of today.

The speaker has a B.S. degree in home economics from the University of Missouri, has taught school, done agriculture extension service, presented television shows, and done equipment research for the International Harvester company.

Refreshments will be served under the supervision of Mrs. Frank J. Paveza, and the tea hostess will be Mrs. Daniel W. Senne. Every one is urged to come and bring a friend.

Panel Discussion To Feature AAUW Meeting

A panel discussion on "Nine Years of the United Nations' Story —Successes and Failures" will feature William R. Roalfe of Northwestern School of Law at a meeting of the Northwest Suburban Branch of the American Association of University Women Thursday evening, January 20, at 8 p.m. at St. Martin Episcopal church, Des Plaines.

Other members of the panel will be Mrs. A. J. Troyan and Mrs. J. J. Russell both of Des Plaines. Mrs. Troyan, international relations chairman, is in charge of the meeting which will also be known as husbands' guest nite.

Welcoming husbands and members will be Mrs. George E. Bailey, president.

Mr. Roalfe is a member of the executive committee and board of directors of the American association for the United Nations, Greater Chicago division, and has served as chairman of the Intercultural Action committee of the American Library association. He is professor of law and librarian at Northwestern School of Law and is a member of the American Bar association and Chicago Bar association.

Hostesses will be Mrs. R. H. Morehart, chairman, Mrs. Clayton Mott, Mrs. Jack L. Scarff and Misses Edith Anderson and Margaret Walters of Des Plaines and Mrs. Fred A. Tice of Arlington Heights.

Glenview Officials Nix Ice Skating Rink

Plans for a $300,000 ice skating arena in Glenview were thwarted last week when the village board overruled a rezoning recommended by the plan commission.

A Glenview resident had requested the rezoning of 15 acres at Foster ave. and Cicero ave. The site is one block from the projected Old Orchard shopping center.

Local Women Invited To Tour Wash. D. C.

Congressional representative Marguerite Stitt Church of the 13th congressional district extends an invitation to all women voters of the 13th district to plan trips to Washington, D. C. Her office will be happy to make arrangements for lodging and Washington tour, for groups of women up to 30 and preferably not less than 20. Representative Church welcomes the opportunity to work out details as well as probable cost for individual members of a group if she is informed of the approximate date and number. A warm welcome is assured by Rep. Church and her office staff.

Anyone interested in being a part of a group of 20 or more to make a trip to Washington, D. C. for a period of a week or 10 days, can contact Mrs. Quentin K. Ford, 621 N. State rd., Arlington Heights, or telephone CLearbrook 3-2437 to discuss further details on organizing a plan and schedule convenient for all interested persons.

Here's Scouting

With Explorer Scout Bill Hogate

'Big 37 Powers' Hold Scouting Parley

Here's Scouting was informed by Raymond Tagmeier, institutional representative for Troop 37, Arlington Heights, that Scouting leaders of Troop 37, Cub Pack 37, and Lutheran Men's club, met at the home of Walter K. Landmeier, Arlington Heights last Monday January 3, to discuss and review Troop 37's charter. Among those in attendance were Lutheran Mens Club President William Berg, District Commissioner Raymond Woodruff, Scoutmaster Ernie Tagge, Cubmaster Ivor Fruehling, and Institutional Representative Ray Tagmeier.

"A record-breaker" as many termed it, was certainly not an understatement describing this meeting as more than twenty-five were present. All agreed that this get-to-gether was a great success.

Press Interivews

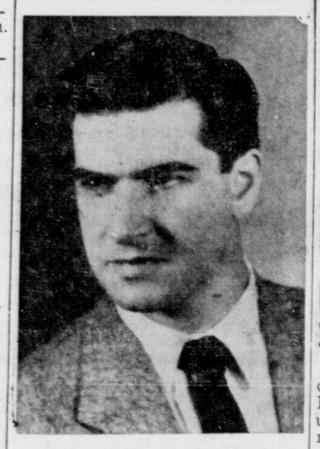
In interviewing Pete Grosby and Eddy Whitelaw, new Eagle Scouts in Troop 7, Arlington Heights, the following ambitions in Scouting were revealed.

Pete Grosby: "I would like to go on into Exploring and use what I have learned in the course of attaining Eagle award in helping others in Scouting."

Eddy Whitelaw: "Like Pete, I would like to go on into Exploring and help my Scouting friends to attain their Eagle award. Pete and I are also making plans for a 'live off the land' camping trip."

Here's Scouting would like to congratulate these boys for their fine achievement and their unselfish outlook for the future.

Faculty of Arlington School of Music



The Arlington School of Music is happy to announce that its newest member to the faculty, James I. Matteoni, has been so successful with students and in such demand that it is necessary for him to open extra days for teaching here.

James I. Matteoni received his Bachelor's and Master's degree of Music from the American conservatory, where he studied piano under Howard Hanks. Harmony, Counterpart and Composition from Dr. Leo Sowerby. While in Europe during the war, Mr. Matteoni found time to study at the Conservatory of Milan. As a pianist he has performed in several recitals and has been honored by having had a number of his compositions performed at recitals by other pianists.

He also minored in Psychology, and hopes to receive his degree in same soon. In the meantime Mr. Matteoni is continuing his studies in composition with Dr. Sowerby.

Mr. Matteoni comes to us as an experienced teacher, having had notable success ranging from the primary grades to adults. He is fully familiar with the necessary classical aspects of music, and its pianistic interpretation, and his studies in student psychology supply him with knowledge of the practical value of a musical education for the student.

Students are now being accepted for enrollment by calling CL 3-5050. —Adv.

Transit Cited As Only Solution To City Traffic Plight

Traffic congestion is strangling U. S. cities, choking off trade and offsetting many of the advantages of city life. And experts report the worst is yet to come.

Arlington Heights shares the "traffic riddle" problem with other cities, all of whom have been told the only solution to downtown traffic jams and parking problems is to bolster use of mass transportation.

The Harvel Motor Coach Co. started serving southside residents this month with an experimental Scarsdale bus service which may be extended on an all-day, around-the-town basis for housewives and shoppers if residents support it.

Transit is considered to be the rallying point for breaking up traffic jams. With commuter cooperation, the revival of downtown and survival of the transit industry can be worked together.

Enroll 50 In High School Bridge Club

After two meetings, the Bridge club, newest addition to Arlington Heights high school's extra-curricular activities, has enrolled 50 members.

Now operating on a three months trial basis, the club plans to meet twice a month, dividing each meeting between study of rules and techniques and actual play.

Most of the present members are beginners, who study and play under the supervision of Larry Jenness, speech teacher. Activities of the few advanced players are supervised by Bernie Brock, social science teacher.

Details of planning and organization have not been completed but will include tournament play for all levels.

Costs of the clubs activities will be paid out of membership dues.

Heights Students To Play With Chicago Youth Orchestra

Bonnie Martin and Alex Catherwood, juniors at Arlington Heights high school, have been selected to play oboe and violin respectively in the Youth Orchestra of Greater Chicago.

This orchestra includes 100 boys and girls from some 40 schools. It is directed by Dr. Desire Defauw, who has conducted several major American symphony orchestras, including the Boston symphony, the Detroit symphony, and the Chicago symphony orchestras.

The Youth orchestra was organized in 1946 to give talented musicians from high schools in the Chicago area a chance to play together under a reknowned leader. Several Arlington Heights high school students have played with the orchestra in past years.

The winter concert of the orchestra will be presented January 21, at Orchestra Hall in Chicago.

Noble Puffer To Speak On Public School Financial Crisis

The public is urged to attend a special meeting on "The Financial Crisis in The Public Schools" Tuesday, Jan. 18, at 7:30 p.m. at Dawes school, Oakton and Dodge aves., Evanston, to hear county superintendent of schools, Noble Puffer, present exact facts and figures, as well as the budgetary recommendations of the Illinois School Problems commission.

This meeting, sponsored by district 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, is particularly aimed at informing school superintendents and school board members, local P.T.A. presidents, legislative and program chairmen of the 75 schools within district 21, which includes the area bounded by Evanston, Lake Forest, Barrington and Des Plaines.

Present to answer questions on the anticipated discussion of trailer parks in relation to the school crisis will be a representative of the Illinois Mobile Home association.

Mrs. H. F. Salene, Evanston, legislative assistant to Mrs. Martin H. Seifert, Wilmette, district director, is in charge of the program. (AMP

Legion Auxiliary Presents 18 Flags To High School

In keeping with their Americanism program this year, the American Legion auxiliary Merle Guild unit 208 presented Arlington Heights high school with American flags for 18 classrooms.

The presentation was made last Thursday by Mrs. Anita Balfour, Americanism chairman to Harold Slichenmyer, principal of the high school who expressed his sincere thanks on behalf of those concerned.

The auxiliary is also currently sponsoring an essary contest in the junior and senior high school of Arlington Heights on the subject, "What Freedom in America Means to Me," under the guidance and cooperation of the English teachers. Cash awards will be given to winners in each class. Class I-students in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades; Class II—students in the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

'Cinderella' Tryouts At Village Theatre Meeting Tonight

Members and other interested persons are invited to try out for the annual children's show of the Village Theatre at its meeting tonight, Thursday, at 8 o'clock, at Arlington Heights field house.

"Cinderella" has been selected for this year's production, which will be presented at two performances February 13, at the Arlington Heights high school. Co-directors, Mrs. Robert Hawley and Mrs. Carl Scheske, especially urge high school students to attend the tryouts. Newcomers and all persons interested in little theatre work are also invited.

Additional tryouts will be held Monday at 8:30 p.m. for those unable to attend Thursday's meeting. They will be held at Mrs. Scheske's home, 833 N. Hickory.

Cancel License Of Arlington Airport

Commercial airport certificate of the Arlington Heights airport has been canceled by the Illinois Department of Aeronautics, director Arthur E. Abney announced.

The field, leased from the federal government, is being taken over by the air defense system for use as a "NIKE" (guided missile) site.

Abney said the cancellation of the airport brought the total number of commercial airports in Illinois to 140.

He said that during December the number of private use fields in Illinois increased from 482 to 487.

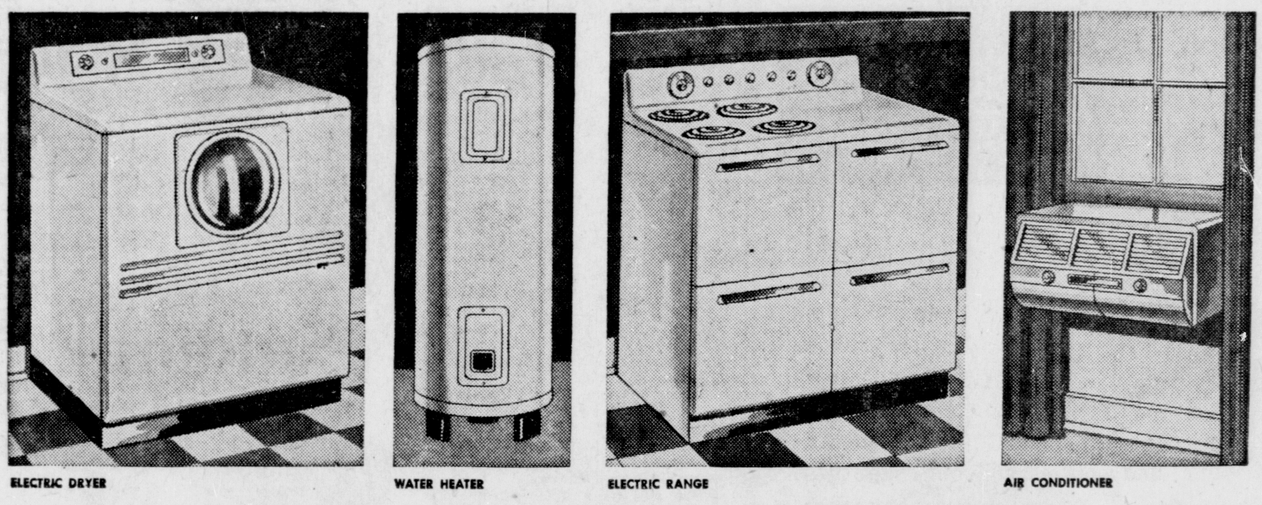
Good News for 615,000 Northern Illinois families!



If you plan to buy one of these in 1955— here's how you can benefit from our NEW APPLIANCE INSTALLATION PLAN

1. YOU SAVE IMPORTANT MONEY ON INSTALLATION of an Electric Range, Dryer, Air Conditioner or Water Heater if you live in a 1, 2, or 3-family building with 120-volt wiring.
2. YOUR PRESENT APPLIANCES WORK BETTER—once you have the new, heavy-duty 240-volt wiring in your home.
3. YOU'RE ALL SET FOR THE FUTURE—You can add wiring for the electrical appliances you'll want in the years ahead quickly and cheaply.

Are you one of our 615,000 customers who live in Northern Illinois . . . in a 1, 2, or 3-family building with 120-volt (2-wire) service? If you are, this new installation plan of ours can save you up to $35 with the installation of any appliance shown above. And, you also get the modernized wiring you need today.

This installation includes bringing a 240-volt (3-wire) line to the fuse box inside your home plus the interior wiring to wherever you want the appliance located. We'll extend terms (up to 12 months) on your share of the wiring if you wish.

Plan Available at All Dealers

Our new installation plan helps you and your dealer. All your dealer does is call us once—we do the rest. We arrange a convenient installation date with you . . . line up an electrical contractor—see the job's done right. If you prefer easy terms on your part of the wiring, we'll take care of it.

What modernized wiring means to you

Once you have new, heavy-duty 240-volt wiring with adequate circuits you can kiss a lot of little annoyances goodbye. Your toast will toast faster, your TV picture will be improved and lights won't dim when you plug in the iron. Why? Because your new wiring can handle lighting and many appliances easily.

You're set for the future, too. Once your new electric dryer, range, air conditioner, or water heater is installed, you're ready for lots more electrical appliances in years ahead. And future installations can be made quickly and cheaply. And of course, modernized wiring makes your home a better value if you ever decide to sell.

LADIES' AND CHILDREN'S APPAREL AND FURS

With The Blue Birds

Honey Bears blue bird group held its first 1955 meeting at Faith Evangelical Lutheran church January 4. The girls had a few minutes before their business meeting for comparing holiday fun. A new slate of officers presided over the business part of the meeting and the rest of the time was spent coloring designs on new snack plates. The girls will shellac these plates at a later meeting. Susan Bahr served chocolate donuts and the meeting ended with the traditional "Friendship Circle."

Helping Pixies blue birds held their first meeting of the new year at Mrs. Schomburg's home January 4. After the opening song, treats were served by Jean Ann Collins. A new set of officers conducted the business section of the meeting, with part of the time reserved for relating the moments of the holiday season. The girls decided to make their "Commuter's Serenade" an annual Christmas caroling event, and also wanted to repeat the fun enjoyed in working as a group on their "Good Fellows" project.

The remainder of the meeting was devoted to creating designs for the Camp Welasi 1955 day camp handbook. The theme for this year's day camp, as selected by the Chicago Area Council day camp committee, is "Parade of Holidays." This theme of American holidays blends well with the 1955 birthday project, "Let Freedom Ring."

All Camp fire girls and blue birds every where in the Chicago Area council have been invited to submit designs for use on the covers and inside the day camp handbook. The best blue bird design submitted, picturing one of the American holidays, will find its place of honor on the back cover of the handbook. Since the designs should be the girls' own ideas and must be their own execution, the leaders wish all the Arlington Heights blue birds success in this friendly competition.

St. Peter Mothers Club To See Movie

The Mothers' club of St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday evening, January 14, at 8 p.m. in the activity building. The club will combine the meeting with the regular quarterly meeting of the Lutheran Women's Missionary league.

A movie of the Lutheran Home at Watertown, Wis., called Bethesda, will be shown in color. The 40 minute tour of this house of mercy will show facilities, patients, workshop, farm, school, and chapel. The ages of the patients range from 8 to over 90. These patients are unfortunate children and grownups who are suffering from epilepsy, are mentally retarded, or are otherwise handicapped. Everyone is invited to attend this meeting.

The ways and means committee will feature the sale of valentines at the meeting. The prices are very reasonable. Refreshments will be served.

Legion Auxiliary Seeks To Promote Good Legislation

As the 85th congress of the United States goes into session in January, so the American Legion auxiliary and the American Legion will stress the need of promoting good legislation on all subjects beneficial to our nation on civil defense and national security and to veterans of three wars and the widows and orphans of veterans, announced Mrs. Joseph Wisersky, president of Merle Guild unit 208 of the American Legion auxiliary, Arlington Heights.

The American Legion auxiliary promotes legislation sponsored by the American Legion. Auxiliary members write their congressmen in Washington, D. C., urging the passage of American Legion sponsored bills, beneficial to the country and to the veterans of World Wars I and II and the Korean conflict. They stress passage of bills which will aid hospitalized veterans and their dependents as well as bills which will aid widows and orphans of veterans. Unit members subscribe to the American Legion's Legislative Bulletin to receive first-hand information.

The "Why I Teach" contest for school teachers in the USA, is a special feature of the national security program, this year. Subject is, "A Teacher's Contribution to Our National Security." The contest opened December 1, 1954 and closes May 1, 1955. Purpose of this contest is to give publicity to the teaching profession that may encourage more young people to study to become teachers.

Second Adult Class Meets Sunday Evening At United Lutheran

The second in a series of adult classes for persons wishing to affiliate with the United Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, will be held next Sunday evening at Dryden school beginning at 7 p.m. The Rev. George Hoog will conduct the class, which will prepare adults who have not had previous Lutheran training for membership in the church. Classes will continue each Sunday evening until organization day, February 20, when the congregation will be declared officially organized and the charter roll will be completed.

Two committees, the stewardship committee and the constitution committee, have met to begin work on financial and organizational aspects of the formation of the church. Reports of these committees will be heard at the next planning committee meeting in Dryden school February 1.

VFW Auxiliary Holds Membership Drive

The local VFW auxiliary 981 is having its annual membership drive during the month of January.

Those eligible to join can be wives, mothers, daughters or sisters of servicemen who served overseas. Further information may be obtained by calling Miss Loraine Schubert at CLearbrook 3-7548 or Mrs. Loraine Kehe at CLearbrook 3-6723.

Begin March Of Dimes Drive In Heights

Annual March of Dimes campaign is now in progress in Arlington Heights, and will continue throughout the month of January. Mrs. James Webster is general chairman of the drive which is being sponsored locally by the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

Sub-chairmen include Mrs. W. G. Inman, Mothers' March; Mrs. J. E. Wood, schools; Mrs. Stanley Fletcher, stores, and Mrs. Raymond Landmeier, treasurer. In addition Miss Donna Raffay, a student at the high school, has organized more than 30 volunteers from among the girls in the school to conduct the drive there.

Captains and lieutenants for the Mothers' March, which will take place from 7 to 8 p.m. January 27, are being appointed this week. Any one who wishes to help, either as a captain who helps organize an area of the village or as a lieutenant who "marches" in her own neighborhood, is asked to call Mrs. Inman at CL 3-4456.

A rally for all campaign workers will be held January 24 when Mrs. Frances Karlsteen, executive secretary for the Cook County chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will speak.

Free Church Observes Second Anniversary

Arlington Heights Evangelical Free Church observed the second anniversary of its founding with two special services last Sunday. Dr. C. Raymond Ludwigson, president of Trinity seminary and Bible college, spoke at both services.

Dr. Ludwigson, a graduate of Moody Bible institute, Wheaton college, Chicago Theological seminary, and the University of Iowa, stressed the prophetic aspect of the scriptures in his messages. He congratulated the Arlington Heights congregation on its 2-year anniversary and its growth.

In the week preceding the anniversary Sunday, members of the church met nightly at prayer meetings in various Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect homes, as part of the national week of prayer observance. In these services, the growth of the congregation from a handful to its present size in two years was a subject of much thanksgiving.

The Sunday school attendance on the anniversary Sunday was 164, the highest in the history of the school. Both the morning and evening church services were also well attended. At the morning service, the choir established another "first" by presenting its first Sunday morning anthem. In the evening service, in a brief but impressive rite conducted by Free church pastor Charles G. Will, the church dedicated its new hymnals. This service was held in the sanctuary of the Methodist church, which the Free church recently purchased from the Methodists.

Wayside Library Group To Meet January 20

The library and literature group of Our Lady of the Wayside parish, Arlington Heights, will meet at the home of Mrs. Frederick L. Shea, 406 S. Belmont, Thursday, Jan. 20 at 8:30 p.m.

The Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, pastor of Our Lady of the Wayside church, will review the book, "Reproachfully Yours." by Lucille Hasley.

Mrs. Robert Bradle, chairman of the library and literature group and her committee have worked to establish a parish library and urge all members of the church to take advantage of the book collection.

The library is open every Sunday after the 9, 10, 11:15 and 12:15 masses.

State Bills Seek To Cut Road Deaths

In an effort to dent the record traffic slaughter on Illinois highways, the 69th General Assembly in Springfield will consider Gov. Stratton's proposals to crack down on speeders and unsafe automobiles.

The measures call for new speed limits of 65 miles an hour in daytime and a nighttime limit of 55 miles.

Another bill requires twice-a-year compulsory safety testing of brakes, frame, wheels, steering apparatus, and lights on every auto.

A third bill would stiffen the drivers license law.

Plan Washington Tour During Easter Holidays

Details of the Easter vacation tour of Washington, D. C., Skyline Drive and Williamsburg, were announced to students of Arlington Heights high school this week.

The overnight trip on the Old Bay Line Steamer, which was so thoroughly enjoyed by students who made the trip last year, will be one of the features of the tour. This year students will board the steamer at Baltimore and sail down the Chesapeake Bay to Norfolk, Va.

Other points of interest include Ashlawn, Monticello, the University of Virginia, Shenandoah National Park, the Blue Ridge mountains, Smithsonian Institute, Lincoln and Jefferson Memorials, the Capitol Building, Library of Congress, the Supreme Court, Arlington Cemetery, Alexandria, Mount Vernon, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, Washington Monument, the White House, Annapolis, Williamsburg, Yorktown, and Jamestown Island.

Travel will be supervised by the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway company, using the trains for long distances, buses and the steamer in travel in the area of the tour.

Larry Jenness, speech teacher at the high school, and Pauline Jenness, teacher at North School, Arlington Heights, will chaperone the group.

Alumni Dance Slated To Become Annual Yule Affair

A spur of the moment holiday dance turned into a grand affair December 29 when 98 couples, all students or alumni of Arlington Heights high school, gathered at Itasca Country club to dance, greet old friends and enjoy refreshments.

The dance, organized by Willard Walters, father of one of the high school students, is slated to become an annual holiday affair. At the close of the evening a board of directors was elected to take charge of plans for next year.

One of the chaperons, Robert Malcolm, said, "It was wonderful to see these youngsters get together for a social evening. They conducted themselves like ladies and gentlemen and I was proud to have been asked to be one of the chaperons. With so much talk about juvenile deliquency this proved to me the younger generation, if encouraged in the right direction, will make fine citizens for tomorrow."

Women of the Moose To Meet Tonight

Child care chairman, Mrs. Phylis Koops of Arlington Heights, and her committee, have charge of the Women of the Moose chapter night meeting tonight, Thursday, at 8:30 p. m. at Moose hall, Des Plaines. Delores Eiler's school of dancing, Arlington Heights, will furnish entertainment for the program.

This is a closed meeting. An open meeting will be held at the organization's January 27 meeting and will be "green beanie" night for junior graduate regent, Mrs Lester Derringer. Invited officers from other lodges will assist with the ritual for the evening.

Nancy Rae Is Bride Of Norman L. Morgan Jr.

In a candlelight ceremony that took place December 18 in the Fair Oaks Presbyterian church, Oak Park, Miss Nancy Ellen Rae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Rae, Old Plum Grove rd., Palatine, and Norman Lee Morgan Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lee Morgan Sr., Lakeday, Wash., were united in marriage by Dr. Herbert N. Brockway.

Mrs. Roy E. Smith was organist for the eight o'clock double ring ceremony and Dale Gilbert of Palatine, was soloist. Nuptial selections were "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." Mums and white poinsettias were the floral background.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a long-trained gown of ivory satin with matching headpiece. Her veil was fingertip length and she carried a white orchid with lillies of the valley.

Miss Marilyn Treacy of Park Ridge, served as maid of honor and Miss Lois Pilgrim, also of Park Ridge, as bridesmaid. They wore identical gowns of Christmas green velvet with headpieces to match and carried bouquets of red roses. Four year old Nancy Ann Nickerson of Peoria, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a miniature gown identical to the other attendants and carried a miniature bouquet of red roses.

Jack Shank of Pontiac, Ill. was best man to the groom and ushers were Don Mahoney of Bloomington, Ind. and Richard Nickerson, cousin of the bride from Peoria.

A buffet supper was served to 100 guests at the Oak Park Arms hotel following the ceremony. Mrs. Rae received in a mauve pink taffeta gown with white orchid corsage.

The couple will be residing in Fort Wayne where the groom is employed by General Electric Co. and where the bride will do student teaching. A senior at the University of Indiana, Bloomington, the bride will graduate in June. The bridegroom was graduated from the University of Arizona as a mechanical engineer. He was in the air force for two years and held the rank of first lieutenant. He is affiliated with Acacia fraternity and the new Mrs. Morgan with Sigma Kappa sorority.

Nancy Atkinson Weds Paul Breitsprecher

Miss Nancy Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loid Atkinson of Portage, Wis. was united in marriage with Paul Breitspreacher, son of Mrs. William L. Breitsprecher of Arlington Heights, Monday, December 27 at 10 a.m. in St. Mary's Catholic church, Portage.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a fitted gown of white lace over traditional satin with a scooped neckline. Her fingertip-length veil was fastened to a crown of pearls and she carried a bouquet of double camellias, stephanotis and lilies of the valley.

Her two issters, the Misses Pat and Peg Atkinson of Portage were bridesmaids as well as Miss Sarah Leonard of Chicago. Acting as maid of honor was Miss Mary Lee Skaff of Hinsdale. All her attendants wore deep red velvet and tulle dresses and caried white muffs decorated with red poinsettias.

Best man was William Mulligan of Portage and the bridegroom's brother, David Breitsprecher of Arlington Heights was head usher. Other ushers were the bride's brother, Loid Atkinson Jr. of Pittsburgh and John Legg of Portage.

Following the wedding, a breakfast was served to the wedding party and the 150 guests at Hotel Raulf in Portage. The couple spent their honeymoon in Madison.

Mr. and Mrs Breitsprecher are now at home in Arlington Heights at 206 W. Campbell ave. Mrs. Breitsprecher teaches at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic school and Mr. Breitsprecher is employed in Evanston with Rotary International.

Out-of-town tuests at the wedding included the bridegroom's mother, his sister Mrs. Robert Hawley and her children, Roberta, Ricky and Ginny, and his brother, David. Other guests were from Pittsburgh, Waupaca, Sheboygan, Green Bay, Milwaukee and Fond du Lac.

Favorites For Flavor

While living abroad, Mrs. Robert K. Tindall collected many interesting recipes, three of which she is sharing with us today.

Residing in France for four years, the Tindalls had an excellent maid named Marvel, whose abilities matched her name. She often made the delicious cookies being featured in this column. They are crispy and rich, made with a pound of butter, and will keep for weeks; in fact, their almond flavor improves with age

Long-lasting flavor is also characteristic of an authentic French Dressing, the recipe for which Mrs. Tindall acquired in a French restaurant. Its tasty flavor is derived from chopped chives, parsley and garlic, and is excellent to toss with crisp salad greens.

Another gustatory delight which Mrs. Tindall first enjoyed at a quaint French restaurant called "The Singing Quail," and which she duplicated at home is Veal Provencale.

Each serving contains a complimentary combination of ingredients, set in layers. A slice of boiled ham is topped by a thin slice of breaded veal, tomatoes and grated swiss and cheddar cheese.

Veal Provencale can be made in advance and popped into the oven just 10 or 15 minutes before serving.

The Tindalls live at 356 S. Beverley, Arlington Heights. They have three children, James, 9, Richard, 3, and Marcia, 7 months. Mrs. Tindall is a member of the Village Theatre and the Young Married Couples' club of the Presbyterian church.

Marvel's Cookies

2 cups butter
2 cups sugar
2 cups flour
2 cups sliced almonds
1 egg

Mix all of the ingredients together. Roll dough into small balls and flatten on cookie sheet until cookie is very thin.

Bake in a slow oven, 325 degrees, for about 10 minutes. Let cookies cool slightly before removing from tin.

French Dressing

1 teaspoon chopped chives
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon freshly ground pepper
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
¾ cup salad oil

Mix all ingredients together and add two whole cloves garlic. Allow to stand at room temperature for four to five hours.

Remove garlic and mix with crisp greens.

Veal Provencale

Place on pan one-half slice boiled ham per person. On top ham put thin slice of veal steak (about the same size as ham) which has been dipped in egg and cracker crumbs and fried in butter until almost done.

On top of veal place one or two slices of tomato and salt and pepper.

Cover tomato with grated cheddar and swiss cheese.

Place in oven about 10 to 15 minutes before serving. Cheese will melt and brown slightly.

Violet Pankonin And Wayne Schroeder Wed

Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran church in Palatine was the scene of a double ring marriage ceremony December 18 in which Miss Violet Pankonin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Pankonin, 43 W. Washington, Palatine, became the bride of Wayne Schroeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schroeder, 24 N. Benton st., Palatine.

The Rev. Hilmar Th. Rosenberg officiated at the seven o'clock ceremony during which Paul E. Leimer served as organist. Miss Carol Leimer, soloist, sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

Lighted candelabra and altar bouquets of chrysanthemums formed the background for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned with white lace bodice with long pointed sleeves and Queen Anne collar and skirt of satin covered with layers of nylon tulle. Her headpiece was a crown of pearls and sequins with a nylon tulle veil and she carried a white orchid with stephanotis.

Silk organza gowns in a changeable turquoise shade were worn by Miss Ruth Hayford, maid of honor, and Mrs. Jayne Hagenow, twin sister of the groom. In their hair they wore black velvet bands with rhinestones and carried colonial bouquets of yellow roses on lace.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Pankonin wore a beige taffeta dress. The groom's mother was in a navy blue crepe dress and both mothers wore white carnation corsages tied with yellow ribbons.

Donald Schroeder, brother of the groom, served as best man and Louis Pankonin, brother of the bride, as usher.

Dinner was served to 40 guests at Sobie's restaurant. The reception followed immediately after the dinner at the home of the bride's parents.

After a 5-day honeymoon traveling south, Mr. Schroeder and his bride are residing in an apartment at 43 W. Washington, Palatine. Both are graduates of Palatine high school. The bride is employed by Kraft Foods company, Chicago, and the groom is employed by Jewel Tea company, Barrington. (Bak studio

Elizabeth Leuba Weds George Petersen

Christmas greens and poinsettias decorated South church, Mount Prospect, for a candlelight service December 24 in which Miss Elizabeth Leuba, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Leuba, Yellow Springs, Ohio, became the bride of George "Chappie" Petersen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Petersen, Arlington Heights.

The Rev. Edwin I. Stevens officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Rose Marie Schutte, organist, accompanied the groom's mother as she sang, "Serenade" and "Because."

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, bouffant skirt and lace bolero with long tapered sleeves. Her fingertip veil was held by a juliet cap of heirloom lace outlined in white pearls. She carried a bouquet of white feathered carnations with ivy.

Mrs. Roger Leuba, sister-in-law of the bride, served as matron of honor wearing a ballerina-length gown of red irridescent silk shantung fashioned with full bouffant skirt and matching bolero. Her bouquet was of pink carnations and ivy.

The Misses Sue Alexander, Rocky River, Ohio, Virginia Wagner, Riverside, Ill., and Nancy Carlough, Ramsey, N. J., served as bridesmaids. Their gowns were identical to the matron of honor's gown and all wore headbands of green tulle.

Miss Kathy Leuba, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid wearing a dress of green irridescent antique silk shantung made with a sweetheart neckline and bouffant skirt.

Bruce Burgess, Arlington Heights, and Bob Uhlhorn, Mount Prospect, served as candlelighters.

John Petersen, brother of the groom, served as best man and ushers were August Krause of Arlington Heights. Dick Spratt and Dan Uhlhorn of Mount Prospect, and Dick Speidel of Cincinnati.

A reception was held in Friendship hall of the church immediately following the ceremony. The bride's mother received in an afternoon dress of royal blue faille with velvet trim. The mother of the groom wore an afternoon dress of dusty rose moire taffeta. Both mothers wore corsages of pink roses.

The newlyweds will reside in the Chicago area while they are completing their education at the University of Chicago. The bride is a sophomore from Denison university, Granville, Ohio, and the bridegroom, a graduate of Denison, is attending the University of Chicago Law school.

Announce Winners Of Auditions

Perry E. Crafton, conductor of the Northwest symphony orchestra, announced the results of auditions held recently at the Des Plaines junior high school.

From a list of over 12 candidates, the following were chosen to appear with the Northwest symphony orchestra as soloists: Phyllis Trenkmann, soprano, 508 S. Knight ave., Park Ridge; Barbara Leichsenring, soprano, 600 Albion lane, Mount Prospect, and Paul R. Eckley, baritone, Old Plum Grove road, Palatine.

Mr. Crafton said that Phyllis Trenkmann and Paul R. Eckley are scheduled to appear with the orchestra at the mid-winter concert Sunday, Feb. 20, at Maine high school, and Miss Leichsenring will be soloist at the spring concert Friday, May 20.

Presenting The Younger Generation

Pictured first is Pamela Lynn Stefanik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stefanik of 30 S. Highland, Arlington Heights.

Light brown hair and blue eyes describe Pamela's coloring. She was six months old when this picture was taken, and will celebrate her first birthday on February 5.

Pamela is starting to walk, and she likes to talk to her pet parakeet named Buddy.

Playing with her dolls and stuffed animals is fun for this tiny miss, and her favorite is a toy puppy dog named Cocky which she received for Christmas.

Pamela enjoys playing with blocks which have bells enclosed, and she also likes to take walks.

One of her favorite activities is sitting in her high chair near a window, watching her mother feed the birds. Pamela has two older sisters, Charlene, 13, and Kathleen, 12, who love to play with her.

Mrs. Justina Stefanik of Arlington Heights is her grandmother.

Sister and Brother

Debbie and Randy Deehring, children of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Deehring of 517 Wing st., Arlington Heights, are pictured next.

Five-year-old Debbie has blond hair and blue eyes. She attends kindergarten at the South school.

An outdoor girl, Debbie likes to play outside and ride her bike. Indoors she enjoys finger painting.

Her older brother, Randy, is eight. He has reddish blond hair and blue eyes. Randy attends third grade at South school and also is a Cub Scout.

A bookworm, this young fellow loves to read and is also interested in science. Outdoors he enjoys riding his bicycle.

The children have pet goldfish which they take care of themselves. They both attend Sunday school at the First Presbyterian church.

Debbie and Randy love to go to their grandparents' summer cottage on Cedar Island, Pistakee Lake, Ill., where they spend the summer.

Their grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Sorby and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deehring, all of Chicago.

Little Fellow

Pictured last is Wayne Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Stanton of 511 Wing st., Arlington Heights.

Ten-month-old Wayne has light brown hair and blue eyes. He likes to play with his toys, and his favorite is a big Teddy bear.

This little fellow now walks around furniture, and he likes to ride on his little horse. Wayne also enjoys going for rides in the stroller.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ben Riley and Mr. and Mrs. John Stanton, all of Arlington Heights.

News Of Rolling Meadows

HELENE BRISTOL, Editor — 2104 South Street — CLearbrook 3-8125

Town Topic

If there ever was a subject discussed on every side, the incorporation of Rolling Meadows is definitely it. It seems that every meeting or telephone call between two Rolling Meadowites is at least partially taken up with the "city" proposal for our area. Whatever the decision of the voters, it certainly can't be blamed on lack of interest on the part of any resident. The phenominal success of the voting registration last week when over 400 residents turned out to add their names to the voting rolls is certainly proof of the vital concern of everyone on this issue. The attendance at the general meeting Sunday, January 9, is further proof. The careful attention of the audience to the explanations of Louis Ancel, attorney who handled the incorporation investigation and petition, as well as the response for several hours to the call for questions from the floor certainly proved to everyone present that residents of the area were not treating the subject lightly. Since it has now been announced that county judge Otto Kerner has postponed the election on the incorporation of Rolling Meadows until February 26, it should give residents plenty of time for further study of the problem and the advantages or disadvantages involved. It will also keep everyone in suspense for a month longer, but the seriousness of the issue certainly deserves all the study and consideration possible.

Welcome World

Monday, January 10, was a big day for little Susan and Diane Richard of 2307 Wren Lane. That was the day their new baby sister, Linda Mary arrived home from Cuneo hospital in Chicago with their mother Mrs. Harriet Richard. Linda Mary enrolled as a new citizen of Rolling Meadows on Friday, January 7 at 12:30 p.m., checking in at exactly 8 pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richard are mighty proud of their pretty new daughter, and are showing off the new addition to their new home in Rolling Meadows.

Their fourth daughter was the early Christmas present of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Werner of 2105 St. James st. Little Patti Jo arrived at St. Anne's hospital in Chicago December 18, and was home in Rolling Meadows to spend Christmas with her three proud sisters. The other three Werner young ladies are Kathy 3, Madeline 2, and little Romona who is only 1 year old. Mr. Werner has reluctantly packed away that electric train again, and is finally becoming resigned to his life in a feminine "harem."

Cub Scouts

A pack committee meeting was held Monday, January 10, at the Barn. The meeting dealt with a great many of the problems and plans of the Rolling Meadows Cub pack. One of the subjects which received the greatest attention was the monthly pack meeting of the Cub Scouts which is scheduled for Monday, January 17, at 7 p.m. in the Barn. The pack meeting in which all three Cub dens participate is open to parents and the public, and gives the boys a chance to show their parents what they are accomplishing in their Cub Scout work. Features of the meeting will be skits by the various dens, as well as a display and explanation by assistant Cubmaster Howard Christensen of 2200 Jay lane on HO gauge model railroad trains and related railroad subjects. Three new Cubs will receive their Bobcat buttons at the meeting. They are Robert J. Keller, 2903 Wilke rd., David Douglas, 2307 School dr., and Kenneth Peters, 2503 Fremont st. In addition, the pack will welcome Daniel Nelson who has just transferred to the Rolling Meadows pack from Evanston. If you have a son between the ages of 8 and 11 who would be interested in Cub Scout work, you are invited to contact a member of the pack committee who will gladly answer any questions you may have or enroll your son for Cub Scout work. If you will call Clearbrook 3-8288, Clearbrook 5-0851, or Clearbrook 5-0328, they will assist you in any way possible.

Happy Day!

Tuesday, January 11, was a big day in the life of little Dawn Lortie of 2306 Sigwalt st. That was the important day on which the cast which has enclosed her arm for over 5 weeks was removed by the doctor. Dawn, the little two year old daughter of Fran and Bill Lortie, fell from her youth chair a little over five weeks ago breaking her arm. Her long ordeal is finally over, and it seems almost strange to her little friends to see her without the cast which had almost become a trademark.

PTA

The Rolling Meadows PTA Room Mothers will hold a meeting Thursday, January 13, at 8:15 p.m. at the new Kimball Hill school. There will be a discussion of the plans for the coming months, as well as the general development of the school. In addition to the Rolling Meadows member of the Palatine PTA board Mrs. Gretchen White, Mrs. Sundling, president of the Palatine school district PTA board is expected to be present. All room mothers are urged to be present at the meeting if at all possible.

Out-of-Town Vistors

The usual post-holiday slump in activities certainly hasn't arrived at the home of Bud and Shirley Strentz of 2301 Bluebird ln. The Strentz family has been the very happy hosts to Bud's father, Mr. Al Strentz of Hayward, Wis., who has come down to the Chicago area to visit his family during those c-o-l-d months in the Wisconsin wilds. The extreme cold at this time of the year is well compensated for in the summer when Hayward becomes a vacation mecca for so many people, including the Strentz family.

Ann and Floyd Huffman of 2107 St. James st. have just bid a relunctant farewell to Mrs. Huffman's mother, Mrs. Ellery Adams of Lanesboro, Minn., who has just returned to her home after a visit of three weeks. Mrs. Huffman's father also visited his daughter and her family over the long Christmas weekend, but had to return to Minnesota earlier than his wife. The three Huffman children, Jimmie 6, Ronnie, 5, and Terry 1½, were mighty happy to have "grandma" with them for such a long visit.

Community Christmas Tree Burning

That B—I—G glow in the sky last Saturday night was the blazing effect of the community Christmas tree burning. The interest of the many youngsters on hand for the big fire was even further heightened by the presence of the Palatine rural fire department rig. The tree burning, under the sponsorship of the Home Owners' association, was arranged by Gordon Granger of 2105 Wing st. On hand for the actual torch setting was Dick Dewar of 2305 Wing st., a former Wilmette fireman. Special thanks should go to the many home owners who brought their trees to the burning site, as well as to Kimball Hill and associates for the use of the truck Saturday which made the tree collection possible. Working in the collection of the many trees which were left at the curb were Ken Schroeder, Al Piekarski, Don Dahlquist, John Doyle and Gordon Granger. Really lending a hand in the true Boy Scout tradition, and doing a man-sized job of hauling and piling trees were Don and Bob Carlson of 2415 South st. and Terry Loveless of 2408 Sigwalt. The boys pitched in and worked very hard to complete the big job in time for the burning. The community tree burning itself was a big success, and many people, especially the little tots, are eagerly looking forward to its repetition next year.

Birthday Parties

One section of Meadow dr. really saw its share of birthday celebrations last weekend. Two next-door neighbors, George Scheidler of 2309 Meadow dr. and Ray Sorensen of 2311 Meadow dr. found they had practically mutual birthdays, and a joint celebration was the inevitable result. Saturday, January 8, a party for both men was held by their wives, Shirley Sorensen and Dolores Scheidler, with Evelyn and Arnold Launhardt of 2403 Meadow dr. in attendance. Sunday, January 9, a family birthday party was held for George Scheidler. George hasn't made up his mind yet if it was coincidence or conspiracy that all of the gifts which he received were household tools, assuring him of plenty of spare-time work around the house.

Saturday, January 8, was a big day for little Linda Langhoff of 2300 Sigwalt st. On that day Linda celebrated her eighth birthday. Her birthday celebration was highlighted by the arrival of her grandfather from Atlanta, Ill., to be on hand for the party. Linda served her many little guests birthday cake and ice cream, while their mothers enjoyed cake and coffee with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Langhoff. Among her little friends who were present were Guy Earl and Diana May Jessogne of Arlington Heights; Linda Kay Vlaminck, Randy Kunz, Cindy Golz and Diane Poulsen of Rolling Meadows. Two other little invited guests, Judy Bjorkman of Palatine and Sandra Schinkowsky were unable to attend. Sandra's family was busy moving to their new home in Rolling Meadows on that day, and birthday parties just had to take second place to the moving operation.

Voting Registration

A further voting registration for eligible voters of the Rolling Meadows area has been set for Thursday, January 13, between 7 and 10 p.m. at the polling place at 2005 Campbell st. To be eligible for registration residents must be U.S. citizens, have resided in the state one year, in the county 90 days, and in the Rolling Meadows area 30 days. Since it was felt that the registration last Thursday, when so very many residents were registered, might have been missed by a few Rolling Meadowites, a group of four non-partisan citizens (Hank Schneider, Herb Hansen, Dan Danis, and Earl Young) requested a further registration night by the township clerk. Since the referendum on incorporation of Rolling Meadows has been postponed until February 26, those registering last week and this week will be eligible to vote on this important issue. If you are unable to register at the polling place here in Rolling Meadows this Thursday, you will still be eligible for registration with the township clerk in Palatine until January 18, when the registration rolls will be closed for the election.

Christening

The first baby to be christened at Our Lady of the Wayside church in the new year, from either Arlington Heights or Rolling Meadows, was little Nancy Flynn, the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Flynn of 2205 Wing st. Nancy was christened by Rev. O'Hara at the church last Sunday, January 9. Her godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doyle of Chicago. A special christening celebration was held following the ceremony. On hand for the happy occasion were Nancy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Curry of Chicago. Also from Chicago for the important occasion were family friends Mrs. Kelly and her daughter Patsy.

Those Canine Friends

Several times in the past we have reported complaints about dogs in Rolling Meadows. Unfortunately the complaints are coming in again at a fast and furious pace. Many new home owners, as well as those who have been settled now for a while, simply do not realize what complete nuisances their pets can be to their neighbors. No one, no matter how understanding they try to be, appreciates having their lawns which represent so much back-breaking work or their shrubs or evergreens which represent so much hard-earned money ruined by their neighbors' dogs during their daily walks. Furthermore, with the intense concentration of young children which we have in Rolling Meadows, the dog which is permitted to run loose becomes a menace to health and safety. No one wants to deprive their neighbor of their pet. It is a fairly simple matter to build a pen for your dog, or to set up a leash arrangement. It's up to the dog lovers and owners to do their part to keep community relations on the best possible plane.

Girl Scouts And Brownies

The first meeting of the Rolling Meadows Girl Scout Neighborhood association was held Wednesday, January 5, at the Kimball Hill school. Prior to this meeting Rolling Meadows Girls Scouts were part of the Palatine Neighborhood association. The Rolling Meadows Neighborhood association is now the local group responsible for all Girl Scout activities in the area, and must maintain the national and council policies and standards. It is, in turn, responsible to the board of directors of the Northwest Cook County council of which it is a part. The following officers were elected at the meeting: neighborhood chairman, Mrs. A. Wesley Sharples; vice-chairman, Mrs. William Van Wazer; secretary, Mrs. George P. Kitterman; nominating committee, Mrs. Fred W. Jespersen (chairman), Mrs. Roy Nordlund, and Mrs. Raymond Sorensen.

All registered adults, both men and women, in the Girl Scout program are members of the Neighborhood association. At present it includes seven leaders and co-leaders, fifteen troop committee members, the officers and two recently appointed members of council board committes. They are Mr. Abiathar White, who is serving on the finance committee; and Mr. Wing Groves who is serving on the camp committee.

A highlight of the meeting was the presentation of American and troop flags by Wing Groves, Al Piekarski and Pete Keller on behalf of the Home Owners' association to the two Brownie troops and the Intermediate troop. Mrs. Abiathar White, Mrs. William Self and Mrs. Aubrey Amundson, troop leatlers, accepted the flags on behalf of their respective troops. The Home Owners' association has ordered another set of flags for a newly-organized Intermediate troop under the leadership of Mrs. Fred Jespersen.

At the present time the Rolling Meadows Girl Scout program has grown to include 39 Brownies in two troops and 26 Girl Scouts in two Intermediate troops, and the enrollment is growing every week. It is a real tribute to the hard work of the many adult workers that so many girls are being adequately trained in the Scouting program, especially when the entire organization is so very new.

Following the flag presentation, Mrs. Osburn, professional Girl Scout worker, showed a film on the troop committee job and later spoke on that subject.

Family Celebrations

When Ginger and Wing Groves of 2207 Campbell st. took their two young daughters, Kathy and Mary Irene, back home to Springfield for a family visit, they really started a round of celebrations. The Grove family, who stayed with Mrs. Groves' mother, Mrs. Mae Kornack of Springfield, Ill. for three weeks, really needed that entire time to fit in the many family events which occurred. Besides Christmas and New Year's Eve, the Groves celebrated little Kathy's first birthday December 30; their own eighth anniversary December 21; the 15th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pfeifer, Mr. Groves' sister and her husband, December 30; Wing Groves' birthday January 2; and an early observance of little Mary Irene's third birthday on January 14. All these family parties, topped with the many holiday celebrations in their home town left the entire family exhausted and very happy to return home.

Little League

The Rolling Meadows Little League will hold its January meeting Sunday, January 16 at the Barn on Kirchhoff rd. Everyone interested in the baseball program for boys from 7 to 16 years of age is urged to attend. The Chairman of the Rolling Meadows Little League, Fred Schultz, personally invites all new friends and neighbors in the area to come and meet with the "men behind our boys" at 5 p.m. this coming Sunday.

Community Church

A "target date" of Sunday morning, February 20, has been set by the Community church as its "charter Sunday." Prior to that service, a working body of the congregation will pass on the acceptability of the charter. Before that time, the charter will be published and distributed for all people in the area to read. People who can sincerely subscribe will be invited to sign the charter at the February 20 Sunday morning service and become charter members. The charter will be broad and deep enough to embrace many traditions of the Christian faith. Emphasis will be on the Christian life rather than on controversial doctrine or theology.

Last Sunday morning, January 9, among the visitors present at the morning service were Dr. and Mrs. Robert K. Bell. Dr. Bell is the minister of the Flossmoor Community church which is one of the churches supporting the Community church here in Rolling Meadows.

The Mid-West Council of Community Churches will hold a planning committee meeting at the Barn Sunday afternoon, January 30, as guests of the Rolling Meadows Community church. There will be approximately a dozen community churches represented at this planning conference.

Junior Women's Club

The first meeting of 1955 for the Junior Women's club of Rolling Meadows was one filled with activity. Present at the meeting Monday night, January 10, at the Barn, were many distinguished visitors of the seventh district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. They were Mrs. Mary Beattie, junior director, who introduced her fellow guests to the Rolling Meadows club members: the Mesdames Kuntzman, Strictler, Imber, Persait, Rezner, Kirchhoff, Stolte, Nixon, Schroeder, and Busse. Also present were Mrs. Barnett, President of the Des Plaines Junior Women's club; Mrs. Otzen, president of the Arlington Heights Junior Women's club; and Mrs. Franzen of the Arlington Heights Women's club, who will be the contact chairman for the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's club for the coming year.

New Officers

New officers for the Rolling Meadows Junior Women's club were elected at the meeting. They are: Renee Jaremus, president, Billie Traub, first vice president; Charlotte Heitbrink, second vice president; Sue Schultz, recording secretary; Ginger Groves, corresponding secretary; and Pat Hoffman, treasurer. The new officers were installed to the offices with appropriate ceremonies by Mrs. Kuntzman, the president of the seventh district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. The officers were also presented with beautiful corsages which had been donated by Sauerland Flower shop.

Several important items of business were transacted during the meeting. The club voted to sponsor a Brownie troop in the Rolling Meadows area. Mrs. Jean Maszk of Wing st. was chosen to act as chairman of this committee. The club also voted to set up a project to investigate sponsoring a portion of the park or playground to be developed in Rolling Meadows. Mrs. Marguerite Rypkema was chosen to act as chairman of this committee.

The club also agreed to sponsor the "Mothers March on Polio" for the Rolling Meadows area. Mrs. Lucille Doyle was chosen to act as chairman of that committee, with Mrs. Stapleton, Mrs. Northcote, Mrs. Romolo, and Mrs. Glass as committee members. The night for the "March on Polio" has been set for Thursday, January 27 between 7 and 8 p.m. Residents wishing to contribute to the polio fund should turn on their porch lights during that hour and they will be contacted by a member of the Junior Women's club for their contribution. Since this is such a vital cause, it is hoped that everyone will contribute as generously as possible.

Following the business meeting of the club, coffee and cake were served. The table was decorated with a beautiful floral centerpiece donated for the meeting by Sylvia's Flowers. With the many beautiful home made cakes donated by club members, the table was extremely attractive.

New Year's Celebration

Almost overlooked in the reporting of the many New Year's parties held in Rolling Meadows was the party held by Joe and Lorie Stapleton of 2312 Wing st. Among the many guests present were George and Evelyn Mahoney, Paul and Barbara Fackler, Al and Mary Estrella, John and Mickey Mazonet, Leo and Marge Baumgart, Hank and Shirley Jaaksi, Dorothy and Leonard Scott, and Otto and Myrna Novak, all of Wing st. Also on hand for the celebration were Rose and Bud Taff of Lyons, Ill. and Betty and Jim Moran of Chicago. Highlighting the many New Year's festivities enjoyed at the party was an Irish Jig performed by George Mahoney which really made the party a memorable one.

Break Ground For New Hotel

Ground was broken last week for a new $3,000,000 hotel for Park Ridge. The new four-story building will contain 200 hotel rooms, 40 apartments, and 14 shops. It will be completed within a year.

Rolling Meadows Church To Apply For Full Time Student Pastor

In a meeting of the Lutherans of Rolling Meadows last Friday, it was unanimously decided to apply to The Lutheran church-Missouri synod for a full-time student pastor. He would begin his work sometime next summer and remain one year before returning to the theological seminary for the completion of his studies. The student pastors or vicars of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, and of Immanuel Lutheran Church, Palatine, have been serving the Lutherans of Rolling Meadows since last summer.

Temporary officers for the Lutheran group were also formally elected, namely, Luther Gruenbaum, chairman; Nicholas Derezotes, secretary; Aubrey Amundson, treasurer; Paul Werfelmann, head usher and Lynn Bozee, Sunday school superintendent.

Ladies of the community will hold their first informal meeting next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Amundson, 2400 N. Dove st. with a view of forming a Lutheran Ladies society. Holy communion will be distributed for the first time in the divine service held Sunday, Feb. 13. Fifty new Lutheran hymnals were purchased and used in the worship service for the first time last Sunday. Plans for a Lutheran choir as well as a lay workers committee will be discussed at the next monthly meeting. Sunday school and church attendance have been very gratifying, according to the officers. Divine worship is held every Sunday in the new public school, South and Meadow drive, at 10:30 a.m. and Sunday school at 9:15 a.m. in the same room.

To Sponsor Junior Television Program

The nation's first Junior Achievement television company will be sponsored by WBKB-TV.

Composed of 20 boys and girls from the Chicago area, the JA company will be called Tele-Chievers, Inc., a name selected by the young people at their first meeting. Purpose of the company is to educate and train in business fundamentals of TV and will include production and sale of the group's own program.

Tele-Chievers is organized along regular commercial lines with stock being sold at fifty cents a share. The group has voted to raise $150 initial capital through the sale of 300 shares of stock.

At present, the company is working on a video program dealing with the Junior Achievement movement. This will be the debut show of the series which will be seen each Tuesday, February 8 from 7 to 7:30 p.m. on Channel 7.

The program will be available for commercial sponsorship, and will also be a sales vehicle for more than 200 other Junior Achievement companies in the Chicago area which will offer their various products on the show. Telephone facilities will be provided so that viewers may phone in orders and recieve immediate delivery.

To Be Married

Patricia McGraph, 1239 N. Wilke, will be married January 22 to Harry L. Brown of Chicago in the St. Luke's Evangelical Lutheran church in Chicago. Pat is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McGraph, who moved to Virginia Terrace from Detroit in September. She has sung on television with the Wayne King orchestra. The McGraphs have a son, Richard, 16, who attends Arlington Heights high school.

Lorraine and Rolf Jensen, 1334 Race, had a New Year's eve party with some of their neighbors. Their guests were Nancy and Don Raymond, Pat and Bob Bauer, and Corrine and Don Green.

Christening

Ronald Jensen, 3 months old, will be christened next Sunday at the First Presbyterian church. His father, Rolf, will be baptized the same day. Lorraine and Rolf are planning a party following the christening. Guests will be the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Grand; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Jensen; and Mrs. Jensen's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Barnes and children of Waukesha, Wis. Another guest will be Mr. Jensen's sister, Miss Arline Jensen.

Guests

Gianna and Gordon Riefstahl, 1224 N. Race, had guests over the holidays. Gordon's aunt, Mrs. R. Cargolh of Fort Leonard, Mo., and a friend, Mrs. Fosdick of Des Moines, Iowa, paid the family a visit. Gianna and Gordon have a little girl, Linda, 2. Mr. Riefstahl is a buyer for Alden's mail order house.

The Bob Wileys, 1329 Race, moved from Oak Park in November. Bob and Ellen have three children,. Mary Anne, 5; Susan, 3, and Michael, 8 months.

Douglas Green will be 11 January 30. Douglas is the son of Corrine and Don Green, 1330 N. Race, and he attends Wilson school. The Greens moved from Palatine, and have another son, Tommy, 3.

Arriving at their new home December 31 were the J. Edgar Fennies, 1248 Illinois. J. Edgar and Margaret Mary moved from Chicago, and have an 8 month old son, Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Pence of Ludington, Mich., spent the Christmas holidays with their son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. James Pence, 1418 N. Race. Jim and Louise moved from Wheaton. Their son, Steve, was 3 on December 29.

First Birthday

Celebrating his first birthday next Sunday, January 16, will be Joseph Bauer. Joseph is the son of Pat and Bob Bauer, 1333 N. Race. He has an older sister, Jeanne, 3. Pat and Bob moved from Wilmette. Pat had a bridal shower last Saturday night for Helen Kagen. Eleven guests were present.

Maisie and Jim Sikorske, 1231 Race, moved from Chicago in September. They have two children, Jim Jr., 11½, and Cheryl, 8, who attend St. James school.

Pat and Bill Cotsakis, 1232 N. Race, moved from Franklin Park. They have a 3 year old boy, Fritzie. Pat spent a few days during the holidays visiting her family in Brown, Ill. Pat and Bill also entertained Pat's brother and his family from Los Angeles over the holidays.

Having 15 for Christmas dinner after moving in on December 23 was quite a feat for Marion and Edward Nielsen, 1252 Illinois. They have two children, Bradley, 7, who attends Wilson school, and Scott, 2½.

Bridge Party

Last Friday night, Dorothy and George Murray, 1433 Wilke, entertained their St. James Mothers Bridge tournament. The couples attending were Fran and Paul Colianni, Betty and Dan Kresbach, and Marguerite and Bob Scott.

In The Future

Sleeping bags, in the form of jungle animals whose heads are pillows, are in the Christmas market, supposed to help reconcile the 2-to-6-year-old to nap taking . . . Those numbered painting kits now come in a three-dimension variety in wood bas-relief . . A small slide rule has a mechanical pencil built in so the engineer or accountant can write down his calculations as fast as he makes them . . . In Florida

Graduated from the naval preflight school at Pensacola, Fla., was naval aviation cadet James K. McNeely of 502 N. State, Arlington Heights.

He is now assigned to the Whiting Field naval auxiliary air station, Milton, Fla., for primary flight training.

Home From Korea

Corp. Arthur H. Cameron Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Cameron Sr. of Schoenbeck rd., was released from military service Dec. 13, returning home from Korea where he had served with the 8th army since July 1953.

Corporal Cameron entered service Jan. 9, 1953, and took basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Following this he attended demolition school and on completion of the course there received a demolition specialists rating. He was a member of the 430 C.L.O. in Korea, which is a construction battalion. He has now returned to his previous occupation in Northbrook.

On open house in his honor was given by his parents at their home shortly after his return from service. Among the guests were his brothers and sisters from Evanston, Palatine and Des Plaines and other relatives and friends.

In Germany

Robert R. Wires, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wires, W. Bartlett rd., Bartlett, recently was promoted to sergeant in Germany, where he is serving with the 1st infantry division.

The "Big Red 1" division, in Europe since the Allied invasion of the continent in World War II, is now engaged in intensive training including realistic field problems and maneuvers.

A clerk in service battery of the division's 7th field artillery battalion, Sergeant Wires entered the army in January, 1953, and arrived overseas the following July.

In Far East

Marine S. Sgt. Ralph R. Stevens, son of Rev. and Mrs. Edwin Stevens of 100 E. ShaBonee Trail, and husband of the former Miss Theo Heide, all of Mount Prospect, arrived in the Far East December 20 to assume duties with Headquarters Squadron of the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea.

In Korea

Pfc. Arthur P. Bieber, 21, son of Clairmont P. Bieber, 515 W. Wilson, Palatine, recently spent a week's leave in Tokyo from his unit in Korea. Tokyo is Japan's largest metropolitan area and one of the largest cities in the world.

Bieber, a member of the 8240th army unit, entered the army in May 1953, and arrived overseas in June 1954.

Feehanville School

January meeting of the Feehanville PTA will be held on Tuesday, 8 p.m., at the schoolhouse.

Child Health conference will be held at 9 a.m. Tuesday, at the Forest River Community hall, Mrs. Jeanne Kramer, chairman.

Intermediate Girl Scouts are planning their troop birthday party for the last Thursday in January. Guests of the troop will be the new troop committee.

Brownie leaders are working very diligently with the fly-up patrol, getting them ready for the impressive ceremony when they will be graduating into the Intermediate Girl Scout group in the very near future.

Guild News

Mrs. Rita Badalamenti, chairman of Our Lady of Lourdes guild who attended the executive meeting of the Altar and Rosary society last Friday night, reports a full program for the open meeting to be held this Thursday. This meeting will be at 8 p.m. at St. Mary's scholl hall, and all guild members are welcome. The ladies are asked to bring "white elephants" to be exchanged at the meeting, progressive bunco will be played, refreshments served and there will be a door prize. At the meeting Friday Father Maginot commended the women highly for all the good work done through the year, much more than any one knows of. They have been taking care of sick mothers and children, have given toys and clothing to needy families, and this year they gave about a dozen Christmas baskets, which is the largest number they have given since this custom was started.

Fire Department

Forest River Volunteer Fire department regrets to report the resignation of John O'Boyle as treasurer. The trustees appointed a new officer, and the executive board now is as follows: Richard Kozel, fire chief; Charles Badalamenti, assistant fire chief; Harold Broberg, secretary, and Herbert Miller, treasurer.

Sports

In the basketball games last Friday, Prospect Heights vs. Wheeling, Prospect Heights won both games. Billy Phar and Tom Coryell were two of our boys on the team. Alan Van Dyke, former resident of the Feehanville district, had the unique experience of playing on a team against his former classmates. Included among the blue and white costumed cheerleaders who helped to cheer their team to victory was Janet Sandquist, also of this district.

Hi-C's came home from their first basketball game of the season last Thursday with one game chalked up to their credit. The boys from here who played were Robert Martens, Phil Roos, Robert Levine, and John Hanson, who is captain and coach. They are scheduled to play the Hinsdale Hi-C next Thursday at the Hawthorne school gym, Ridgeland and Washington st., Oak Park.

Boys' Brigade basketball team, coached by Emert Roos and composed of Robert Martens, Phil Roos, Robert Levine, Bud and Butch Meyer, George Grenda and John Hanson, captain, lost their first game of the season with Villa Park last Saturday night. They played at the Emmaus gym in Oak Park. Their captain feels they didn't do too badly as the boys had never practiced together as a team. A good sized cheering section came along to give moral support. Saturday night the Bridadiers will try to win their first game when they play Wheaton at the same gym.

Boys' Brigade were planning to attend the film showing of "Dead Men on Furlough" at the Prospect Heights Baptist church.

Community News

Mrs. Alma Mueller, who has had a long siege in the hospital, is home again and regaining her health and vitality rapidly.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hendricksen and children, Janeen, Danny and Jackie, were guests of the A. R. Hansons last Sunday.

Mrs. Lucille Zeravich will be entertaining the Birthday club today, Thursday.

Birthday greetings to Ronald Follett, who was 7 on January 9; Elizabeth Susan Messner, who was 11 on the ninth; Christine Kramer, who was three on the ninth, Ronald Laverdure, who was three on the tenth; Keith Campbell, who was 14 on the twelfth, and Judy Munson, who was 12 on the twelfth.

Meeting Tonight

Prospect Meadows Property Owners association meets at 424 Larkdale lane tonight. The time is 8 p.m.!

Scout News

The intermediate scouts are meeting no more! The troop has been temporarily disbanded. How temporary it is, depends upon a meeting place. To date the scouts have been gathering at the Doyle home. However, the busy Doyle household cannot continue to hold these weekly meetings. If the troop is to keep operating, one of two things must be done. Either the mothers of the girls will have to take turns having the group in their homes or the scouts will have to seek a meeting place outside the community. If that is the case, then the mothers will have to form a car pool to transport the girls.

It seems a shame that the Meadows might lose a girl scout troop because of this problem. Next year enrollment of intermediates promises to be quite large. Parents — if you are interested or have a solution, by all means contact Mrs. Doyle. She has devoted a lot of time and effort to keep the scouts going, but she cannot do it alone!

The brownies met January 4 at the Revus home. Since the girls had just gone back to school after Christmas vacation no one was quite ready to begin a project, so the time was spent playing games.

Cub Scout News

Last Friday the cub scouts met for a relaxing evening of story telling. They are starting to plan for their next pack meeting at North school in Arlington Heights January 28.

Birthdays

Dawn Hearl was 8 years old January 6, so last Saturday she had a party. To the delight of her guests, they were taken to the Arlington theater where they enjoyed a Roy Rogers western and Three Stooges comedy, plus a half-dozen cartoons. After the movie they all returned to the Hearl household for ice cream and cake. The party began at 1 p.m. and ended at 6 p.m. and many a mother enjoyed an unusual afternoon of quiet. Guests were: Janice LeForge, Dottie Ann Daniels, Susan Finch, Jan Carlson, Ginger Johnson, Marilyn Born, Dorothy Schons, and Ellen Kay Edwards. Dawn's younger brother, Ray, was the lucky escort of all these young "lovelies."

Susan LeForge had two parties last week. Monday she celebrated her third birthday. Guests were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Retchin and also Mr. and Mrs. J. Goldber and family. Then Tuesday she entertained her little friends Debbie and Jay Peregrine, Mike Pelletier and her sister Judy LeForge.

The virus which has been traveling around the neighborhood took its toll last Saturday. Little Carol Waldron celebrated her third birthday then but a half-dozen of her friends were unable to attend her party. However, those who did had a lively time "pasting" the tail on the donkey. Present were Dolores Schons, Judy Kemppainen, Susan and Sharon Larson and Marcy Vosburgh.

Boughs Bow Out

Folks who wondered what plans the boys and girls of the neighborhood had for those abandoned Christmas trees found out Saturday night. Ever since the finery was packed away and the denuded trees "planted" outside in the snow, boys and girls have been busy collecting them. They made quite a mound in the backyard of the David Careys of Oriole lane. Then at 9 p.m. Saturday, they put a flame to the trees and enjoyed the sight and aroma of a pine tree fire.

Another Birthday

Bruce Blim celebrated his seventh birthday December 31 with an unusual party. He and his guests enjoyed over an hour of cartoons right in the Blim home. Mother and dad rented a projector and films for the occasion. Bruce's guests were Dennis Battagelia, Craig Schroeder, Stevie Boltz, Dickie Moeller, Bobbie Orlowsky, Greg Werheim, Billy Kneller, Terry Kereszturi, and Bobby Jarm.

ARLINGTON GREENS

Association Meets

The Arlington Greens community association held its regular monthly meeting January 4 at the North school. Featured was a movie entitled "Here is your High School." Mr. John Griffith, an instructor at the Arlington high school, officiated at the showing of the movie.

The making of the film was begun last September and completed in November. The movie has been shown to the students and is now available to all civic groups. Arlington Greens community association was the first group to take advantage of this interesting film and recommends it to all who are interested in the local high school.

Following the movie, the meeting was called to order by Robert Swanson, president. Plans for a square dance were announced by the chairman of the social committee, Jack Kerz. The dance will be held February 19 at Zur-Alten-Heimat, also known as Fred's Place, located at Rand rd. and Route 83. Tickets will be $1 per person. More information will be announced at the next regular meeting.

Amendment Proposed

Further business of the meeting was the proposal by the members to amend the by-laws of the association. The proposed amendment will extend the west boundary line of the association to State rd., thereby including the new homes known as Arlington Greens Unit No. 2. Ballots will be delivered to all members in good standing. Robert Swanson has requested that all ballots be filled out as directed and be mailed to him before February 1 or be delivered to the next regular monthly meeting, at which time ballots will be counted by a duly appointed election committee. A two-thirds majority of the votes cast will be necessary for adoption of the amendment.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Josetti, 1156 Hickory, are parents of a baby boy, Ti Edward, born December 30 at Resurrection hospital. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 7½ ounces. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lally and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Josetti. Ti Edward has a sister, Kathleen, and a brother, James.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Berger 1145 Douglas, have a new baby daughter, Robin Kaye, born January 10 at Resurrection hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds, 15½ ounces. The Bergers also have a son, Reed, 1 year old. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Berger of Pittsburgh and Mr. Hugh Lamley, of Detroit.

Christening

Constance Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Johnson, was christened January 9 at St. James Catholic church. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. James Greubel. Following the christening, a dinner was served at the Johnson home.

Jeffrey Rasek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rasek, celebrated his fifth birthday January 7 by being host to his playmates and cousins Saturday afternoon. Guests were Alice Bjorklund, Diane Ravas, Billy Morrisett, Dwight Weghorst, Francine, Sandra and Walter Mazurek, Sharon Stanley, and Debbie Mazurek. In the evening, a family dinner was held in Jeffrey's honor. Guests were his aunts and uncles, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wedgorst of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. W. Mazurek of Cicero; Mr. and Mrs. C. Strba of Berwyn; and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mazurek of Peru, Ill.

Three Birthdays

Ralph Morrisett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morrisett, celebrated his eighth birthday January 9. Dinner was served at the Morrisett home to celebrate his birthday and also the birthdays of his father and mother, January 13 and 10, respectively. Guests at the birthday dinner were Ralph's maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Nicolaisen; his uncle Willard Nicolaisen; another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Nicolaisen Jr., and his brother, Billy.

North Suburbs Show Sales Drop On County-Wide Basis

Although Evanston retained first place among Chicago suburbs in the amount of state sales taxes paid during October, northern suburbs generally did not show up too well in the latest retailers' occupational tax report of the state department of revenue.

EVANSTON merchants paid $204,232 as 2 per cent of sales made during October, keeping its first place record intact. But the second best showing in northern Cook county, Des Plaines, was only seventh on a county-wide basis, and Skokie, the third best north suburb, was tenth in the county as a whole.

Des Plaines retailers paid taxes of $57,372 on October sales, reflecting increased business over July and August, and Skokie merchants paid $50,686, likewise showing a business improvement over the two summer months.

THE THREE northern county leaders were followed by Park Ridge, where taxes of $36,623 in October put it in 15th place in the county as a whole; Wilmette, $31,646 (17th); Arlington Heights, $31,417 (18th); Winnetka, $28,604 (20th) Glenview, $23,037 (22nd); Lincolnwood, $15,305 (up to 79th place from 31st in August with taxes then of $12,760); Mount Prospect, $14,827 (31st) and Palatine, $14,593 (32nd place, county-wide).

Next in line among northern suburbs were Barrington, taxes of $12,474 (34th place); Northbrook, $12,444 (35th); Morton Grove, $11,714 (37th) and Niles, $9,606 (41st).

Niles actually showed a drop in business, since July taxes were $9,901 and August taxes totaled $10,266. Niles was also in 41st place for fiscal year 1954, but this was an improvement over fiscal 1953, when it was in 51st place.

GLENCOE, with taxes of $7,172 on October sales, was in 45th place; Norwood Park, $7,132 (47th); Wheeling, $4,961 (55th); Hubbard Woods, $3,967 (59th); Northfield, $2,957 (62nd); Bartlett, $1,630 (72nd).

Kenilworth, with October taxes of $1,231 was in last place among northern suburbs, but only 77th among all suburbs, and had better business than had Palos Park, Phoenix, Robbins, Justice, Burnham and Posen in the south and Berkeley and Congress Park among western suburbs.

They Help Industry Keep Up With Modern Age of Science

An Arlington Heights business organization devotes its talents to spurring industry to catch up with the modern age.

"Engineering and scientific technology is so far ahead of current manufacturing methods and equipment that there is a constant need for training and distribution of that technology in all industry," declared Walter M. Dill, senior partner of Dill, Clitherow and co., management consultants.

THE FIRM, whose office during the past 18 months have been located at 6 N. Dunton, moved this week into new quarters at 316 S. State rd. The Chicago office is 55 E. Washington st.

Their current claim to fame is the unique "simplified motion standards," a system for determining best methods of measurement of work without using the controversial stop watch. This new method also helps promote better employee relations by making improved work methods a cooperative effort between labor and management.

"Gone are the days when it was customary to reduce work forces arbitrarily and promiscuously in order to save money," said Dill. "Now we train people to see how improved methods are done and enlist their cooperation in putting new techniques into practice which increases output without reducing the work force."

Gone, too, are the days when labor was considered as merely another commodity.

"IN INDUSTRIAL engineering, we treat the human factor as predominant," explained the partner. "Workers are not automons; they must be regarded as humans. Through our program, they are treated more fairly. We seek to promote a clearer understanding of the employees' job and his problem."

There is a fear among working people that advanced technology and streamlined industrial operations mean fewer jobs.

"We are educating people to realize that new jobs are created out of industrial advancement," declared Dill. "The spread of better manufacturing methods means a high standard of living for all."

Dill, Clitherow and Co. brings a varied experience of special techniques to industrial problems.

THEY ASSIST new firms in designing efficient, functional plant layouts and help established plants revise existing layouts for maximum benefit. Also, they determine normal output and cost, suggest simplifications in motion patterns to make work easier without a great deal of additional expense.

A comprehensive training program is offered by the company, which includes specialization in industrial engineering, job evaluation, budgetary control, and organizational procedures.

At their new offices above the Charles H. Wilson real estate office, they will be able to conduct training classes for amall industrial plants unable to afford large-scale training sections.

The other senior partner in the firm is John R. Clitherow. Associate partners are Dr. R. A. Richter and Richard W. Johnson. Dill and Richter are residents of Arlington Heights.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Expand Into the Attic!

MODERNIZING an attic is a cinch nowadays, with modern building materials. It's a wonderful way to add a room or two.

For a permanent installation, as shown, use 4 x 8-foot panels of Masonite Panelwood, a durable hardboard which was designed for this purpose. They go into place quickly, right over the studs, and you can use them on the ceiling too, cut into smaller pieces, as illustrated.

Lightly bevel the edges with a beveling tool, plane, file or sandblock, and permit the adjoining panels to come into moderate contact—the space of a dime, approximately.

These durable, splinter-free panels may be primed and painted, or they may be tinted.

If a flexible floor covering is used, be sure to install Panelwood, or Masonite Underlayment, over the rough flooring or existing finish flooring. The panels are applied in four-foot squares, and their use prevents the asphalt tile or linoleum from showing premature wear.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. I recently applied for employment and gave the three references requested. Someone has told me since that this was a rude thing to do without first asking permission to use those names. Is that correct?

A. Ordinarily, you should ask permission first. But if time does not allow this, you should inform those persons that you took the liberty of using their names as reference.

Q. Is it proper for the bridegroom to give his bride something for the home as his wedding gift?

A. Ths is not customary. His special gift to her should be something for her own personal adornkind.

Q. Should the candles on the dinner table be lighted after the guests have seated themselves?

A. No; they should be lighted immediately before dinner is announced.

Q. What are the duties of the maid-of-honor while the marriage ceremony is taking place?

A. She stands nearest the bride, takes her bouquet or prayer book while the ring is being put on, returning them at the proper time, and arranges the bride's train when she turns from the altar to proceed up the aisle after the ceremony.

Q. Is it obligatory to reply to letters of condolence?

A. Yes; send brief letters of thanks to everyone who has sent flowers or personal letters.

Q. Is it permissible to sip water while one has food in one's mouth?

A. This is considered very bad manners.

Q. I have been invited by a boy to attend a fraternity dance, and he has made reservations for me in the hotel in that town. He has offered to pay the bill, but my mother says this is wrong. What is correct?

A. You pay both your traveling and hotel expenses. Any entertainment expenses during your visit, of course, are paid by your escort.

Q. Is it proper to send out wedding invitations and announcements in the name of the bride's brother, if their parents are dead?

A. Yes; this is quite often done.

Q. Is it the girl's privilege to select the table when entering a restaurant with a male escort?

A. No; she should allow her escort to do this.

Q. Should the parents of a child reprimand him if he misbehaves at the dinner table in the presence of guests?

A. It is better not. Either the father or mother should quietly take the child away from the table. He should not be scolded or punished in the presence of the guests — but neither should the misbehavior be ignored.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

How spiritual understanding of God as divine Life opens the door to healthier, happier living will be set forth in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" at Christian Science services Sunday, January 16.

Selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include the following from Psalms (66:8, 9): "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selection will be among those read (487:27): "The understanding that Life is God, Spirit, lengthens our days by strengthening our trust in the deathless reality of Life, its almightiness and immortality."

The Golden Text is from John (17:3): "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

Elmhurst Plans Off St. Commuter Parking

The possibility of four additional off-street parking sites for Chicago and North Western commuters in Elmhurst will be discussed by city and railway officials.

The CNW has asked for one-third of the meter revenue, but the city expected to make most of the areas for free commuter parking or for just loading and unloading zones.

Barrington Census

Barrington's interim census will start January 3.

The door-to-door survey, expected to take two weeks, was requested by village officials who hope that increased population will bring Barrington more motor fuel tax from the state.

Wedgewood Terrace

More Newcomers

The James Nykodems and the Henry Herouts are just a few doors apart now that they moved from North Riverside on December 18. Wedgewoodites became acqainted with the James Nykodems a couple of weeks ago through this column; now here is a report of the Herouts.

Mrs. Herout and Mrs. Nykodem are sisters and their mother, Mrs. Mary Atradovec, lives with the Herouts, whose address is 105 W. Euclid.

Mr. Herout, as do Mr. and Mrs. Nykodem, works for the Vapor Heating corporation in Niles. He is assistant foreman in the fabrication department.

Living in Berwyn is the Herouts' daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Najdl, and the apple of the grandparent's eyes is 14-month-old Leland, son of the Najdls.

Occupying quite a large space in the Herout household is Ginger, their Saint Bernard dog.

An absorbing interest of both Mr. and Mrs. Herout is traveling and to do this in the style that they wish to, they have a house trailer which was soon due to arrive on the premises.

Interesting statistic: five children born to Wedgewood Terrace people within the year of 1954 and all five boys. This according to your reporter's records and when the families lived in Wedgewood. The Bruce Corbetts, the Clyde Houses, the Bob Walshes, the Samuel Hartnesses and the Leo Kukulksis were the parents. Was anyone left out? Two first sons, two second sons, and one third son is this list, and two were second children, two third children and one a fifth child of the family.

Begin Course For Girl Scout Leaders Of NW Area

Program building institute which is being offered to adult Girl Scouts in the council of Northwest Cook county, January 18, 9:30 to 2:30 p.m. at the Congregational church in Des Plaines will be of value to all leaders of Brownies through Senior Scouts. It will cover programs of all grades.

Mrs. W. W. Osburn, executive director of the council, Mrs. J. W. Harding, field director, and all volunteer trainers will coperate in presenting the courses.

Participants are reminded to bring their own nosebag lunches including coffee or beverages.

The following week an initial group leadership course will begin January 26. This will be held at the Arlington Heights high school and will run from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. every Wednesday evening for ten weeks. Mrs. Osburn will be the leader.

Registration fee for the latter course is $1.

This training is basic for new leaders and troop committees and other adults new in Girl Scouting. It includes information about girls, activities, program planning, troop government, Girl Scouts aims and resources.

Those who wish to take training should register with their neighborhood chairmen a week before the course starts.

Dr. Lewis Is Chairman Of Guidance Forum

Dr. W. A. Lewis, 904 S. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect, is chairman of the second of an annual series of guidance forums for Latin American students to be held at noon, January 15 at Abbott hall, 710 N. Lake Shore drive, Chicago.

Reservations for luncheon may be made through Dr. Lewis, dean of the graduate school, Illinois Institute of Technology. "Puerto Rico, Our Ambassador of Good Will" is the subject of the forum which is open to the public and sponsored by the Pan American Institute of Educational Relations of the Pan American Board of Education.

The PAIER is concerned with the problems of students and trainees from Latin American countries who have come to the United States for educational purposes. It endeavors to bring together the people of this area who are interested in these problems and in the foreign visitors.

Q. Whose duty is it to see that the bride and bridegroom's car is ready and waiting for them at the wedding reception?

A. The best man should attend to this.

Bikini Salesman Starves To Death In The 'Land Of The Veil'

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Afghanistan

In this land where women hold tightly to the wearing of veils, a bikini salesman would starve to death—unless he were first run out of town!

A veil is synonymous with virture, reason the Afghans, and any proper girl would never show her naked face in public. It would be labelled indecent exposure!

When foreign women appear on Afghan streets, they are spit at with all the temper and hatred of offended moralists. An American woman, for instance, who dared walk in the bazaar with her face exposed would be ready for the bathtub within ten minutes:

WHEN AN AFGHAN girl reaches the age of fourteen, her elders (the wise ancients) throw a veil over her head with some ceremony and pronounce that thereafter she shall never be seen by any man except her husband and close relatives.

Afghan girls generally cry and resist their first veil with all the vigor of a trapped animal, but the forces of decency make her conform. And then after a few years when she is fully adjusted to the idea, she helps to make others abide by the custom. Every Afghan who spits at the bare-faced foreign women in disgust, was once herself a crying, struggling young girl quite opposed to the hood. (Except the ugly ones, of course!)

ONLY WOMEN who do not accept wearing veils are the nomads. Unashamedly. they are prepared to look any man in the eye. exposing cheeks, mouth and nose, just like a brazen hussy!

It isn't hard to imagine that these two classes of women conflict. But the nomads feel that village and city life is degrading anyway, so that they keep away from these settlements as much as possible. When the paths of the city dwellers and the nomads do meet, however saliva does not fly. The nomad women are tough, and they might take a notion to tear off their attacker's veil, right along with all of her other clothing.

MANY OF THE higher government officials of Afghanistan would prefer that this veiling custom did not exist. But it is apparently too deeply ingrained in the people to permit an early liberation. When a man goest to visit his best friend, for instance, he generally had to wait outside until the women of the house don their veils.

The Afghan government, people say, does not feel itself strong enough to ban veil wearing outright. That is what was done in Turkey—with the police club to enforce the law—and the custom was erased in no time at all. But the Afghans are a different, perhaps more independent, lot. They even threw one of their kings out because somebody exhibited a falsified photo of his highness in a bathing suit on a beach in Europe!

But then, what man fit to rule a country would attire himself in such a scanty fashion, anyway?

In-And-About Chicago Music Club To Meet

Roosevelt college, Chicago, will be host to the In-and-About-Chicago Music Educators Club for the club's third meeting of the current season January 15.

Miss Helen Schwinn, chairman of the department of music education at Roosevelt college, will be in charge of arrangements and will represent the college as hostess for the meeting.

Bruce Warnock, Highland Park, will conduct a review and preview of the latest musical audio-visual aids at 10 a.m.

The group will adjourn to the Congress hotel for a luncheon at 12:30.

Lecture At N.U.

"America and Two Nations of Englishmen" will be discussed by an English historian at 8 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 20, on Northwestern University's Evanston campus.

The talk by Frank Thistlethwaite will be given in lecture room 3 of the University's technological institute, Sheridan rd., at Noyes st. Free and open to the public, it is second in Northwestern's current Century fund lecture series.

Classes At YMCA

Do you worry because your photographs always look like the inside of a tunnel at midnight? Then you will like the photography courses in the Learning for Living program for men and women at Central YMCA, 19 S. La Salle st., Chicago. They are among the 81 different informal Winter classes meeting one evening at week starting January 17.

Park Ridge Opens New Art Theater

Park Ridge cleebrated the opening of a second theater last week. The new Park Avenue Cinema at Vine ave. and Park Place plans to show foreign and art films as well as special matinees for children on Saturday and Sunday.

The movie is located in the old Ridge theater which had been abandoned for more than 20 years.

Arlington Pointing For Second League Win At Hinsdale

THURSDAY, JAN. 13, 1955

Covering Northwest and West Suburban Sports

MAC SAYS

— by G. A. McElroy

IT WAS A RECORD NIGHT at Arlington Heights high school gym Saturday when York took the measure of the Cardinals, 96-51. Three floor marks were broken, including most points by one team (96), by both teams (147), and high individual (35) by York's Don Anderson.

Old record of most points by one team (77) was held jointly by:

LaGrange against Arlington, Jan. 23, 1953.
Maine against Libertyville, Mar. 5, 1953 (regional).
Barrington against Maine, Mar. 6, 1953 (regional final).
New Trier against Oak Park, Mar. 12, 1953 (sectional).

Former mark of most points by both teams (143) was held by Elgin and New Trier in the 73-70 Elgin win Mar. 13, '53, in the sectional final. Barry Berghorn of Barrington held the former individual mark (34) tallied against Maine Mar. 6, 1953, in the regional final. Only floor record still standing is most points scored by a losing team (70) by New Trier.

Frosh-soph marks currently standing at Arlington: most points by winner (86), Arlington against Palatine Jan. 23, 1954; most points both teams (128), Arlington against Maine Feb. 26, 1954; individual (38), John Sujack against Palatine; highest by losing team (56), Maine against Arlington. Those frosh-soph marks are particularly outstanding, considering the preliminaries all have seven minute quarters, one less than the varsity.

PATINE'S UPSET of the so-called invincible Antioch Sequoits should give other teams a little more confidence when meeting Scott's team. This column predicted prior to the season and continued to remind fans that Antioch would take all by 10 points or more. We are certainly happy to be wrong with Palatine proving the fact.

Our version of the game Friday is that in addition to shooting an uncanny average from the floor, Palatine played a very good defensive game, but the contest was really decided at the back boards where the Pirates had a decided edge.

Considering the way Barrington out rebounded Palatine we cannot see Antioch beating out the Bronchos or Elgin this year in tournament play. Antioch does not have the height to go far in state play. Palatine pulled a special type of zone defense on the Sequoits designed to cover their strength.

Antioch never got ahead the entire second half and was forced to play Palatine's game. That was their downfall. Most Palatine fans and players were glad the game ended when it did for the visitors were coming fast at the finish.

NORMAN LADD, Ela-Vernon Coach, was the only one we talked to who was not surprised at the outcome. He recalled the second half when his team was overpowered at Palatine and thought that more of the same would cause trouble for the best of them. Of course Ladd's boys had not yet played Antioch.

They meet the Sequoits on the road this week and are likely to be in a vicious comeback mood. Antioch lost to Warren, 44-42, the night after the Palatine game and will be out to redeem their slipping fortunes against Ladd's Ela-Bears.

Coach Moylan of Palatine told us early in the season he would take at least one of the Antioch games. We did not take him seriously then but he certainly brought his boys up a long way in the last month to take the big one. This game ought to help the Pirate rating for tournament seeding and should improve attendance at Palatine games the rest of the season.

THE MEN'S TOURNAMENT is now history, the women's division is still to run at Arlington Heights this Sunday. That tells the tale of Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments. The crowd at Palatine, particularly during the 3:15 and 5:30 shifts, certainly attests to the success of the tourney involving first place teams of 42 men's leagues.

This week it will be 22 women's aggregations who'll be competing for six trophies and almost $175 in prize money.

New records were numerous, including the oldest kegler in the three years of the meet, 81-year-old Carl Hansen of Wood Dale. Also competing were Roy, Carl and Bob Hansen, Wood Dale brothers but no relation to the older kegler. "The Hansen boys" have two more bowling brothers at home.

TOURNAMENT ASSIGNMENTS are out and the region locally to which Palatine and Arlington Heights belong has the same membership as a year ago, with the site shifted to Glenbrook. Only change in the area is Niles shifted to make way for the new school, North Chicago.

Niles moves from the Waukegan region into the one to the

Palatine Fans Hope Team Won't Have 'Let Down'

This week the Northwest conference completes the first round of play in a schedule in which each team meets each of the others twice. Palatine closes the first round at Grayslake. The Rams have a weak team by most standards but are improving. They soundly trounced their alumni during the holidays and beat Maryville and Salem, Wis.

Coach Gene Moylan is on guard against a let-down in his Palatine team after the Antioch victory. Palatine has a real incentive to keep on winning now that they are deadlocked with the Sequoits for first place.

AFTER PLAYING at Grayslake Friday the Pirates return for a home game Saturday night against Maine of the West Suburban conference. A lot of local fans will be out Saturday to see if the Pirates can dish out more of the stuff they served up to Antioch a week ago.

Maine has been having an in and out season but Palatine must play very good ball to whip the boys from Des Plaines and Park Ridge.

BENSENVILLE will finish the first round of conference play as host to the up and coming Grant Bulldogs, a team to reckon with the rest of the season. Grant lost six and then turned around and won five in a row including two victories over Wauconda.

Sirotzki is still the only consistent scorer for the Bisons. Little Kenneth got 22 Friday at Ela, including 14 out of 16 free throws for two more points than the rest of his team accumulated.

IN OTHER league games Glenbrook should make a strong bid for their fourth win at Wauconda and Ela-Vernon tests the Antioch Indians in their home wigwam.

George Severance of Ela got only 14 points against Bensenville but he did not need more. At Antioch, Coach Ladd hopes Severance has his hot night of the year to help Ela scalp Scott's Sequoits.

Saturday night Woodstock will be at Antioch, Grayslake at Libertyville, Zion-Benton at Wauconda, and Salem, Wisconsin at Grant.

Arlington Jr. High Splits At Glenview

Glenview Jr. high school heavyweights eked out a narrow victory Friday over Coach Bob Spinks' Arlington Jr. high cagers, 32-31.

Despite a third quarter spurt which spun Arlington into a four-point lead, Glenview rallied in the final quarter for the win on their home court.

The final score could have been different if Arlington had scored on more than one of its eight attempted free throws in the fourth quarter.

SCORING FOR the Heights were Whitelaw, Thoms, Dodge, Garr, Meehan, Barbour, and Grosby.

Glenview points were made by Mitchell, Leinss, Mead, Neuman, and Crawford.

Arlington Jr. lightweights, however, compensated for the heavyweight's bad luck by tromping Glenview, 41-8, in a game which saw Glenview out-scored and outplayed.

THE GLENVIEW cagers not once came close to giving Arlington a "run for their money" and scored only once in the first half with a successful free throw.

Scorers for Arlington were Doubble, Benrud, Pratt, Booner, Curati, Kdagess, Gustafson, and Dikes.

Glenview scoring was made by Clerk, Farmer, Begg, and Mason.

Friday, January 14, Arlington Heights Junior high school will meet Park Ridge in the Arlington gym at 3:15 p.m.

Haseman Truckers, the power team of the Paddock tournament and champions three years ago, came through with 960 and 995 games Sunday afternoon to take top honors in the 42 team meet. They finished with 891 for a 3041 gross, enough to withstand the onslaught of 12 more squads on later shifts.

To the winners belong the smiles, with five of them evident, above. The squad represented the Palatine House lague, one of the fastest kegling loops in this area. Kneeling, left to right, Marv Perry and Howard Olsen. Standing, Vince Shubat, Irv Hahnfeldt and Joe Cordulack. —Staff Photo

Women To Bowl Tourney Sunday

This time it's the women.

The men held the bowling spotlight last Sunday at Palatine where 42 teams competed for honors in Paddock Publications Inter-league Handicap tournament. Haseman Truckers won.

This Sunday, though, the women will have their chance to compete for six trophies and $165 in prize money in the tournament at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

22 SQUADS will roll on four shifts at Heights, the first ones opening play at 1 p.m. Others will go on at 3:30, 6:00 and 8:30.

Complete list of squad times, starting alleys, present averages, and probably handicaps are listed elsewhere on this page.

All that remains is the bowling, and the shouting.

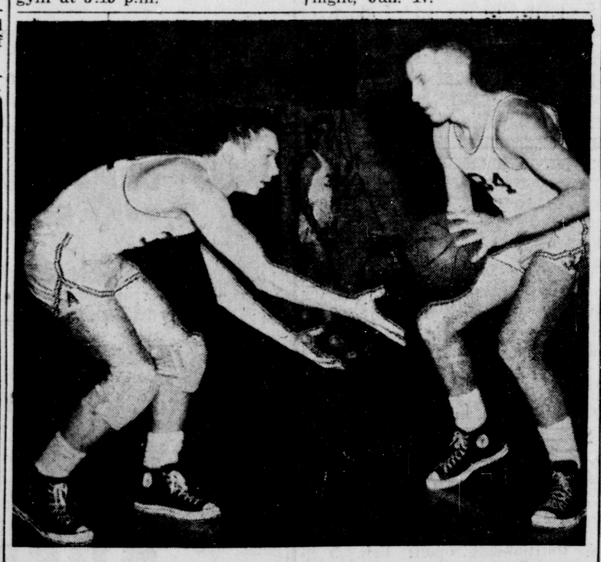
"ROOKIE" BROWN will be one of the cast when the Harlem Globetrotters are featured in a basketball doubleheader at Arlington Heights high school Monday night, Jan. 17.



These two Cardinals are seeing plenty of action this season for Arlington Heights high school. John Sujack, right, rated a good feeder as well as among top scorers in the West Suburban league. John is one of the juniors certain to be even more outstanding in his senior year.

Hinsdale Slight Favorite; F-S Game Even

Arlington Heights high school basketeer travel to Hinsdale Friday night in their usual quest—their second West Suburban league victory.

Hinsdale rules the favorite, though the Cardinals are determined to play the game their way. Hinsdale is currently in fifth place with Arlington, plus Riverside and Maine, all tied for sixth.

The Cardinals have been increasing their scoring per quarter as the season wears on, and the Hinsdale game could be one in which they will win. The Red Devils lost to Glenbard and LaGrange last weekend by 28 and 20 points, teams which whipped the Cardials by 13 and 7.

FROSH-SOPH contest should be an even affair. Heights is just one lap ahead of Hinsdale in the league standings. Hinsdale lost to Glenbard by three and to LaGrange by 22. Heights lost to the young Bards by 13 and to LaGrange by 7.

In other games about the West Suburban league Glenbard should win at Maine, York should be a selfish host to Riverside and the Downers-LaGrange affair should be a closie with the edge to the Lions.

Other Heights activities include wrestling at Riverside Thursday afternoon, gymnastics against New Trier Friday night, JV and frosh basketball at Hinsdale Saturday morning, JV basketball at Palatine Monday afternoon, and frosh basketball at Niles Monday afternoon.

Arlington Ski Yumper In Norge Meet Sunday

Dick Brodnan, Arlington Heights youngster with several years ski jumping behind him, will compete in the senior division for the first time in his life Sunday, Jan. 16, when the annual Norge meet is held on the slide at Fox River Grove.

The meet has been an annual affair the third Sunday in January for more years than this reporter likes to remember. But rarely has there been "a local angle." This time, though, Dick Brodnan will be in action and carrying the interest of area fans.

DICK WILL BE competing in Class C, as do all 16 and 17-year-olds. His most recent win was at Westby, Wisconsin, where he won junior class. This past Sunday he competed at Beloit.

Dick's younger brother, Dave, is also "a yumper" but has slowed a bit in performance of late. Their cousin, Larry Schroeder of Arlington Heights, recently broke a leg while practic jumping at Ishpeming, Mich., but intends to resume the difficult sport next year after some water skiing warmups during the summer.

DICK HAS BEEN receiving some valuable hints from Art Tokle, Number 1 skier for the Norge club, in a week's training in Wisconsin, and is the youngest jumper ever tutored by Tokle. Tokle, Art Devlin, and plenty of others will be on hand for the Norge meet Sunday at Fox River Grove.

Ski fans can best reach the jump by driving up the newly widened Northwest highway directly to Fox River Grove, then cutting back northeast on route 22 where state police will be on hand to direct cars to the best parking areas.

Haseman Truckers Win Paddock Meet

A determined bunch of bowlers representing Haseman Truckers of the Palatine House league came through with flying colors Sunday afternoon as they fashioned games of 960, 995, and 891, plus 195 handicap, to win the Paddock tourney with 3041.

Only one team seriously questioned the title rights of Haseman Truckers — Old Style Lager of Wheeling. The beermen, representing the Wednesday league at Wheeling, hit 910 and 888, then needed 881 for the lead on the shift following Haseman's. They hit, instead, 842, along with three rails in the tenth frame.

THE DIFFERENCE meant $33 more to the winners. First place money is just over $100, with second place earning $67. In third spot was Miller High Life of Wood Dale Scratch loop, which hit 834, 812 and 947 for a 2945 gross.

Haseman Truckers were first champs in the Paddock tournament, established three years ago. Ironically, a "house team" has won the tourney each year it has been held with Hasemans winning at Palatine in '52, Black's at Heights in '53 and Len & Sev's at Bensenville in '54.

But while Hasemans found their home alleys much to their liking Sunday, plenty of other Palatine squads had their difficulties. Complete results, game per game, individual and team, are listed elsewhere on these sports pages.

THE PAYOFFS will be made as soon as winning averages are checked, scores re-checked, and checks checked. Winners should be receiving the money, amounting to $315, and six trophies within two weeks.

NEW HIGH individual game for the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament, men's division, was set Sunday at Palatine when Henry Goettsche of Wheeling hit 245 for a 559 series while bowling with Rainbow Lounge of Thursday Men's league.

The new high beat the old mark of 244 set by Irv Hahnfeldt in 1952. Irv was on the scene again this time, hitting 224 and 240 for a 653 series. Goettsche bowled again on the 7:45 shift, notching a 548 series.

Trotters To Head Double Cage Bill At Heights

Harlem Globetrotters vs. House of David. Kansas City Stars vs. Honolulu Surf Riders. Miss Hawaii and her $1,000 talent contest hula number.

Thus reads the billing at Arlington Heights high school Monday night, Jan. 17, when Methodist Men's club present the greatest basketball attraction seen in a long time right here at home. First game, featuring the Stars and Surf Riders, will start at 8 p.m.

Of course, main attraction of the evening will be the antics of the Trotters, currently attracting more than a million fans each year as they put on the kind of show that pleases the crowd. Shooting baskets is just a sideline to the Trotters— they win games and fans as well with tricks of the trade unsurpassed anywhere.

ONE OF THE Globetrotters who will be seen is Bill ("Rookie") Brown, their handsome 6 foot 4 inch, 180-pound performer.

It was pinned on him by his teammates when he first joined the Trotters, a fresh, brash, energetic youth. But he's now a six-term veteran of the great cage team and the years have seen him develop into a steady, fine-performing veteran. When a major movie studio was casting about a few years ago looking for a tall, good-looking fellow with a knowledge of basketball to play the leading role in the first full-length film of the Globetrotters, Owner Abe Saperstein of the cage unit asked:

"Why not our own player, Bill ("Rookie") Brown?"

THEN THERE will be the ever capable Sam Wheeler, not only a great all-around basketball player and one of the real veterans of the Globetrotters organization, but one of the finest showmen sports has ever known. More than that, his athletic record is all the more remarkable when it is known that he actually has only two fingers on his right hand. The others were lost in an accident when he was a small boy.

Despite this the clever Wheeler has compiled an outstanding career in sports, baseball and track, as well as basketball.

OF LOCAL interest will be the appearance of Joel McRae, 6 foot 3 inch, 185 pound forward, who starred for LaGrange high school when it won the state prep basketball championship two years ago. Joel will be in the Kansas City Stars lineup. The Stars coach, William "Pop" Gates, says McRae is one of the best young players he has seen.

Tickets for this extravaganza can be purchased in Arlington Heights at Lohr's drug store, Kindler's ice cream shop, and the Emerald Shop. Mt. Prospect fans can get their tickets at Keefer's Pharmacy or at either of the two Golden delicatessen stores at 35 S. Main or 15 E. Prospect ave.

Prospect Heights people will find tickets on sale at Joe's Barber Shop. Palatine fans can acquire tickets at Hi-Way Recreation. Admission for adults is $1.50 and for students $1.00.

Three $10 rails were all that stood in the way of Old Style Lager on the 7:45 shift Sunday night as the Wheeling team attempted to wrest the lead from Haseman Truckers in Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament at Palatine.

The squad, rating a 363 handicap, hit 910 and 888, then faltered to 842 as three men couldn't pick up rails in that final frame. Those three misses cost the squad $33 in prize money as the team finished 38 pins behind the winners.

Hawks Whip Barrington, 82-46

Gene Bell's Wheeling Blackhawks started the New Year off right with an 82 to 46 win over Barrington last week Wednesday on the losers court. The win ended a two game losing streak for the 'Hawks.

The 'Hawks started fast on a pair of free throws by Vic Heimsoth and successive baskets by Hans Schmidt, George Newman, and Gordie Busse, to pile up an eight point lead before their opponents' basket continued and by the end of the first quarter, they had a comfortable lead of 26-7, and a 44-20 advantage at the intermission.

Paced by Hans Schmidt, Bob Baker, and Vic Heimsoth, the 'Hawks went on to outscore Barrington in the second half 38 to 26 and pick up an 82 to 46 win. Individual leaders were Hans Schmidt with 24 points, followed by Vic "Bevo" Heimsoth and Elmer Saverly with 20 each, and George "Boom-Boom" Newman and Gordie Busse with 12 apiece.

Palatine Wrestlers Whitewash Wauconda

Palatine's wrestlers downed Wauconda 52-0 last week for their fifth of the season without defeat. Anderson (95), McCreery (112), Bessemer (120), Wehner (133), Dilks (154), Verdung (165), Wheeler (175), and Rohde (heavy) all won by pinning their opponents. Scholz (103), Fremd (127), Schwenk (138), and Lundgren (145) won their matches on points. Shortest match was when Larry Wheeler pinned his man in 25 seconds.

DeKalb Wrestlers To Open Dual Season

Northern Illinois State's wrestling team will compete in its first dual meet of the current season Thursday night, entertaining the Wheaton College Crusaders. The match will be held as a preliminary attraction to the Northern-Western Illinois basketball game.

Lettermen expected to see action for the Huskies include Bob Schulze of Arlington Heights at 177 lbs. and Jim Murawska of Layden at 167 lbs. Top freshman candidates include John Davison of York at heavyweight.

Shirley Garms In All-Star Bowling Meet

Shirley Garms, 57 W. Washington st., Palatine, will compete in the 14th annual BPAA All-Star bowling tournament for the men's and women's national individual match game championships January 14-23 at the Chicago Coliseum.

She will join a powerful field of 160 men from 26 states and 64 women from 19 states in the rugged, nine-day battle for America's top individual titles and $13,955 in prize money.

Shirley, making her fourth All-Star appearance, finished 14th in last year's tourney, 2nd in 1952 and 15th in 1950. She was Chicago match game champion in 1951-52, 1953-54 and 1954-55

A secretary with the navy, Shirley sports a five-year league average of 181, a single high game of 279 and a 688 high series.

Bensenville Frosh Defeat Ela, 48-29

By BILL RIPPERGER

Ela-Vernon freshmen were overcome by visiting Bensenville Saturday morning, 48-29, as the Bisons stretched their winning streak to three games. Bob Meyer led the Bison scoring with 12 points and Egly, Christianson, and Biefeld had eight points apiece. Torgerson's nine points was high for the Bears.

Using their height to good advantage, the Bisons jumped to a commanding 16-4 first quarter lead. Meyer and Christianson provided the scoring punch for Bensenville as they netted 12 of the 16 points.

The B'ville cagers, continuing the pace, dumped in 14 more points in the second quarter and finished with a 52 per cent first half shooting average.

Going into the third period the Bisons led 30-13, but the Ela quintet outscored them and had cut their lead to 37-23 by the end of the period.

Bensenville eliminated any hope of victory, though, by adding 11 more points in the final period to down Ela, 48-29.

south with center at Leyden and Bensenville, from that region, goes back into district play again at St. Procopius. The Bisons went directly into the regional last year for the first time.

At this time a view of the four tournaments which will send winners into the Arlington sectional look like this: Elgin or Antioch from the Elgin tourney with Elgin seeded first; Barrington or Palatine from the one at Glenbrook with Barrington top seeded team; Waukegan or Evanston from the North Chicago tourney, and Glenbard our pick at Leyden though Oak Park, Proviso, and York are mighty tough on occasions.

LITTLE RICH TOWNSHIP HIGH made the headlines again this year as a giant killer. After surprising strong Argo of the South Suburban league they took the measure of the big one last week, Thornton High, the unbeaten league leader. Last year Rich lost their first game to Wheaton and won all the way until they played Thornton in the regional.

Thornton suffered its second defeat of the season Saturday when they lost to Rich, having been beaten early by York and touted as one of the best state tournament prospects in the area. The Rich coach is Greg Sloan who piloted LaGrange to their undefeated state championship season in 1953.

BILLY KLAUS of Fox Lake, who played short for Minneapolis and batted .280 last year, has been traded by the parent team, New York Giants, to the Boston Red Sox. Klaus played several seasons for Milwaukee. He is a brother of Bob Klaus, all round star athlete at Grant high school . . . Athletic director Harold Isaacson of Niles township high is looking for a football game at home for next September 16 or 17. Niles is a member of the big Suburban league . . . Not to be outdone by the basketball team Palatine's wrestlers whipped Elgin Friday night to remain undefeated in six straight outings this season.

Antioch has the best student support out of town of any cage team. Three chartered buses were needed to bring students to Palatine and principal Al Dittman stated three more were sold out the next night for the trip to Warren.

Watching Irv Hahnfeldt bowl games of 240 and 224 as he led Haseman's truckers to the championship of the Paddock Tournament Sunday at Palatine alleys we were reminded of the 1934-35 basketball season. Irv led Palatine lightweights to the league championship in the most spectacular series of games we have ever witnessed. Hahnfeldt personaly broke up two games with last minute long shots to win one pointers of which Palatine captured four in sensational finishes. Hahnfeldt has not let up a bit as a top competitor 20 years later.

WHEN GLENBARD recently took the DeKalb holiday tourney, coming from an eight point deficit, it was the fourth time that school has taken the DeKalb meet, the last one in '47 . . . Bob Whitehead's six points in the last 90 seconds helped give him the nod as the tournament's "most valuable."

Addison golfer who qualified for the Los Angeles open was Chuck Malchaski.

Elgin bowling association tournament opens Feb. 5 with the team event slated for Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine . . . Team prize last year was $200.

Glenbard's Bob Edwards rates his greatest sports thrill the 104 yard pass interception against Hinsdale last fall, the only TD tallied against the Red Devils . . . We asked Dick Brodnan, Arlington skier, what he'll be thinking about when he comes down the big jump at Fox River Grove Sunday . . . Said he didn't know, that he had only four seconds from takeoff to landing, and that he'd be too busy skiing to dream about anything else.

Good Defense And Accuracy Gives Palatine Upset Win

Palatine pulled the upset of the ear Friday night and went into a ie for first place in the North-west conference by beating Antioch, 57-55, in a game which found the Pirates proving themselves real competitors. Actually the game, after the second half started, was not as close as the score would indicate for Antioch pulled up with two baskets in the final seconds of play. It was Antioch's first defeat in 11 games and Palatine's sixth win in 10.

The Palatine lineup, which played the entire game without a substitution, just would not be beaten. Through the first half the teams battled on fairly even terms though at one time Antioch spurted to a 10 point advantage. Both teams hit the basket consistently and the half ended 28-24 Antioch.

MOYLAN'S CHARGES came out at the half and ran away with Antioch for six minutes, piling up an 11 point lead at one time as Eck, Schutz, and Goetz hit nearly every time they shot. Meanwhile Antioch went ice cold and could not find the hoop.

Floyd's basket early in the period and one by Mike Haviland just as the quarter ended was all Antioch scored during the third period. The Sequoits had only two free throws and missed them both. Palatine was on top, 41-32, going into the final period and Antioch could not catch the Pirates though they scored 21 points.

PALATINE EMPLOYED a stalling offense in the last quarter and forced Antioch to press and get jittery from desire to get the ball. It was the first time this season in 11 games that Antioch had been behind in the last quarter.

Antioch's regulars each scored two field goals in a futile attempt to pull out a victory but Nesset, Schutz and Eck accounted for 15 points to keep the Pirates on top. With two minutes and 20 seconds to go Antioch tied the score at 49 all but Schutz hit from the field and Eck dropped two free throws and Palatine was never headed. With 30 seconds to play Palatine led 57-51 but Clarke and Floyd dropped baskets just as the game ended to narrow the score.

PALATINE PICKED the most important game to shoot their best of the season. They dropped 23 field goals in 43 shots for 53.5% while Antioch was making 40%, good enough to win most games. Both teams hit well on free throws. Alan Eck made eight out of 15 from the field and a total of 20 points while Dave Schutz hit six of eight from the field and had 15 points. Dave Nesset got 10 and John Goetz nine.

Bob Coates started his first game for Palatine and stayed in all the way, contributing a very steady ball handling and defensive game. Palatine's defense, more than their hot shooting, was responsible for the victory as they held Antioch to their lowest score since the conference season opened and to the fewest shots from the field.

Antioch's scoring was evenly distributed as Floyd had 15, Haviland 13, Palmer 10, Clarke nine, and Brownlee eight. The result left Palatine and Antioch tied for the league lead with 5-1 records and eight games remaining on the schedule.

PALATINE frosh-sophs dropped to a 3-3 rating Friday by losing a 44-24 decision to first place Antioch. After a first quarter in which Palatine had a 10-6 edge the fame was all Antioch. Palatine scored only two points in the second quarter as Antioch went out in front 18-12. Herbst and Huml scored 30 of Antioch's 44 points while McClung and Hahnfeldt got 18 of Palatine's 24. It was Antioch's fifth win in six league games having lost only to Bensenville.

Palatine Freshmen Lose To Arlington, Glenbrook, Grant

Palatine freshmen lost their third in a row as Arlington defeated them, 63-28. Lockwood scored 24 and Thill 16 for Arlington while no Palatine player had over five points. Arlington took a 23-4 first quarter lead and had things their own way. Palatine's frosh reserves lost a preliminary game 40-18.

Palatine lost to Glenbrook frosh 44-33, as Wisner scored 12 for Palatine. The first year Pirates were beaten by Grant 59-45 as Gerretsen scored 29 points on eight from the field and 13 of 16 free throws, Wismer had 16 and Elma 13 for Palatine. Palatine's four best frosh are with the freshman-sophomore squad and do not compete in the freshmen games.

Intramurals On Again At Arlington High

Intramural bowling and basketball have been resumed at Arlington Heights high school with team headed by D. McGrath leading the bowlers, and squads captained by Bob Catherwood and Lodiegard Reinke topping the junior-senior basketball league, according to intramural director Bob Hutton. Frosh-soph intramural cage league just started activity last week.

Top ten averages in bowling include G. Meling 150, D. Schimmel 146, D. McGrath 144, R. Johnson 144, N. Mehling 134, C. Moellenkamp 132, D. Raveling 129, D. VorBroker 126, R. Engelking 125, L. Landmeier 123. Keglers bowl each Wednesday afternoon.

Arlington Wrestlers Beat Waukegan And Evanston

Arlington Heights high school wrestlers continued on where they left off before the holidays by taking two more victories the past week, doubling the score on Waukegan and mauling Evanston. This gives the Card grapplers a 6-0 record with a trip to Riverside on tap for Thursday.

The Waukegan squad, expected to be one of the toughest teams for which Heights would not be a match early in the season, fell before Coach Dick Mudge's boys. 34-17. The Evanston affair, played at home Tuesday afternoon, was a 38-6 affair.

The frosh-sophs, led by Coach Maurice Kellogg, tripped Waukegan, 33-21, but fell before Evanston, 31-20.

Looking best for the frosh-sophs against Evanston were Roger Neunsinger at 127, who gained a 5-3 decision over Washington; and Ron Pratchen at 165, who pinned Knute in 4:27.

Bison Sophs Trounce Ela

by MAX ZOLLNER

With the holiday season now history, Northwest conference frosh-soph race was once again renewed as a fighting Ela five trounced the B'ville sophs, 52-44. Lars Hendriksen, Bison scoring ace, chalked up 25 points while Buciak and Jesse led the Bears with 17 and 15 points, respectively.

The end of the opening period found Bensenville with an 11-8 edge due to the fine shooting of center Lars Hendriksen.

INCREASING their lead, the Bisons netted 14 more points before halftime. With only seconds remaining in the half, the Bisons gained possession of the ball, raced down the floor, and just as the horn sounded, Glen Dierking hit a 20 foot jump shot. This made the score at intermission, 25-17.

Coming back strong in the third quarter, the Bears narrowed the gap to only 5 points. This effort was sparked by Jesse as he drilled in 8 points.

Aided by Buciak's 9, the Ela quintet hit for 19 points in the final stanza. The final score, Ela-Vernon 52, Bensenville-44.

Hopper's Match Game

Hopper's Tavern keglers of Arlington Heights Thursday Men's league will oppose the Barflies Sunday, Jan. 16, in a special match game at Country Lanes, the new alleys at Lake Zurich, starting at 2 p.m.

Hopper's regulars include Jim Benedetti, Jim Lints, Bill Meyer, Clarence Trampf and Bill Eno. For the Barflies will be Bill Trampf, Bill Ramel, Fred Wemblinger, Bill Cunningham and Clarence Gillick.

THURSDAY, JAN. 13, 1955

The late hour shift in the Paddock bowling tournament at Palatine Sunday failed to dampen the spirits of Miller High Life keglers of Wood Dale Scratch league as they finished with a 947 game good for third place money of $45.75, based on a 2945 series.

Heights Loses At R-B In Two Overtimes; Blasted By York

It was a pair of heart-breakers one a double overtime, the other a 96-51 debacle, that was served Friday and Saturday nights to the Arlington Heights Cardinals Both games were lost causes, the Friday night affair a 73-72 defeat at Riverside, the other one of those affairs where the winner could do no wrong while hitting 59% from the field, compared to the locals' 34%.

Opening quarter at Riverside Friday was a free scoring affair with Heights lanching on top, 23-21. Sujack, Maher, Striegel and Riggs all got into the act but the Cardinals couldn't keep up the pace. They tallied 16 points the second period, but were behind at the half, 44-39.

FIVE HEIGHTS lads made the scoring column the third segment to regain a tie with R-B, 59-all going into the final period. Both teams made ten points the final quarter, sending the game into overtime. Sujack tallied once the first overtime for Arlington, with Nelson hitting once for Riverside.

In sudden death Sujack made the first free throw, but missed the second that would have given Heights the victory. Daleo came through with two charities for Riverside to win the game.

DENNY MAHER made 20 points for the local cause, with John Striegel garnering 19 for a respectable start. Striegel hit for 16, Riggs nine and Randag six. Maher made good on eight of eight free throws, with Sujack sinking eight of nine, Striegel four of five and Riggs three of four. High for the winners was Neumann with 19 points, followed by Daleo with 15 and Nelson with 12.

SATURDAY night the Heights team showed it was tired, with York hotter'n a pistol. Opening quarter was only 16-15, York, and play was even until the middle of the second period. From then on it was all York as the Heights squad weakened, was four-fifths removed. The starters came back in the second half but apparently were going nowhere, so were removed again in favor of the reserves.

York, meanwhile, scored 31 points the third quarter and 25 more the final segment, making good on 37 of 66 shots for an unbelievable 59% accuracy. Heights hit on just 14 of 41 tosses.

ONCE AGAIN the Heights boys showed well at the free throw circle, where they made 23 of 31 attempts on the part of eight boys. Six others missed seven chances. Dennis Striegel led this departmet for the Cardinals with eight good ones, plus three field goals to lead the scoring with 14 points. Randag tallied 13.

Don Anderson led the winners with 35 points, a new record, as he scored 10 the first quarter, 4 the second, 12 the third and 10 the final stanza. The 96 points scored by York was also a new record, as were the combied 147 points by both teams.

Girls Gymnastics Club Last In Meet

Girls gymnastics club of Arlington Heights finished a poor last Saturday in a five team competition in Lincoln Turner hall, Chicago, taking exactly two-and-a-third points. Rita Misch accounted for two points with a fifth on parallel bar, and Lynn Meisenheimer tied for sixth in side horse vault. Indianapolis Turner won the meet with 60 points.

Three girls that helped the local club win first place trophy the other time out were unavailable this time. Those that did compete showed improvement, however.

Card Gymnasts Host New Trier Friday Night

Arlington Heights high school gymnastics team will play host to New Trier Friday night in the first evening meet of the season. New Trier has one of the strongest gymnastics team in the area, and will provide parents and fans with a good opportunity to see the comparatively new sport in local circles. Meet will start at 8 p.m. with free admission to all comers.

New Trier gymnasts were state champs two and three years ago, and finished second in the state invitational meet last year. Heights lost to the north shore school by 14 points last year, but aims to shorten the margin this time.

COMPETING for Heights will be three boys on each piece of equipment, according to coach Gay Hughes. They include:

Horizontal bar: John Koeppen, Carl Krautwurst, Bob Baas.

Parallel bar: John Koeppen, Dick Kimbrough and Bob Baas.

Rings: John Koeppen, Carl Krautwurst and Dick Neiland.

Side horse: Fritz Snyder, Tom Pendleton and John Koeppen.

Long horse: John Koeppen, Carl Krautwurst and Dick Neiland.

Trampoline: Norb Flowers, Bob Meierhofer and Dave Peterson.

All Major Juveniles Named For Classic And American Derby

America's ranking three-year-olds and Europe's leading thoroughbreds head a star-studded list of nominations to the 1955 renewals of the $100,000 added Arlington Classic, and the $100,000 added American Derby, which will be run on the grass at Washington Park.

The roster contains winners of all major juvenile events of 1954. Topping the list are Nashua, Summer Tan, Royal Coinage, Royal Note, Trentonian, Blue Ruler, Georgian and Pyrenees. With the exception of Nashua and Pyrenees, all are named for both races.

The 45th running of the historic American Derby also has attracted some of Europe's most promising young thoroughbreds. Several have impressive juvenile victories to their credit. Among the highly regarded foreign-bred contingent are Flying Story, bred and owned by Joseph McGrath of Dublin, Ireland; the French colts, Beau Prince II, owned by New Yorker George Wildenstein, and Parisian Pierre Wertheimer's Chingacgook.

HASTY HOUSE Farm, second money-winning stable in America last year, has named a pair of English imports, My Beau and Summer Solstice, while the newly-formed Sand Hills Farm has the Irish-bred, Daylight Express. The American Derby distance of a mile and three-sixteenths on the grass, plus the potential gross value of $155,000 will undoubtedly lure most of these participants to Chicago next August.

The French candidates, Beau Prince II and Chingacgook ran one-two in the Grand Criterium at Longchamp last summer. Flyin, Story has among his accomplishments a win over My Beau in the Anglesey Plate at The Curragh in Ireland, while the latter won both the Phoenix Plate and Nunthorpe Stakes at York, England. Summer Solstice annexed the Hopeful and four other English Stakes at Newmarket, while the highly-bred Daylight Express, purchased and conditioned by veteran Tom Smith, was considered one of the Emerald Isle's top prospects.

THE CLASSIC and American Derby are only two of eight rich future stakes that form the nucleus of the most lucrative summer racing program in the world. Second payments for all eight events are due by midnight, February 1. The remainder of the 1955 Arlington-Washington stakes program will be revealed soon.

A total of 172 eligibles were named to the Classic, one more than the American Derby. The list contains representatives of the nation's leading stables. The Derby list also includes 20 foreign-bred sophomores.

As in the past, the Arlington-Washington program will stress large purse distribution to second, third, and fourth finishers. The values will be $30,000, $15,000 and $10,000, respectively.

The mile Classic, richest three-year-old event ever run, is expected to again gross more than $155,000. Last year's running was worth $161,300, an all-time record for the division. The winner, Errard King, netted $106,300.

The 15th coordinated Arlington Park-Washington Park meeting of 67 days gets under way June 20 at the northwest suburban course and runs 36 days through July 30. Washington Park opens the following Monday, August 2, and continues for 31 days through Labor Day, September 5.

Cream Of 'Em All

Sugar Ray Robinson, former welterweight and middleweight champion, takes on Tiger Jones in Chicago Stadium on January 19 as he steps up his comeback campaign to a high pitch. The flashy double champion is hoping he can move back into contention for the middleweight crown he once held and take on Bobo Olson.

Robinson has been dancing on stage for the past two years and says his legs are as strong as ever. In his fight last week he proved he could still punch by knocking out Joe Rindone in the sixth round.

SATURDAY NIGHT it was Bill Palmer who was charged with three fouls early in the game, again cutting the frosh-sophs heighth. Pat Brownell was hot at the basket, though, hitting for nine field goals and seven of eight charities for 25 points. Outstanding in this contest was the play of Bruce Bjorklund, playing his usual consistent game.

Arlington took a quick lead as York was ice cold for eight to ten minutes. Period scores were 13-5, 30-18 and 43-30, but York rallied. The visitors tied the score at 53-all with three minutes to go, but Jacobsen hit twice from the field and Brownell made good on two free throws to win the game.

Brownell hit once from the field the opening period, thrice in the second, four times the third quarter and once more the final stanza while hitting seven of eight free ones. Jacobsen scored 16 points on "six and four." Top man for York was Brown with four and eight, total 16 points.

Deer Grove Lake Attracts Many Skaters of Chicago Area

There may be only a few Palatine people who take an all-out interest in skating, but Deer Grove lake is destined to become the scene of many future skating meets, according to Geo. O'Connell, 574 S. Hale, Palatine. Two years ago through the interest of Commissioner Erickson, two warming houses were erected.

Last Saturday for the first time in over 60 years the city skating championship was scheduled to be held outside of Chicago. Following the preliminaries the sun had made the course tooo dangerous to use and the event was called off.

Mr. O'Connell has had a big part in advancing the amateur skating associations of Illinois. This year he is coach of the Watch City Skaters, which are conducting a meet Sunday in Lord's park, Elgin.

He has been a member of the Olympic Skating group and was in Norway with Ken Henry when he became the Olympic champion for 500 meters.

There were approximately 600 skaters at Deer Grove Sunday, including Ken Henry, Chuck Burk of Northbrook Skaters club, member of 1952 Olympic team and the two mile champion, and other nationally known skaters.

Several championship meets are held in January. The last weekend in January the Skating Association of Illinois takes six skaters in each class to St. Paul where they compete in the U. S. Championships.

There are five classes — midgets, juvenile, juniors, intermediate and seniors.

In the opinion of Mr. O'Connell, there will be an increasing interest in Deer Grove, which is ideally situated because of the quietness of the water and the strength of the ice, even during an open winter. Candidates for next year's Olympic team are training regularly at Deer Grove.

A new club has been formed at Northbrook. Skating is considered the greatest outdoor winter sport and many adult organizations encourage it as a safeguard against juvenile delinquency.

Arlington Frosh-Sophs Win Two; Move Into Third

Frosh-soph cagers at Arlington Heights high school won two more games this past weekend, taking an easy affair at Riverside Friday, 57-49, and copping a 59-54 thriller from York on the Heights court Saturday.

The wins put the local sophomores in third place, one lap behind Glenbard and LaGrange, currently tied for the lead.

Friday night Jacobsen collected three fouls early in the first half with substitute Dick Fischer playing his best basketball of the year. He gathered in his share of rebounds and was a surprise performer for Coach Maurice Klotz.

THE GAME was close all the way, with the locals holding a 15-13 margin the first quarter, and a 28-20 lead at halftime, strengthened to 40-29 going into the home stretch. The game was iced midway in the final period as Heights took a 55-39 lead, when Coach Klotz substituted the seventh through eleventh boys. Riverside came up with a 10-2 margin in those closing minutes but the game was won, 59-54.

Scoring was fairly evenly divided with Bill Palmer snagging 16, Bruce Bjorklund 13 (including seven of ten free throws), Dick Fischer ten and Pat Brownell seven. High for the losers were Paloucek with 12 and Morton with ten.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Personnel Director

Bernard Lee has been named to the new position of Chicago personnel director of Ekco Products company, it was announced by Alexander Dewey, Ekco vice-president in charge of personnel.

Lee formerly was a salesman in the mail order and house accounts department.

Direct supervision of personnel work at the main plant in Chicago previously was handled by Dewey, but the demands of Ekco's plants throughout the U.S. require that he devote more time in the field, the executive stated.

Lee joined Ekco in April, 1946, working nights in the accounts receivable department while attending Wright Junior college. He subsequently worked in various departments and handled special assignments while studying at the Universiaty of Chicago and Kent college of law. He was admitted to the bar in March, 1953.

Married in 1944, Lee, his wife and three daughters live at 229 Harvey, Wood Dale. (BB

Board Of Governors

Edward E. Birks, 105 N. School st., Mount Prospect, has been elected a member of the board of governors of the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Mr. Birks is a partner of Birks and Elster, butter brokers, 110 N. Franklin, Chicago.

Completes Red Cross Home Nursing Course

Mrs. Barbara Carl, Hintz rd, has earned a Red Cross home nursing certificate by successfully completing a seven lesson course taught recently at Immanuel Lutheran school in Des Plaines.

Last year more than 15,000 people in the Chicago chapter area earned Red Cross home nursing certificates. Groups interested in organizing Red Cross home nursing classes may obtain full information by phoning the Chicago chapter at WAbash 2-7850.

Bensenville Bisons Fall To Ela-Vernon Attack, 60-47

by ELI WHITNEY

Bensenville Bisons started the new year with a loss, succumbing to Ela-Vernon, 60-47, Friday on the Bears' court. Ela lead throughout the game, although the lead was only four points at the end of the first quarter and five at intermission.

Bathrick, Bear right guard, started scoring with two set shots. Then Phil Johnson of B'ville put in a lay-up shot and both teams were rolling. The score stood at 16-12, Ela, as the second period started.

Coach Novatny of Bensenville, who noted the Bisons were not getting the rebounds put 6-foot-1 inch Frances Cheze in halfway through the second quarter to add another few inches to the team. This helped some but the Bisons still were losing, 30-25, at the half.

AFTER INTERMISSION, Ela broke loose and led 47-33 at the end of the third quarter and continued the rally through the last period to win 60-47.

High scorer of the game was Ken Sirotzki of B'ville. Ken made 22 points with four field goals and an 87 per cent free throw average on 14 out of 16 attempted free throws. Ela's Severance, who averaged 25 points a game before Friday, was held to 14 points along with his team-mate Becker, left forward.

CARL HANSEN, 81-year-old Wood Dale bowler, finds kegling a great activity as he competes as a member of the Western Auto team in the Wood Dale Men's league at Bowlwood Recreation.

Niles Feud Starts Over Shop Center

A proposed $10,000,000 shopping center for Niles has developed into a community feud.

The Niles Plan commission this week considered calling in experts to guide its members in a decision on controversial aspects of the proposal.

The commission is puzzled over opposition to expenditure of $10,000,000 in a village desperate for tax dollars.

Developer of the center on 62 acres at Waukegan and Oakton sts. plans parking facilities for 6,000 cars if the area is approved. He has estimated that he will pay the village some $86,000 a year in taxes with $38,000 going to public schools.

Attend Conference

Clarence A. Strandell, 824 N. Yale ave., Arlington Heights, industrial relations assistant, U. S. Steel Supply division, Chicago, attended the 7th annual personnel management conference at the university of Illinois Jan. 11 and 12.

Nearly 100 personnel executives, most of them from Illinois, were enrolled in the two-day session concerned with new developments in personnel administration, especially the use of psychological techniques. Speakers included University and visiting specialists in personnel problems. (BB

Grant Knocks Wauconda Out Of First Place

Grant knocked Wauconda out of a tie for first place by whipping the Bulldogs Friday, 50-42. Grant had just a week earlier beaten Wauconda 56-41 in their holiday tournament. Again Bob Bein stopped the Wauconda star, Gene Jaskot, and this time limited him to four points. Bein had 16 to aid Grant's cause.

Wauconda was out in front 11-9 at the quarter and the count was tied 19 all at half time. After taking a 39-34 advantage in the third period Grant won going away. Rangy Ed Okpiscz, six foot six Wauconda center, scored 20 points to lead both teams. It was Wauconda's second league defeat and Grant's second victory. Grant made it a double victory by taking the preliminary 48-20.

Joe Meek Still Has Eye On Senate

Joe Meek, defeated GOP Senate candidate, still has ambitions to be U. S. Senator from Illinois.

The president of the Illinois Federation of Retailers told a Libertyville merchant last week that Sen. McCarthy was a factor that worked both for and against him. Meek said many voters thought he was pro-McCarthy and bitterly criticized him for it.

Expressing disappointment that Eisenhower did not support him more wholeheartedly, Meek said he "may" run for the Senate in 1960.

The HUNGRY SPORTSMAN By Eddie Meier

Northern Rabbit Pie

This recipe is ideally suited to that fat, old buck rabbit you just know will be plenty stringy and tough if he doesn't get a good, long cooking. Be assured when you finish he'll be as tasty and tender as any young cottontail as ever nibbled a clover leaf!

Soak Mr. Rabbit for a least 12 hours (preferably 18) in salt water or in vinegar water (use equal parts of vinegar and water), then cut into serving pieces, dredge in seasoned flour and brown quickly in a deep skillet. Add water to cover, 1 bay leaf, a few celery tops and simmer for 1½ hours. Strain out bay leaf and celery tops, add 4 small onions, ½ cup diced carrots and 1 cup diced potatoes. Continue cooking until vegetables are done.

Thicken liquid with 1 heaping tablespoon flour (dissolved in a little cold water). Add ½ cup canned peas, salt and pepper to taste and pour into a casserole. Cover with pie crust and bake in oven until crust is done.

Bits O' Business

There was little change in consumer prices from October to November, 1954, based on a 10-city National Industrial Conference Board survey . . . Claims for unemployment compensation also dropped in November after a marked October rise; the Michigan unemployment situation (autos) has taken a turn for the better . . . . Kennecott Copper, Republic Steel and International Harvester are recalling some workers . . . Employment generally, however, still has some distance to go to catch up with last year's levels . . . The West Coast has been lagging in some areas where seasonal layoffs were more than usual . . . Shoe production in November ran 16.7 per cent above a year ago and December output will show a four per cent gain . . . Government sales of synthetic rubber plants to private industry now number 13, with 14 still in U.S. hands and scheduled to be sold; private rubber interests believe we can consume all the natural and synthetic rubber that can be produced between now and 1960.

Field Tile Systems Don't 'Wear Out,' Just Need Care

Trees and brush can fill the tile with roots. Or, broken tiles can let dirt and trash fill the line, says Ben Muirheid, extension agricultural engineer at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

The only way to make the tile line work again is to clean out the roots, Muirheid says. If that is not practical you will have to relay the line.

FIRST STEP in keeping a tile line free and open, the agricultural engineer says, is to clean out the brush and trees around the outlet. Winter is a good time to do that job when the lines are dry and the work isn't hampered with mud and water. Clear brush back to within 20 feet of the outlet and trees closer than 50 feet.

Other roots cause trouble too. The smartweed family, particularly the perennial smartweed called devil's shoestring, will often completely fill a tile with fine hairlike roots resembling moss. Get rid of such weeds to protect your tile line and keep them out of your fields.

CHEMICAL ROOT control sounds better for tile lines than it works, Muirheid says. Chemicals strong enough to get rid of roots would be expensive to use, toxic to plants and would contaminate down stream water supplies.

"Blowouts" or "sink holes" in the fields are signs of wide joints, broken tile or too much pressure in the line. You'll have to dig down to the line and replace broken tile with another piece the same size and length. Cover joints that are too wide with several thicknesses of asphalt roofing laid halfway around the tile.

About the only way you can relieve excessive pressure is to lay another line to handle part of the load. Or you can put in a relief well to let the excess water "bleed" off over the ground surface.

Rotate Boar Lines For Best Market Hogs

Swine growers will get better market hogs if they follow a crossbreeding program.

S. W. Terrill, head of the swine division at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says result of nearly all experiments have consistently favored crossbreds over non-crossbreds.

One of the simplest ways to cross for market hogs is a rotation of three or four breeds or lines of boars. Use each boar until the gilts from his litters go into the breeding heard.

THEN BREED these gilts to a boar of the next breed or line in the rotation. You can still keep the older boar for breeding the dams of the gilts as long as you keep them in the herd.

Terrill recommends that you use purebred, topcross or "hybrid" (incross and linecross) boars. Buy breeding stock only from individuals or firms that you consider reliable and that have healthy herds.

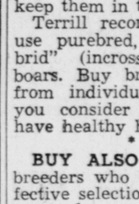
BUY ALSO from firms or breeders who are making an effective selection for high quality, meaty hogs with good carcass quality. The blood lines should have the ability to produce rapid and efficient gains and the brood sows should farrow, wean and raise to market weight large numbers of pigs.

Look at production records and results of tests giving live backfat probes, slaughter, feed and gain data. Ask about the inbred lines used to produce the hybrid combinations.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For Farm and Home

Is House Number Legible?

IS YOUR house number doing its work? If it isn't visible, day or night, you're due for a change! You can make a distinctive set of house numbers easily. The only materials needed are some Masonite Tempered Presdwood and a keyhole saw, which cuts curves.



First, design the letters so they are of the correct size in proportion to the house and entrance—but large enough to be visible from the street. Transfer the design to the tempered hardboard, ⅛" thick, and start cutting.

Sand down any rough edges. The numerals may be mounted directly on the siding, using waterproof glue or finishing nails, or placed on a piece of shaped hardwood.

Paint the Tempered Presdwood on both sides, for weatherproofing reasons, before putting the numbers up. For a reflective surface, obtain from your hardware dealer tiny glass beads or a special tape.

Some families, particularly in outlying areas, like to identify their homes with nameplates. These may be similarly made and mounted on a board, which is fastened to a tree out in front or hung from a post. An even easier method, suitable for the summer cottage, is painting the name directly on a piece of primed Tempered Presdwood, either free-hand or with stencils.

Still another method is to mount decalcomanias on hardboard, using individual letters or numerals. Two or three coats of waterproof varnish or shellac will safeguard the nameplate and number for years.

DOWN ON THE FARM with Your Farm Adviser

Carl F. Mees

Do you want some real good buys in real good eating? Not just bargains in sideline foods, but good buys for the main part of every high-quality American meal—that's usually meat. You can get exceptionally good buys now, and for every meal of the day—breakfast, dinner and supper (or lunch and dinner if you prefer these names for the noon and evening meals).

For Breakfast

Eggs and Bacon

Choose eggs and bacon for real wake-up aroma and pep-up energy that will stay with you 'til noon. Retail price of bacon now is around 15c a pound lower than last spring.

Eggs are very plentiful now, you can have them cooked in any one of a dozen different ways to suit your taste. We prefer ours in angel food cake but you will probably want yours fried, boiled or poached or scrambled.

In retail market eggs are around 15c a dozen lower than they were a year earlier. This is the season of best quality eggs too.

Noon Lunch

Fried Chicken

Not so many years ago fried chicken was a delicacy obtainable mostly on farms and on Sunday and Fourth of July only.

Now you can buy fryers and broilers every day in good food stores, and at prices that make them more economical than most other meats. Retail prices have been around 10c a pound lower than they were a year ago. Get some chickens now and then reach for your favorite pieces.

Evening Meal

Pork Chips or Ham

The supply of pork was above average last winter and spring. Farmers have stepped up their production of hogs. Price of pork cuts at retail stores is considerable lower than a year ago. You can have pork chops, ham or the lower shoulder cuts. Enjoy pork often this winter.

That's your list of real good buys in real good eating. Perhaps never before has so much good food been available at such low cost. Farmers have produced abundantly so that all of us can live well. Be sure to get and enjoy your share of these fine foods.

Milk

Milk and milk products are also good buys on the market. When you go to the store say "Make Mine Milk by the Gallon." Milk by the gallon is an economical buy now.

I also have good news for you about milk. It looks like now that our children will be able to get a 1/3 quart of milk with their school lunch instead of a half pint. This will give them 1/3 glass of milk more. The best part of it is that it will not cost them any more.

Our slogan is to "Drink milk for good health." You need it whether you are five or fifty.

New Farm Corn Allotments Available

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1955 on a farm where no corn was planted during the years 1952, 1953 or 1954 should apply for a "new farm" corn acreage allotment if he wants any price support or an ACP payment in 1955, Carl M. Bormet, chairman of the county agricultural stabilization and conservation committee, said.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, the chairman explained, however, under the acreage allotment program, the production of corn in 1955 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make all the crops from the farm ineligible for price support in 1955. Likewise, the producer on such a farm would be ineligible for any payment under the 1955 Agricultural Conservation program.

Application forms for "new farm" corn acreage allotments are available at the County ASC office. January 15, 1955, is the last day such applications may be filed.

Annual Lake-Cook Farm Supply Meeting Saturday

Alfred D. Smith, general manager of Lake-Cook farm supply company has announced that the 27th annual meeting will be held January 15 in the Carl Sandburg high school, 131st st. and rte. 45, Orland Park.

Smith stated that reports detailing all operations of the company during the past twelve months would be made. He indicated there would be much of vital interest in these reports to the membership. The company business during 1954 was by far the most successful in the company history. "During the past year," stated Smith, "we have witnessed a decline in the prices which farmers get for their products, and conversly," he continued, "we have also witnessed a continued rise in the cost of these things which farmers buy."

IT IS HOPED every member and patron will attend the annual meeting and add his best thinking and his counsel to the ways and means in which he can best be served by his company during this period of adjustment in the farm price structure. The presence and interest of all is needed in charting the company's course of action for the coming year."

In extending an invitation to all farm bureau member patrons to attend the annual meeting, Mr. Smith stated all plans were practically completed.

Principal speaker will be Reverend K. M. Hoe, pastor of Memorial Christian church, Rock Island, a capable and forceful speaker, who through experience is well qualified to discuss items of particular interest to farmers and Lake-Cook Farm Supply company patrons.

A delicious lunch prepared by the company's chefs will be served to all who attend the meeting. Entertainment of a pleasing nature will be on the program.

Dairy Bedding

Skimping on bedding for your dairy cows may cost you money in the form of lower milk production, says a University of Illinois dairy specialist.

4-H Calves On TV

Selection and care of 4-H club calves from the beginning of the project through the show ring will be featured Sunday, January 16 on "Farmtown U.S.A."

The half-hour show can be viewed at 2 p.m. each Sunday on WBBM-TV (channel 2). George Manard is master of ceremonies. The program is a CBS educational feature presented in cooperation with the Illinois agricultural association and the Pure Milk association.

Four LaSalle county 4-H members will be among guests on the program. The calves have been on feed since Thanksgiving, and the "rate of gain" will be explained as an integral part of club work.

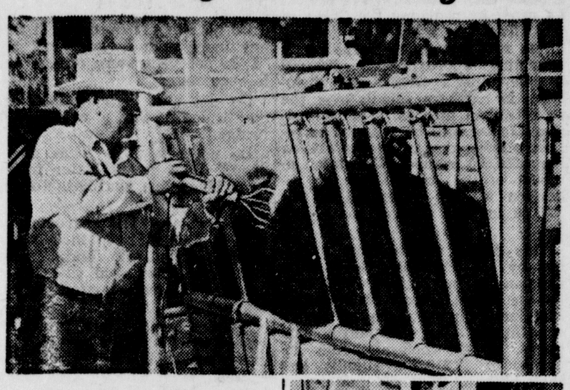
Not Too Fat

A University of Illinois livestock specialist suggests that you use temporary fencing in your cornfields to keep bred sows from getting too fat when they glean corn.

Ranchers and Farmers Go Electric In Branding and Dehorning Cattle



THEY'RE DOING IT ELECTRICALLY NOW — shown above are two of the newest electric branding and dehorning irons in action.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Round-up time isn't quite the same these days on a growing number of cattle ranches. And cowboys are glad of it. The only uses they have now for a camp fire are to keep warm and to light up the strings on their guitars to strum their way through "Home on the Range."

The fire that was so indispensable for heating up the branding iron has gone the way of the Pony Express. And so has the uncertainty of getting the iron hot enough to do a satisfactory job.

For branding today can be done the electric way. So, too, can dehorning. Both the new brander and dehorner, illustrated, are made from the same type of sheathed electric heating elements used for many industrial and household devices. They can be plugged into any 110-volt electrical outlet and will heat up in less than two minutes. The brander and dehorner come equipped with heavy duty cords and molded plugs.

The branding iron can be shaped—or re-shaped—into various designs. It weighs two pounds and, like the electric dehorner, provides even heat throughout the complete operation. Both have been field-tested for over a year and a half. Testimonials from ranchers, farmers, Colleges of Agriculture and veterinarians attest to the value, safety and efficiency of these two irons.

Now—a word about dehorning electrically. Apply the dehorner for at least 10 seconds, rotating the handle slightly to make sure that all horn cells in the hair line around the horn base are killed. The heated area will turn a dark copper color. Do not apply medication or remove the horn buttons. The resulting scabs will drop off with the buttons in from 4 to 6 weeks. Since there is no loss of blood or irritation, electrically dehorned calves do not have to be isolated.

County Spray Operators To Attend School

Cook county spray operators are invited to the annual custom spray operators school at the University of Illinois January 20 and 21.

According to farm adviser, Carl F. Mees, agronomists and insect specialists will report on developments the last year in spray materials and methods from both the research and the special angles.

THE SCHOOL is sponsored by the University and the Illinois Natural History Survey. One evening session has been scheduled for open discussion, so you can ask questions of any of the experts there.

Agronomists will report on spraying liquid fertilizers; new weed control chemicals; the control of brush, giant foxtail, Johnson grass and quack grass, new pre-emergence methods, use of low volatile esters of 2,4-D and weed control in corn and soybeans. University agronomists will release their 1955 weed control recommendations.

ON THE INSECT side, there'll be reports on soil insecticides, the insect situation, problems in elm tree spraying, moral and legal responsibilities of spray operators, new chemicals, and developments in the control of chinch bugs, army worms, flies, and corn borer.

All sessions will be held in the Illini Union.

North Cook Rural Youth To Meet Jan. 19

North Cook Rural Youth will hold their regular meeting Wednesday, January 19 at 8 p.m. in the basement of the farm bureau building, 201 N. Dunton ave. Arlington Heights.

Des Plaines OKs Weller Creek Study

Des Plaines city council has approved $750 for an engineering survey of Weller Creek.

The study will be made of the creek from Mount Prospect to the flume on Graceland ave. and will include recommendations toward alleviating the flooding of Weller Creek.

The firm is doing a similar survey for Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

LAW on the FARM

Deeds Effective At Farmer's Death

Persons sometimes execute warranty deeds during their lives that attempt to transfer real estate as of the time of their death. The deed or deeds are placed in a safety deposit box or kept at home with a notation "to be given to my son John (or daughter Mary) at my death." Occasionally a deed is given to a friend with directions that he give it to John or Mary at the owner's death, unless the deed is taken back before then.

MOST TIMES a deed effective at death will convey the property as intended simply because no one contests the velidity of the deed. But some deeds of this kind are challenged and the courts often hold them invalid. When a deed effective at death is held invalid, the property passes to the heirs according to the laws of descent—unless the deceased had a will, In either case it is probable that the property will not go to the persons intended by the deceased.

The reason that these deeds often fail is because the person is trying to evade the law of Illinois. The law sets forth in considerable detail the method to transfer property at death. The necessary instrument is called a will. If a will is not used, then the law states who is to receive the property.

SINCE A WILL must be executed in accordance with statutory requirements (two witnesses are necessary), a deed is ineffective to do the same job. A deed is signed and acknowledged but usually not witnessed.

However, it is possible to transfer real estate effective at death using a lifetime deed. One way is to convey a remainder interest by deed reserving a life estate. This method allows the owner to use the property and take the income during his life. At death the property goes to the remainderman.

ANOTHER WAY is to place a warranty deed in the hands of a noninterested party with written directions covering disposition. If the deed cannot be recalled it is considered a present transfer with possession retained by the owner for his life.

Using these instruments and directions requires a knowledge of Illinois property law. It therefore is suggested that an attorney be employed to draft them.

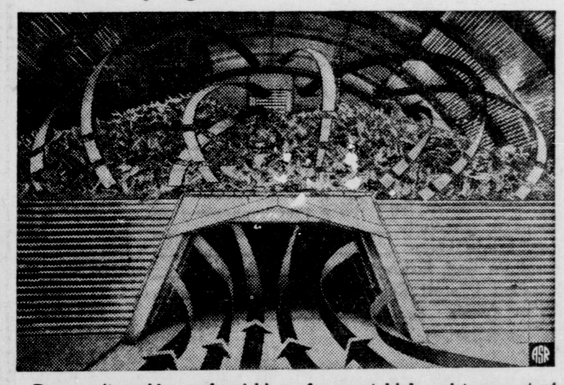
Air Drying Boon To Corn Grower



Because it enables early picking of corn at high moisture content and thus reduces field losses and risk of weather damage, ear-corn drying is becoming increasingly popular with growers. The above photo-sketch shows how drying is accomplished with an economical unheated-air system featured by the Quonset ear-corn drying and storage building. Arrows indicate the movement of drying air being forced through the corn by a fan (not shown) located out-side the building and connected to the air tunnel. Laden with moisture picked up from the corn, the air goes out the end-wall louvre and openings in the sidewalls. The Quonset system's drying tunnel and fan can be removed easily to convert the building for other uses when desired.

MEMBER FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

To Make Gas Refund To Many Customers

The Illinois commerce commission has announced that Northern Illinois Gas company will adjust its rates by reducing the "Cost of purchased gas adjustment factor" in its rate schedules, resulting in refunding approximately $900,000 to the utility's 475,000 gas customers in northern Illinois over the next twelve months. The adjustment factor will be reduced to reflect a lower cost of gas as well as the $900,000 refund. The total amount of the refund and the reduction will be in excess of $1,500,000 for the twelve month period.

This action results from a ruling by the Federal Power Commission in Washington, which limits the Texas Illinois Natural Gas Pipeline company, one of Northern Illinois Gas company's suppliers, to a wholesale rate increase of $2,916,484, slightly less than half the $5,857,591 increase it had sought. Northern Illinois Gas had been paying the higher rates under bond and the refund to be made by it is based on the company's portion of the pipeline refund, including interest, which has accrued since February 1, 1954. Since that date, the purchased gas adjustment factor has included the increase in the price of natural gas which had become effective under bond.

Words Often Misused

Do not say, "I do not visit there any more than I can help." Say, "I do not visit there oftener than is necessary."

Do not say, "We walked over the bridge." Say, "across the bridge."

Do not say, "His ideas are no good." It is much better to say, "His ideas are worthless (or, not good)."

Do not say, "The instructor said that if anyone have their work finished, they may leave." Say, "The instructor said that if anyone has finished his work he may leave."

Do not say, "This report, together with all other papers on the case, are to be sent to the committee today." Say, "This report, together with all other papers on the case, is to be sent."

Distinguish between "enviable" (arousing envy) and "envious" (having envy). "He holds an enviable position in the company." "She is envious of those above her."

Words Often Mispronounced

Pizza (Italian pielike dish). Pronounce as though spelled peet-suh, with accent on first syllable.

Specious (plausible). Pronounce spe-shus, e as in speed, accent first syllable.

Lissome. Pronounce lis-um, i as in is, u as in sum, accent first syllable.

Sanguine (optimistic). Pronounce sang-gwin, not san-gwin.

Edinburgh (Scotland). Pronounce as though spelled ed-in-burg, not ed-in-burg.

Pathos. Pronounce as though spelled pay-thoss.

Words Often Misspelled

Thinness; observe the two n's. Melee; though pronounced may-lay. Malleable; observe the ll. Exercise (to be active); exorcise (to cast out). Shellac, shellacked, shellacking. Insight (understanding); incite (to stir up).

Word Study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Dogma; that which is held as an opinion; a doctrine. "We still hold to many dogmas which were bred in antiquity."

Panegyrist; a eulogizer. (Pronounce pan-e-jir-ist, a as in pan, e as in me unstressed, both i's as in it, accent third syllable).

Personification; a striking or typical illustration, or example. "The child is the personification of happiness."

Mendacious; given to falsehood; lying. "His mendacious tendencies make him a man not to be trusted."

Irretrievable; that cannot be recovered or restored. "Such mistakes are irretrievable."

Record Attendance At Museum Of Science

Attendance during 1954 at Chicago's Museum of Science and Industry increased an average of more than a thousand visitors a day. At year's end, the total attendance was 2,655,128, an increase of 17.7 per cent over the 1953 record of 2,255,735. Based on an average stay of more than three hours per visitor this amounts to over eight million visitor hours.

Ewe's Drop in Milk

Feed your lambs a creep ration after they are one week old so that they can get plenty to eat to make up for the ewe's drop in milk production.

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

January 13, 1905

Mrs. Conrad Moehlenkamp died in Bensenville at the age of 71 January 8 after taking sick Saturday.

Farmers are all getting mail boxes around Bloomingdale.

Frank Rathje visited at Addison over the weekend and says that Louisa is better than all the 16-year old spooners at Bensenville.

Henry Mayer, an old Wheeling settler and soldier, died Saturday morning after a long illness.

J. A. Sigwalt sold his Elk Grove creamery and residence, as of January 1, to H. F. Stemman and C. H. Lutz.

Pearl M. Clarke and George M. Kuebler were married Tueaday afternoon in Palatine.

Those who have been neither absent nor tardy during December and whose recitations and conduct were acceptable in the 8th and 9th grades at Arlington Heights high school: Hazel Burkitt, Ester Stangor and Carrie Schneberger. And in the 6th grade—William Meier.

Forty Years Ago

January 8, 1915

Edward A. McElhose, Arlington Heights, was united in wedlock with Nellie Foster at the home of her parents in Dakota, Ill., December 30. Her father, the Rev. A. D. Foster, pronounced the vows.

Fred Bode was elected president of the Lie derkrantz Gesangverein at Mount Prospect Tuesday.

The farm home of the Frank Smith family, near Palatine, was leveled by fire December 31 despite the efforts of Palatine volunteer firemen. The fire wasn't discovered until he returned home with his wife who had been confined to a Chicago hospital.

Henry Wachsning, a former resident of Wheeling and Plum Grove, died of heart trouble New Year's day at the age of 66 years.

Fred Botterman, Schaumburg, while serving on a jury, says he prefers fresh air to that in a jury room.

Mrs. A. G. Chessman, Itasca, celebrated her 79th birthday on New Year's eve.

Thirty Years Ago

January 9, 1925

Two "Drunks" turned the Arlington Heights jail into an uproar Monday night when they escaped with the apparent assistance of an outsider who is said to have secured their freedom by means of $3 and a bottle of "moonshine." After their arrest earlier by Henry Horstman, Judge Beyer threatened them with corporal punishment and had to gesture with his cane to subdue the men's abusive language.

Charles Clausing, born 64 years ago in Schaumburg and a resident of Arlington Heights for many years since, died Monday from plural-pneumonia.

John H. Pahlman, a well-known young farmer, and Marie H. Hoeske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoeske, were joined in wedlock New Year's eve. Both are residents of Ela township.

Mrs. Jacob Schley, who had lived near Wheeling for many years and more recently was a resident of Long Grove, died December 23 after a lingering illness at the age of 73.

Dr. Howard G. Dunn will open an Arlington Heights office in association with Dr. H. F. Heller soon.

Three Arlington Heights girls, Elizabeth Banta, Donna Marie Volz and Irma Mueller, are students at Northwestern university.

Twenty Years Ago

January 11, 1935

The Center threatre at Bensenville was swept by fire early Monday morning and badly damaged. It is believed that the flames broke out backstage, but the exact origin of the blaze is unknown. Other buildings in the business block were undamaged.

H. H. Franzen, the president, and other officials of the Itasca State bank were all re-elected at the annual stockholders' meeting last Saturday.

Deaths this week: Anna Perina, 29, Mount Prospect, January 3 after a lengthy illness; Peter Bush, Long Grove, December 29 at the age of 70 years, and Fred Vogt, well known Palatine resident Monday in a Chicago hospital from leukemia.

William Busse, Cook county commissioner from Mount Prospect, has spearheaded the move urging the state to drop the cost of Illinois vehicle licenses.

After close to four years of negotiations, the village of Palatine has decided to sue the Cook county treasurer for tax money alleged to have been withheld since 1931. The total due the vilage has been estimated at $8,000.

Ten Years Ago

January 12, 1945

Many deaths this week: Mrs. Victoria Brumm, Wheeling, Monday at 38 years of age; Henry C. Meyer, 71, Wheeling township, Wednesday; Mrs. Henry F. Pohlman, Palatine, last week at 60 years; Peter Schmidt, 83, Wheeling township, January 4, and Mrs. Wilhelmine Thake, Elk Grove, January 8 at the age of 81.

Two Arlington Heights residents, Margaret Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Harris, and 2nd Lieut. William C. Beckman, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Beckman, became man and wife January 6 in the Arlington Heights Presbyterian church.

Mount Prospect and Elk Grove township won honors in the recent war loan drive by exceeding its quota by more than 204%. The area was seventh highest in the Chicagoland region. The 1,340 sales made were for $204,338.

Vernon R. Thornton, 60, owner of the Itasca Sweet shop, died in his home in the village Thursday evening after being in a state of failing health since October.

Mrs. Arthur Petersen will be the instructor when a series of home nursing classes begin in Bensenville January 15.

From the pages of a Chicago newspaper May 2, 1898: Vengeance for the Maine!

Commodore Dewey's squadron won a decisive victory over the Spanish fleet yesterday.

The battle was fought off Cavite, ten miles southwest of Manila. It lasted for several hours and resulted in a crushing defeat for Spain.

The American squadron arrived off the Phillippines on Saturday night, taking advantage of the darkness to gain a favorable position. The attack on the Spanish fleet began soon after daylight yesterday morning.

It was a terrific battle undoubtedly one of the fiercest and most brilliant in the history of naval warfare. The nine ships of the American fleet were outnumbered by those of Spain, but the Americans were superior in armament.

The Spanish sailors fought bravely, and refused to leave their burning ships when ordered to do so. Commander Cadarzo of the flagship went down with his vessel, and many of his crew perished with him.

Others of the Spanish fleet were badly damaged, and were sunk to prevent their falling into the hands of the Americans.

There was considerable loss of life on the Spanish side.

The feeling in London is that Commodore Dewey's job cannot be considered complete until he has captured Manila, and that he will be in an awkward position until he succeeds in taking the city.

Wheaton Solves Doctor Dilemma On Holidays

Wheaton residents no longer have to worry about finding a physician for emergency calls on weekends and holidays.

A new emergency telephone service to make a doctor available was put into operation recently with the cooperation of Wheaton's 12 physicians, the Illinois Bell Telephone co., and police and fire departments.

Two Wheaton doctors will be on call from 6 p.m. Saturday to 7 a.m. Monday each weekend, and from 7 a.m. on holidays to the same time the following morning. Phone numbers of the doctors will be kept by the phone company supervisor.

In an emergency, a resident may call the police or fire department, which will contact the physician.

City officials plan to arrange a fire siren code system to aid in contacting doctors. Similar services are operating in Warrenville and West Chicago.

Tells Of Fight For Truth In Communist Countries

A resident of Arlington Heights recently returned from a 10-day whirlwind tour of Germany and France to observe first-hand the work of Radio Free Europe in the cause of democracy.

He is W. M. Runyon, 714 E. Euclid ave., regional director of the American Heritage Foundation, sponsor of Crusade for Freedom which finances Radio Free Europe.

Runyon joined representatives of 50 national organizations, representing 55 million Americans. They toured R.F.E. installations in Germany.

The group spent three days in Munich at RFE headquarters, toured Berlin, and were briefed by Gen. Gruenther, chief of NATO in Paris.

They returned to America hopeful for the cause of freedom in Europe and confident that eventually democracy will return to nations now under Communist domination.

Runyon saw the Iron Curtain while in Germany.

Orginally named by Winston Churchill in his famous Fulton, Mo., speech, the "Iron Curtain" is actually a strip of land 15 ft. wide stretching from the Baltic sea to Turkey.

Runyon said it was a plowed piece of ground surrounded with electrified wire fences, land mines, watch towers, and sometimes mad dogs. It is harrowed every few days to check for footprints. The actual "curtain" is set back 5 ft. from the border, and the land behind it is void of inhabitants or cultivation for 15 miles.

"Radio Free Europe, supported entirely by voluntary contributions from American citizens, is keeping the Communists off-balance," reported Runyon. "It is helping subjugated peoples to survive and encouraging passive resistance to the Reds regime of the sort that Ghandi used so brilliantly in India."

R. F. E. is a network of six stations with 25 transmitters enabling the West to avoid "jamming" from the Soviets. One of the most effective methods is the device of turning all of the transmitters onto one target for a certain period of the day, making a sieve out of the Iron Curtain and generating a volume which makes jamming ineffective. About 65 per cent of the broadcasts get through.

R.F.E. is different from Voice of America because it is independently controlled, does not express only official U.S. policy, and is able to answer Red propaganda immediately. Announcers on the stations are escapees from dominated nations. They are men and women who were journalists, clergy, athletes, etc., in their homelands.

Nearly 2,000 persons leave wealth and families behind to flee into West Germany each week through Berlin alone.

"This is creating a serious problem in absorption for Germany," said Runyon. "If we stay awake and avoid panic, we can win the cold war in Europe. But, we must continually tell our side of the story, which we think is the truth."

Crusade for Freedom raises the $6 million annually required to carry on this program to bring truth to the oppressed in Eastern Europe.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"What have I got to live for?"

Last week we found that much of the misery and unhappiness we experience comes because we are dots inside of circles. But suppose you and I get outside of that circle, what then?

We are then like a person sitting on a high mountain top with all the countryside visible for miles around. We are detached, and everything we see is outside of ourself. We are in a position to look at our own faults, to see life as it is, accept it that way, and adjust ourselves to it.

WE WILL STOP blaming other people for our hardships and misfortunes, realizing that within us lies the power to change either circumstances under which we live, or our own lives to conform with those circumstances. Suddenly we know that we are free.

If our children have been unruly and a burden, we see now that much of it is our own fault. The duties of a child to a parent are as important as those of a parent to a child. The child must be taught to share responsibility in his home with his parents. It is up to his parents to convince him of that responsibility and see that he accepts it. We are not burdened by children, but we burden ourselves when we fail in our parental duties. We understand that now, because we are thinking positively and clearly and know that children are placed in our hands like clay in the hands of a potter, to mold and make into useful Christian citizens who will make us happy and their own lives even happier.

DOING EXTRA work for extra things in life is no longer a burden because we realize that we choose to work harder to have more things that make life extra good for us. We see our mistakes, and correct them. We recognize our limitations and our abilities and adjust our thoughts and actions to fit them. We suddenly find a new faith in God because He has given us the power to accept what we cannot change and push forward to accomplish what we have the ability and will to accomplish. We find that we have infinitely much more to live for than we ever before dreamed possible.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

I'm happy to report that the operation is over, it was a success and the parents are doing nicely. Megan had her tonsils and adenoids removed Tuesday and though actually she sailed through the operation and post operative period, Mama and Daddy were shattered. Our only experiences with tonsillectomies occurred when each of us had one at the age of about six years —too young to remember what it was like, I guess.

We had been thinking about having this operation for the past six months, but going along with the latest theory that it's better to leave nature alone when possible, and let the tonsils stay in unless they absolutely must be removed, we put it off. I finally was at my wit's end, as she seemed to contract one cold after another, and decided then and there to take her to Dr. Greene, our eye, ear, nose and throat specialist. Dr. Green had an opportunity to observe her tonsils during an infection and a few days later when the infection was cleared up. She quite agreed that it would be better for Megan if we had them removed.

OUR DATE FOR MEGAN was set and plans made for Bridget to stay at the farm on the day we were to be in the hospital. We spent our New Year weekend at Manapisu, having Christmas with Gramma and Grampa and on Sunday afternoon, while Bridget napped, Dad, Megan and I slipped away.

With sort of the same feeling that the state seems to have, in allowing the condemned man to have anything he wants for his final meal, I took Megan to lunch on Monday, as a treat for her. She enjoyed having lunch out and then going to look for suitable beds for herself and Bridget. (You know it's good for a child, especially one who once had all your attention, to have a day devoted to just her when Mother and she can get away together.)

AS YOU MIGHT EXPECT, before we ever got to the hospital, I had phone calls from friends, hoping all would go well and, of course, mentioning a word of warning concerning getting up and coming home too soon—followed by a few stories about people who didn't heed this warning.

It was like moving in a dream, as we stepped out into the cold, grey morning, on our way to the hospital. It was 7 a. m. when we arrived and were shown up to our room. I helped Megan slip into one of the tiniest little hospital gowns I've ever seen and she sat quietly on her bed. We weren't there long before things started popping—shots, pills and finally the ride on the cart to the operating room, where Dr. Greene was waiting.

THEN CAME THE LONG WAIT for Bob and me. We tried very hard to look at magazines or talk during that time, but for an hour we could do neither. When at last we could go back to the room, we walked in to find our little Megan looking pale, tiny and drugged. She was exhaling ether fumes in such clouds, it almost put us out. Of course, the poor dear felt sick all day and when at last that ice cream, which she was promised in unlimited quantities, came, she couldn't swallow any more than a couple of bites.

We were allowed to take her home that evening and she has been propped up on pillows on the couch, resting and being entertained, since she arrived. And so, we have passed another of those crises which families with children are bound to have—no wonder we mothers get our "character lines" early in life!

My love,

Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

We have a friend who has a slight grudge against music written before nineteen hundred. In fact, she prefers her's written no earlier than umpteen minutes ago. We have tried to do with modern music what we have tried to do with modern art.

We are quite frank to admit that we do not understand modern painting unless it is some messing around with the home woodwork. That we understand perfectly to the degree that we send the decorator to the basement often to add just a touch of black to the green that will finally end up in the living room. However, when a picture of a lonely beach, a hunk of tortured driftwood, and a fried egg appear in oils with one lone malevolent eye peeking through the debris and the whole thing is entitled "Love in the Tenements," we admit to puzzlement.

It is much the same with modern music. The new composers seem to be in revolt against melody. They also seem to be against the bass notes. Everything newly composed appears to us to be played entirely in the treble cleff and preferably in discord, not minor but sour.

This is our own opinion and does not, certainly, reflect the tastes of thousands of others who are soothed by strident sounds and who stand in front of the fried egg and the evil eye and mutter, "What feeling and what understanding." We fear that we are reactionary and conservative and we are still thrilled by Tchaikovsky and Cezanne.

However, we want it clearly understood that we intend to keep right on listening to the modern composers and looking at modern art with the vague hope that some glimmering of understanding will penetrate our stuffy mind. We guarantee nothing but we wish it known that we are in there pitching.

We got a big boot out of a poor fellow the other day who was so very sad about moving into a new house. It is unusual for a guy to be sad about such a move but somewhere along the line he has learned a sad truth. When a woman moves into a new house, she is indeed happy to be in the new house. She is so ecstatic that it causes her to decide to get new drapes, new slipcovers, at least three new tables, several new lamps, new bedspreads to match the new draperies plus several odd items that make the total cost of the house astronomical.

Being a woman, we thoroughly understand the feminine point of view in this matter. After all, it isn't the initial cost of the dress that counts, it's the accessories that make the outfit. Everybody knows that.

Remain United

From reports I had been lead to believe Rolling Meadows was some sort of slum development. Visiting the community as a gospel worker, I was pleased to find it a respectable community of ung married folk, many former veterans who were making a modest start in life.

It is distressing to learn that border opposition would now attempt to create divisions among them with the hope of having Rolling Meadows postpone its incorporation as a city. It is quite obvious to observers that there is a selfish motive behind this opposition. The opposition to the incorporation move were fortunate enough to secure the valuable jockey club and other commercial property which would go far to ease the tax burdens on the new city. Now, if they can delay incorporation of Rolling Meadows just long enough to seize the business properties for themselves, they will leave Rolling Meadows to its own resources.

Young people with enough vision and pioneer spirit to move their families into this rugged new environment should not fear to start their government. The outsiders are going to unite in opposing them. Rolling Meadows will have to close ranks and present a solid front against such opposition.

Imagine a city of young people! We neighbors should be proud of the young Americans who have the courage and the ideals to want to build a fine strong city for themselves and their children.

Save Parakeet

Many many thanks to Illinois Bell telephone men who rescued an escaped parakeet from a tree last week. It was a "Happy New Year" after all for us when hopes were fading for "Pal's" survival in our winter weather. Arlington Heights has scored again in community spirit and friendliness."

Clarification

This is to clarify the minutes read by the incorporation committee chairman at the general meeting in the Arlington Heights high school Sunday, Jan. 9, 1955. I feel it only fair for everyone to have the right to defend himself to the general public when individuals were mentioned by name at this meeting.

For the benefit of those who did not understand the minutes of the two meetings that were read, and there are quite a few, the speaker stated board member Fred Schultz voted in favor of only investigating the advantages of incorporation and at the following meeting proposed the motion for an immediate meeting of all people involved at the Arlington high school. This motion was passed by all directors present, last Sept. 1954.

Although this director's name was not among the 150 signatures on the petition to incorporate, filed in the Cook county judges' court, his decision on incorporation is very positive after listening to the very feeble objections against it.

If the mature people involved will use good honest judgment, they can see the one and only objection of our neighboring towns leaders is they underestimated the caliber of their new neighbors in Rolling Meadows. So let's unite together and look forward to establishing a city to represent the type of people we really are.

Fred Schultz

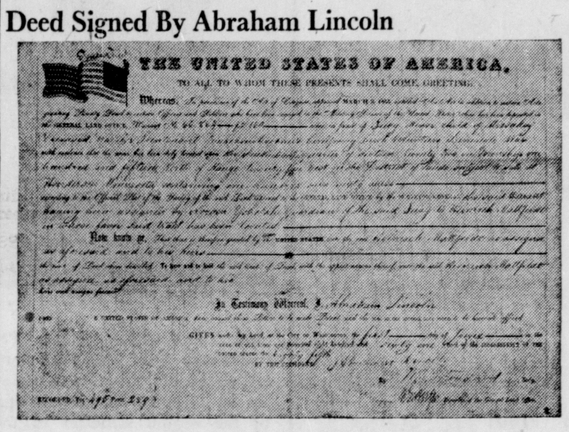
Deed Signed By Abraham Lincoln



This unusual document, a patent deed signed by the Civil War President, is a prize possession of William O. Mattfeld, a farmer who lives at Cologne, Minnesota, west of Minneapolis. It is believed to be the only one of its kind in existence. The Mattfelds live on the place which was bought by his grandfather from an Indian in 1861, three years after Minnesota was admitted to the Union. The Mattfelds came to this country from Germany with other emigrants, some of whom settled in Illinois. Others went on to Minnesota.

Christmas Toys Give New Joy When Brought Out of Storage

by JOSEPH A. FERRIS

Now that the holidays are over and children are back in school their parents can do the youngsters a favor by returning some of their toys to the same dark closets in which they were concealed before Christmas.

A mean trick?

Not at all. In fact such an act is desirable in many cases, say the experts.

Children are hampered psychologically by too wide a choice of materials, just as their rooms are cluttered up physically, and this can lead to trouble.

But if the parents were careful in the colors and design of toys they purchased as gifts, and also gave some thought to the months ahead—preferably the summer vacation weeks—the tension will be eased considerably.

"Too great a profusion of toys actually inhibits play," says one child expert. "Children do not have a chance to use their own ideas if every time they turn around they see a new toy that suggests a new activity.

"An oversupply of toys also works against concentration and encourages a desultory flitting from one activity to another. In the long run it produces boredom, not excitement."

Christmas is traditionally a time of lavish plenty for youngsters and the storing of those excess toys will remove a source of frustration for some children, and encourage them to save for the future.

"They love to look forward to something," one child expert said. "It sort of gives them two big events each year—Christmas itself, and the day when the toys are brought out of their hiding place again."

The boys and girls who can consider themselves really fortunate are those who received such gifts as inflatable plastic pools, water toys and things they can use in the summer months, the survey disclosed.

And the more careful the attention to colors and design given by parents, the more fun the boys and girls will have next summer when they begin using their Christmas gifts.

Consultants and experts of the plastics division of Doughboy Industries, Inc., New Richmond, Wis. world's leading manufacturer of inflatable plastic products, have a theory all their own on the subject.

And they have facts and figures to support it, too.

"Color is the most important single factor in determining the degrees of a child's emotional existence."

"In their first few years children have an indiscriminate love of color and derive great pleasure from handling bright-hued objects and toys.

The Doughboy Industries specialists have made many studies of different colors and this research shows that there is a tendency to favor primary colors.

"Most appealing are red, yellow and blue, bright colors that reach out to the child," the experts report. "Psychologists have shown that children who prefer red, yellow and pink generally possess a carefree attitude. Those who lean toward blue and black indicate insecurity or unhappiness or are more introverted. A preference for green is a sign of a well balanced individual."

While children prefer warm colors, they say, "it is not wise to use them exclusively. They should always be blended with a solid color."

As to the design of the toys, there is nothing more important.

That's the reason for the popularity of the colorful character toys created by Doughboy—toys like "Swishy" the alligator, "Go Go," the aqua horse, "Bulgy," the whale, "Splasher," the frog, "Bobo," the clown, and "The Champ," a boxing toy which comes equipped with real boxing gloves.

Today many of those pools and toys are stored away for next summer—stored with their Christmas gift wrappings still on them. And the kids who recieved them are looking forward to using those gifts for the first time.

It's just another way of getting the best out of Christmas toys.

Playthings in the closet are just as good as another Christmas. The children like that idea, and the parents who have to find closet space will like it, too, but those parents who bought the inflatables are better off than the others. That rocking horse made of inflatable krene plastic can be deflated and tucked away in a handkerchief drawer. So can all other such type toys. And that is the reason for so many big, wide smiles.

Can You Tell Me?

How to Make a Modern Limed Oak Finish?

Please send me the necessary information needed to make a modern limed oak finish. What is needed to be done to prevent the finish from darkening from age?

Lime is seldom used in producing limed oak. It is produced by a mixture of whiting, zinc-white and wax. The first procedure is to thoroughly sandpaper the wood, then dust it off. The paste is then rubbed in just like ordinary filler and is wiped off clean. Sometimes painters merely give the wood a coat of ordinary flat white paint, which has been thinned with turpentine, and when this has set slightly, the surplus is rubbed off across the grain. If you follow the above procedure instead of using lime, you will produce a better looking job and you won't have any trouble with darkening.

Governor Announces 1955 State Highway Construction Program

Gov. William G. Stratton recently made public full details of his banner 1955 state primary highway construction program, which calls for building 436 miles of highways, including 215 miles of new pavements and resurfacing 194 miles of existing roads. New pavements will consist of 108 miles of two-lane, 60 miles of additional 2 lanes and 47 miles of new four-lane roads.

Calling for expenditure of $123,528,100, the road and bridge building schedule shatters all previous state records by many millions of dollars. Last year, the 1954 program was set at 84½ millions.

Installation of traffic signals is the only work slated to be done in the area covered by Paddock Publications. These include signals for Rt. 83 and Rt. 58 (Golf rd.); River rd. (Rt. 45) and Milwaukee ave. (Rt. 21); and Rt. 83 (Busse rd.) and Oakton st. (also Rt. 83).

The overall outlay for 1955 includes $32,370,000 in Federal aid but does not include an additional $3,000,000 of state matching funds for federal aid secondary work on major county roads, nor does it include the $74,000,000 which cities, counties and townships will receive through next year from state motor fuel tax refunds for road building under state supervision.

This program is exclusive of the three hundred and ninety million dollar Illinois toll road network scheduled for a construction start next summer.

Bits O' Business

There are now 89 million telephones throughout the world, up 5 million over 1953. The U.S. has more than half ... December steel output is expected to equal or exceed November production of 8,074,000 net tons, best month in a year ... Corporate outlays for new plant and equipment in the first quarter of 1955 are estimated by the government at $6.1 billion, lowest for any similar period since 1951.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

To high-fidelity enthusiasts, the name of McIntosh stands for outstanding quality audio components, used in assembling home record-playing hi-fi installations. The news, therefore, that McIntosh is now venturing into the field of lps is therefore welcome and an assurance, too, of eminent quality of reproduction.

Three new 12-inch discs have just been issued, and a hearing of them proves exactly that assurance. One of them features the brilliant pianistic artistry of 25-year-old James MacInnes, who, though his public orchestral appearances have tended to spotlight his affinity for modern music, plays works by Chopin and Mozart with a poetry and thoughtfulness worthy of a pianist twice his age. The selections include the rarely performed three posthumous Etudes and the dynamic Polonaise-Fantaisie in A Flat by Chopin, and Mozart's delectable "Trumpet" Sonata and the sprightly G Major Gigue (K.574). Noteworthy throughout is the rich, warm, life-like piano tone which McIntosh's engineers have processed into this disc's wax and grooves.

The second McIntosh offering pairs pianist George Silfies and violinist Gordon Staples in a rewarding recital of very beautiful music, chief of which is the impressionistic and imaginative Debussy Sonata, the Szymanowski "Fontaine d'Arethuse" and Prokofieff's jaunty "March" from the "Love for Three Oranges." Here again, clarity and balance of the two solo instruments have been marvellously captured, a condenser type of microphone having been used without monitoring or volume change.

What ten musical works would you take to a desert island? Send your list, with your name and address included, to Paul H. Little, Paddock Publications. You may win a fine hi-fi disc for your own collection, but mail your entry now!

Marshall Field & Co. To Start Work On New Skokie Store In Summer

Marshall Field and co. will break ground for a store in Skokie next summer. It will be located on the site of Old Orchard shopping center at Golf rd. and Cicero ave.

Fields' already have branch stores in Oak Park and Evanston.

The new branch will be two stories and contain more than 300,000 sq. ft. of sales space.

The Old Orchard development is under the supervision of the American Community Builders.

Golden Spike

A golden spike, driven at Ogden, Utah, in 1867, marked the completion of the first transcontinental railroad.

Subject:
Inventory

We like this period of stock-taking ... it's not that we like to check and recheck on merchandise . . . we bought too much of that . . .not enough of this ... should have done so and so and so ... but to stop and take a long look with an inventory list, is well worth while—at least one time during the year ... Most people agree, except that timing is bad —"too soon after the Holidays" .. but delay—and what do you run into? Heaven help us, the Income Tax Man!

By the inquiries and the sales we've made in the Studio, it seems that we should carry more decorative Art supplies. This is a homeloving community, nothing gets a bigger percentage of our incomes. We want them to be not only efficient and comfortable, but we also want good looks and individuality. There are hundreds of projects for Make-it-yourselfers. No one shop or store can hope to cover the field (have to have a warehouse as big as a stadium!) but we feel we can specialize best in the smallish decorative and useful items that go into the making of a home, those that will grace a room and profitably fill in the leisure time of the maker.

Both men and women in "Suburbia" have extra hours and they do not lack the desire for taking up this or that kind of art or craft ...many have and do ... But during the day women have some responsibilities and at night, when the family is safely and snugly ensconced, it takes lots of ambition to get the car out, hire a baby-sitter, etcetera.

So that brings us to a change of thinking about a certain art subject, namely "Numbered Pictures!" We still say that some of the first selections were crude and mediocre, both as to design and subject matter. In other words, just plain awful and a waste of time because no one would want to hang them after they were completed but with a brand new catalogue in front of us, from the biggest art supply house in New York, we are ready to capitulate. Manufacturers aren't overlooking this Make-it-yourself movement and competition being what it is, some of the new offerings look mighty, mighty interesting! Imagine making your own copy of a Van Gogh, a Lautrec, a Renoir or a Monet! And moreover, doing a creditable job!

You are going to do a creditable job because if you follow directions you can't do otherwise! For instance, you put color 10 in space 10 and a little later, put color 6 in space 6 and so on, right down the line. If you are careful, neat and patient that's all there is to it! You're supplied with exactly the right shades as well as the right kind of canvas, oils and brushes and there is even available an "Art Lesson" record that explains why you are doing thus and so at the very moment you are doing it. If you make a mistake, you are told how to correct it. It's like having an Art teacher (and a good one) at your beck and call!

With this kind of a set-up, what can you lose? Some sort of an art "education" is going to rub off, willy nilly and anyway, we always did say that "some art is better than no art" and we're not joking! So that's why we're going to carry more items of this nature ... complete kits that will enable one to paint not only pictures (frames will be available, too) but to decorate wall plates, tile sets, trays, small metal bricabrac, figurines—actually just hundreds of new ideas that will appeal to young and old. The kit idea saves money in the buying of supplies, always the right thing in the right amount.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

From time to time, persons in the various churches wonder why they are asked to send missionaries to other countries. They usually phrase their question in this manner, "Why try to change other people, they're pretty happy with their religion? If it weren't satisfactory, wouldn't they change it themselves?"

In a brief and objective manner, Charles S. Braden has attempted to tell the story of the various faiths in "The World's Religions." He does not attempt to prove that Christianity is the best religion, nor does he try to compare any of the faiths.

If it is comparison in which the reader is interested, he must make his own comparisons. This, for the thinking Christian may well be the most effective way in which the point might be made.

There are several questions which the student must learn to ask, for which answers must be sought, answers which must be tested against the realities of life in the world.

For example: In the consideration of any religion, one must ask, What is the nature of God? Does the deity play the role of creator—if so, is it in a purposeful sense, a capricious sense, a vengeful sense? Is the deity regarded as indifferent to the creation and the creatures; does the deity act in a providential or redemptive manner? Is the conception of the deity tied to a flat world in which the incantations and ritual acts of the people are more important in establishing the divine relation to events than the findings of natural and social science?

Every religion is based on a premise that the world and its people are not happy without religious aid. All religions have an ethical implication looking toward betterment of the individual or society or both together. How, then, does a given faith treat the problem of evil? Is evil an aspect of life to be escaped, or to be transformed? Is salvation to be obtained through acquiring a special kind of knowledge, or is salvation received upon the divine initiative? How is this related to what we know of the psychological processes by which persons adjust or fail to adjust to the world and society?

If we should read a book like Braden's, with questions like these in mind, we should shortly understand the necessity for Christian missions — and the need for humility in our mission. We should then realize why a freed India stresses a renascent Hinduism as an aspect of nationalist feeling rather than as an affirmation of faith. For Indian nationalism denies and subverts Hinduism which has been the one factor most responsible for the backwardness of the Indian people.

Such a study could help us also to understand the strange overturn which has taken place particularly in Japanese Buddhism which has become as social-service minded and activity conscious as American Protestantism — and this contradicts almost every tenet of orthodox Buddhism. It is a development almost entirely dependent upon the impact of Christian missions on Japar

In the final analysis, religion is basically related to discontent — no people are ever happy with themselves as they are, and they are not ever entirely satisfied with their religion as it is. We could all profit from further study of ourselves and our brother peoples of the world.

• — Braden, Charles S., "The World's Religions," Abingdon Press, revised, 1954. 256 pp. $3.

Borers, Not Trees Are Gulped Down By Woodpeckers

In the winter, when home owners suspend their war against outdoors insect pests, winged archenemies of wood-borers are busy routing out the insects.

These are the woodpeckers, notably the hairy woodpecker and its smaller cousin ,the downy woodpecker, who dote on a borer diet. Even in November and December these delicacies make up about half the woodpecker diet, according to Government surveys.

The woodpeckers do a job that has thwarted scientists. While great insecticides have been devised, man has yet to figure out a way to mass exterminate the wood boring pests once they are ensconced under the bark.

Davey tree experts receive many inquiries about woodpeckers at this time. Home owners are concerned about supposed damage to trees. In reality, the busy feathered friends are just digging beaks into trunk and branches to get at their favorite tid-bits, says R. J. McWilliams, Davey field representative. And the tree man advises inducements to have the birds nest right on the home grounds.

Best extra inducement to keep woodpeckers around during the winter months is to see that they are well supplied with suet.

Suburbs Fight Final Battle Against Shore Line Abandonment

Eight north shore communities have united in fighting the efforts of the Chicago, North Shore, and Milwaukee railroad to abandon Shore Line service.

Evanston, Wilmette, Kenilworth, Winnetka, Glencoe, Highland Park, Highwood, and Lake Forest are waging a last-ditch battle against dropping the route which has served the suburbs for 52 years.

The railway seeks to replace its electric trains with busses from a subsidiary bus company.

New Barrington Bldg.

T. Williams and son, Chicago awning manufacturers, have begun erection of a commercial building at 211 N. Northwest hwy., Barrington. The building is to be 70 feet long and 60 feet deep and will be one story high and built of face brick with light weight cement block back-up.

An Evanston housewife last week hung her $8,500 fur coat on a peg at a restaurant in Skokie.

When Mrs. Paul Morin went to leave, her coat was gone. She reported the theft to police, who are still seeking the thief.

Elmhurst Considers Sump Pumps For All New Homes In City

Elmhurst is considering an ordinance to require all new homes to install sump pumps.

The measure would add a section to the plumbing code, setting up regulations for basement floors and footing drains, installation of sump pumps and motors for the pumps, pipes, drain pipes, and mountings.

Elmhurst city council is considering the move in response to a demand for draining of homes with or without basements.

Bank Is Sold

Citizens State Bank of Park Ridge was sold last week to a group headed by Frederick Messenger, vice president of the Merchant's National Bank of Chicago. He is resigning his present position to assume direction of the Park Ridge bank.

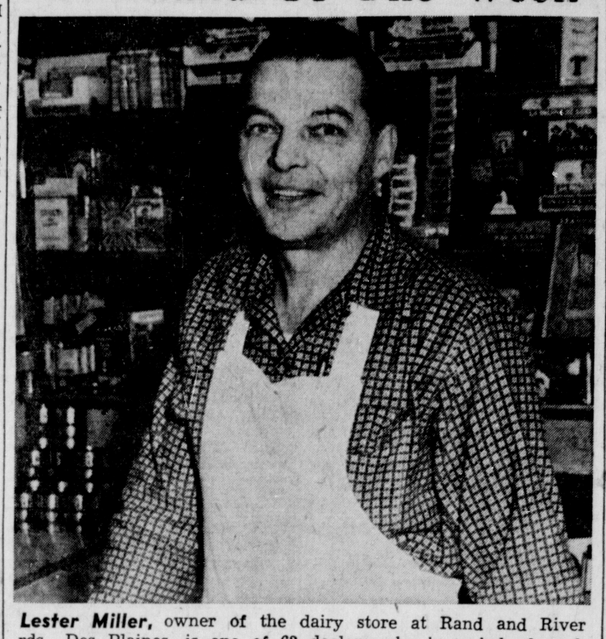
Newsstand Of The Week



Lester Miller, owner of the dairy store at Rand and River rds., Des Plaines, is one of 62 dealers who have helped push Paddock Publications' circulation to an all-time record high of 18,630.

"It's not exactly accurate to call my store a dairy store," laughed Lester. "I sell a little bit of everything, from toys to light sockets."

The bulk of his business, however, is a complete line of groceries, cold meats, and dairy products which his conveniently located store offers.

For two years, he has been selling the Cook County Herald as one of seven newspapers offered at a complete magazine and news counter.

His ambition?

"To open a genuine general store!"

Miller and his wife reside in Des Plaines and have three children.

IT AIN'T SO!

You have seen our ads in this newspaper for some time. But, because we advertise railroad salvage, you might think we sell old railroad cars (one man did) or that we get merchandise from train wrecks. IT AIN'T SO! The railroads ship about 3 billion tons of freight each year. Their annual losses are 100 million dollars. These losses come from poor packing, loading (in or out) of box cars, coupling cars at too high speeds, rain leaking through a car or an open door.

CONDITION OF MERCHANDISE

The railroads pay the claim on a shipment when all or part is damaged. We get the whole shipment, damaged and undamaged. Everything we have is useable as is or can be repaired without too much work. Some things can be repaired so that no one would know it had been damaged; such as furniture dents and scratches or bent metal articles. "We always show you the damage." Roughly 90% of our stock is railroad salvage but occasionally we get articles from someone's overstock, an auction or bankruptcy.

WHAT DO WE HAVE?

Anything that goes into furnishing or building a home from the TV antenna to the basement paint, from the front yard fence to the garbage can out back. We don't get everything when we want it nor do we usually have large quantities.

HOW WE RUN THE STORE

When you come in, we say "HELLO" and from then on you are on your own. If you find what you want, bring it to the counter. Naturally we answer your questions or give you any other help we can. Many people come in every week just to browse around.

Border Marriage; No Honeymoon

A wedding without a honeymoon took place recently when two German immigrants spoke their marriage vows at the international boundary between the United States and Canada on the Ambassador bridge, connecting Detroit with Windsor, Onario.

After the ceremony, Herbert B. Riedel, 38, went back to Windsor, where he is a hospital orderly. The former Mrs. Valeria M. Unger, 40, returned to Chicago, where she works for a meat packing company.

Riedel has been unable to come to the United States because quotas have been filled. Mrs. Riedel, who has a son by a previous marriage, went to Chicago in March, 1953. Now the two are hoping the marriage will shorten his seperation from his bride, and allow them to be together for a honeymoon.

Punch Card Tax Form Simplifies Method Of Filing

A new punch-card federal tax form, for reporting 1954 income was described by director of internal revenue Ernest J. Sauber as the simplest return developed by the revenue service during the forty-year history of the federal income tax.

"This is one federal tax return that can be filled in with the very minimum of trouble," Director Sauber said. "Devised for the employee whose total wages reported on his withholding statement amounts to less than $5,000, and who does not have more than $100 of other income, the return requires no mathematical computations," he explained.

The new punch card return, officially designated Form 1040A, is now available at all internal revenue offices, and can also be obtained at most banks, building associations and post offices. Besides the punch card, taxpayers who elect to use the simplified form are furnished an instruction sheet which carries facsimiles of both sides of the card. After the data has been assembled on the instruction sheet, the taxpayer copies it on the punch card, retaining the rough draft for his own records.

Urge Motorists To Get Auto Licenses

Secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier urged motorists to get their 1955 license plates immediately, either by over-the-counter purchase in Chicago or by mail application.

Secretary Carpentier especially asked residents of the Chicago and Springfield areas to take advantage of the over-the-counter service for three reasons: It eliminates delay through the mail, it provides the motorist with a receipt to substitute for his registration card until the card can be sent to him, and it enables checkers to detect possible errors in the application and get them correct while the applicant is present.

In Chicago, the office is located at 334 South Ashland boulevard.

A quick 5-minute fudge frosting for the top of an eight or nine inch square cake can be made this way: In a saucepan melt 1 tablespoon margarine in 2 tablespoons milk. Stir in ¾ cup sifted powdered sugar, ¼ cup cocoa, and ¼ teaspoon salt; cook about 1 minute. Remove from heat; add ¼ cup coarsely chopped nutmeats. Beat until thickened.

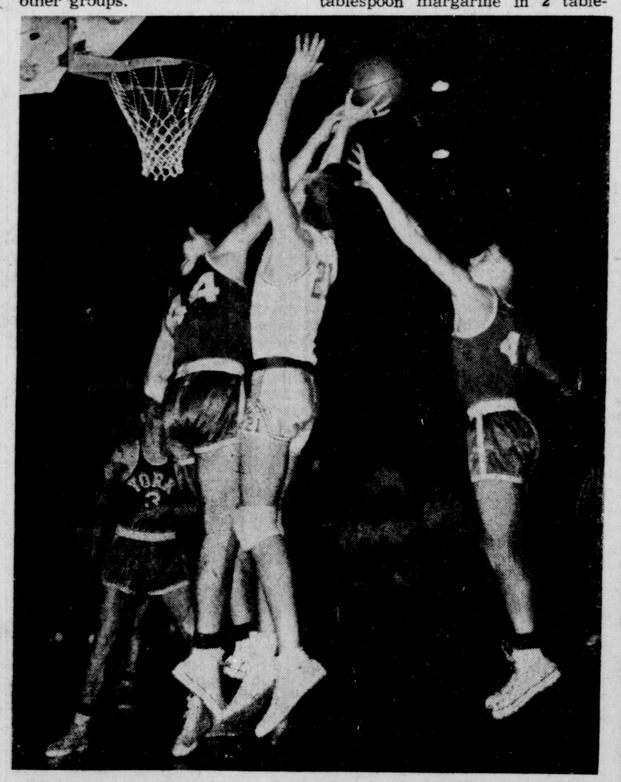
When carpets and rugs are cleaned often and thoroughly, dust and dirt are removed before any serious harm can be done by them.

A Pennsylvania homemaker recommends this method for removing lipstick stains from cotton fabrics: Work glycerine into the fabric and then wash in the usual way.



Bill Palmer (21) had control of this one for the Arlington frosh-sophs as they tripped York Saturday night, 59-54. The local yearlings had a double happy weekend as they disposed of Riverside Friday and the Elmhurst frosh-sophs Saturday. Seen for York are Watson (3), Hampson (44) and Brown (4).—Staff Photo.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Osten, Baldwin rd., Palatine, sailed from New Orleans Christmas day aboard the SS Alcoa Corsair for a Christmas cruise in the Caribbean. During the 16-day voyage, they will visit Jamaica, Curacao, Trindad and Venezuela. The Ostens, who are traveling with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Howard of Evanston, spent two days sightseeing in New Orleans before sailing. —New Orleans Photo

Mensching's Grocery looked like the leader on the 3:15 shift in the Paddock bowling tournament at Palatine Sunday, but faltered at the end for a 2846 gross, just eight pins out of the money. The camera was set, however, as were the smiles. Front row, left to right, Wilbert Zars and Harold Benhart. Back row, Alvin Lueth, Wilbert Schloman and Elmer Mensching. —Staff Photo

Over 200 youngsters attended the annual epiphany party given January 7 by St. John Episcopal church, Mount Prospect, for its combined Sunday school. The party was held in Mount Prospect VFW hall and featured magician Frances Ireland, known as the "magic lady" of WGN. Movies, ice cream and cake were also enjoyed.

Special awards were given to 43 children for regular attendance throughout the summer and crosses that glow in the dark were given each child present. St. John Sunday school is under the direction of Allen H. Jones, Arlington Heights. James M. Dill, also of Arlington Heights, is assistant superintendent.

Mrs. E. B. Smeed was chairman of refreshments for the party and entertainment was under the supervision of E. B. Smeed, Tom Nakos and Charles Hughson.
